ROOKERY - 1985

TOR TOUR RELEASE OF THE PARTY O Ordenting the state of the stat Racally and Stark. CHILDS BARD OTERALITY AND STATE OF STAT HITTOTA PARE LIN The state of the s evening complete. Lonce Bailey doing some fretting.

2. The beach at sunset is a great place to kick back. Godfrey Musones and Enrique Castaneda check out the scenery next to Enrique's mouth watering trout he caught on his field and stream trip last summer.

4. On a warm summer day in the shade, Jennifer Lenker and Steve Searson enjoy a few laughs.

Summer: Too Long?.. Or Not Long Enough?

ast summer wasn't too fun, it wasn't too boring, it wasn't too exciting, it was like a very long Sunday!" At least that is what Virginia Silva thought. For most North County students, summer was a blend of boredom, parties, and jobs. But what is boredom to a North County student anyway? "Were in the boondocks, man. The only pool is the slough, and Prunedale!, the name says it all!" "I like North County because it's fun. All my friends are here and it's great to talk to them on the phone," replied Nicole Carter. She also said, "North County is a great area because it's close to all the places I like to go; the beach, Santa Cruz, North Main

"All I did was party. The weekend was invented so people could party." The only question is, what is a party? For some, it is going over to a friends house, hanging out, then going home and passing out. Others would sit around, watch MTV, and get lost in the ozone. But what's a party without munchies? Favorites for most are Doritos, pizza, coke, and brownies, (but don't let Brad Duenkel bring the Coke and Brownies!) "A party without munchies is like a car without a steering wheel," quipped Brad Beadell. We conclude the definition of a party is lots of friends, good food, and good fun.

There's good jobs, bad jobs, and some in between. What's the best job to have during the summer? "No job is the best job . . . summer is for kickin' back," said Tony Lopez when asked in Mr. Wright's class. For some, even the kickin' back was too much effort. "All I did was sleep in ummer jobs are tough on students, but some landed jobs that made those three short months a profitable pleasure. Sabrina Burl got to make money at the same time as she watched the '84 L.A. Olympics. Dan Kan Kaminskis worked as a lifeguard. Not only does it pay well, the view is nice and it's easy work (as long as everyone knows how to swim.) One last comment came from an anonymous Condor: "I did make a couple of hundred dollars, here and there, but it was okay. I didn't have to work very hard for it." That's the kind of summer we'd all like to have; a little work, some money, and a lot of fun.

•and gain weight," was offered by Jason Joachim as a comment on his summer. Some put out effort to work. "I looked for a job, but never found one," replied Tanda Szabo. Even those who found work did not enjoy it much. "Summer was a bummer, I worked right through it," nagged Dana Ray.

2. Pausing at Marriots, Hilton Metzner finds a very bored soul and attempts to loosen his knots.

3. Smiling for the camera are sophomores, Kris Simas, Dana Ferreira, Linda Chadek, and Linda Hoey, who make the most of a sunny day.

4. All around athlete, Angie Kryziak, shows off her unique talents at the game booths.

5. At long last, Michelle Martinez finds a perfect man.

T-T-That's Not All Folks!

ack to school a drag? September a bummer? Do your new clothes make you look like a preppie? ASB has the problem solved! A Memorial Day, sun-fun-run around till you drop day at Great America. NC students arrived at Marriot's to see Yosemite Sam and Tasmanian Devil, notorious cartoon bad guys, lingering about the front gates. They quickly disappeared into the crowd of hungry Condors who descended on the park like funhungry vultures. After repeated queries from Yearbook reporters about the opening at Great America, Kelly Burns could only utter" . . . swell!"

Past the gates and into the park, the aroma of sizzling hamburgers, french fries, corndogs, pizza, and tacos, made Condors salivate! Yummy smells tempted many students with empty stomachs to try the morsels. After one more sample than she should have had, Nancy McGuire commented, "Great America has the best homemade ice cream around." Fast food at an amusement park may please a palatte but doesn't sit well on a stomach. "This pizza is really gross! My stomach won't settle for a week," groaned one student with no appetite for the stomach-churning rides in which she came for.

Most NC students set out, putting a test to their physical and mental beings by challenging the ferrocious rides, such as "The Demon," "The Tidal Wave;" and for a real thrill, "There's nothing like going over The Edge." "Speaking of going over the Edge," Vicki Rochester exclaimed, "I literally was, when I saw all the fine guys that were all taken." That seemed to be the case with many single high schoolers. However, some students such as Angie Pochop enthused, "It's a killer place to meet fine dudes." Stephanie Cambria, Dedicated girlfriend to Dennis Ott, said, "It was fun looking at the guys (sorry Dennis!)" As for the people of the male persuasion, they had a lot to say. From Brad Deunkel we heard, "The girls wore too many clothes for the heat that was, and the heat there could have been." From the freshmen mouth of Jaime Goularte: "Marriot's was very interesting because I won a lot of stuffed animals and gave them to some girls." Isn't that sweet? There sure is a difference in thinking between Seniors and Freshmen.

who went on this exhuasting school trip were really glad they had the chance. Marriots Great America had a lot to offer, but one of the most astounding sights was not at the park itself. It was seeing fifteen bright yellow buses barreling down the highway from San Jose, heading toward the empty campus after a long day at play.

- 2. With a smile on her face, and a balloon in hand, Kris Turner heads for the gym and the rally.
- Amidst balloons and cheering, Luz Marquez, Bertha Rubio, and Marina Vargas watch the first day rally.
- 5. These Freshmen don't look like they're cringing: Juan Torres, Alberto Mercado, Ronald Cabreros, Raymond McKelvey, Abelardo Arellano, and Lee Martin.

"A New Beginning"

ringing Freshmen, energetic Sophomores, jacked Juniors, and fearsome Seniors livened up the opening of North County once again. The hallways, empty and quiet all summer long, were invaded by one thousand, four hundred, and ninety-eight hyperactive students, an opening day record number of bodies.

Once inside the claustrophobic gym for the Welcome Back Spirit Rally with the intimidated Freshmen and the fearsome upper-classmen, the sections which marked off each class began to fill as anxious '84-'85 students packed the stands. The cheerleaders generated waves of excitement with ear-splitting, foot-stomping screamin' and yellin'.

After warming up to some spirited hootin' and hollerin' (and, who couldn't be warm in that stifling gym?), the combined student body launched into the first class competition of the year. For openers, the Seniors won the beach ball pass. Though they didn't really win as much as gained a forfeit. The Junior ball almost made it, the Sophomore ball made it to Peter Moore's clutch five times in a row, and the Freshmen ball was never recovered. Next on the agenda was an inspirational speech from Dan Kaminskis. Trying to prepare hopeful Freshmen for a totally new experience called "High School," he layed it on like a southern politician.

The classy competition continued with the chanting and stomping of "Go, go Condors." The Sophomores stormed their way to victory with the decibel denting help of the JV football players.

nward to homeroom and the first day of a new year was underway. "First day was the best day of the year," Dana Ray commented. Not all of the comments were as positive as Dana's, though. You couldn't believe how many times the yearbook surveys said, "The first day of school sucked." Those people who don't think it's so great should check out the following pages, where we talk about NMC in '78, when we opened. You can't blame a lot of people for being sorry the summer was over, but the extra-curricular activities seem to help lighten up a long day.

"The first day of school was great, but I'm still not sure where all my classes are," spoke ninth grader Jason Joachim; echoing the complaints of many students who were lost on the remodeled campus. The minor confusion was a welcome relief compared to the crowded classrooms and congestion caused by last year's construction.

eryone remembers the first day of their freshmen year. The first day of this year will be rememberd by all of us as the beginnings of our best year ever.

The Beginning Of Our Best Year Ever

We've Come A Long Way, Baby!

A Self-Test:

Does it seem unfair that even the Seniors have closed campus?

2. Does it irk you to think that the money that was supposed to be used to buy lockers was spent on a new computer system for taking attendance-which, by the way, takes up so much time that the extra minutes added to each class is wasted?

3. Do you feel cheated at lunchtime when no music is played in the forum because of one of last year's mistakes? Are you bothered when you wait in an overcrowded lunchline for fifteen minutes for a box of overpriced french fries, and the grubby little freshman who took cuts in front of you buys the last box?

If you answered yes to any of the above questions, read on, and then take the test over.

When our school first opened on October 23, 1978, it was mass confusion for the 836 students who attended. Instead of complaining about walking into a boring and unlively Forum, be grateful that you weren't one of the first ones to wander in and find it under two feet of water! This was because in the beginning, the Forum had no doors, so when it rained, you guessed it: instant swimming pool. Back then, it was all about lugging around scuba diving gear, as well as your books. And, don't forget the flyswatters or you would be attacked by the swarms of flies that infested what is now considered our most popular hangout. And if you think the food is a major problem, you should've been here back in '78 when you could have wrung out the french fries like you would your laundry. The health department even threatened to close down the cafeteria.

Because of construction delays, the first Condors didn't even start start school until late October. During the year, the only holidays or vacations allowed were Thanksgiving and Christmas, and school continued through June and July.

f you loathe our parking lot now, you should've been here six years ago. How would have you liked to park the car you worked for all summer in a pile of mush? I mean, what do you expect, your own parking space, or what? Get it in gear and remember-school is only as depressing as you make it. Congratulations North County-you've come a long way!

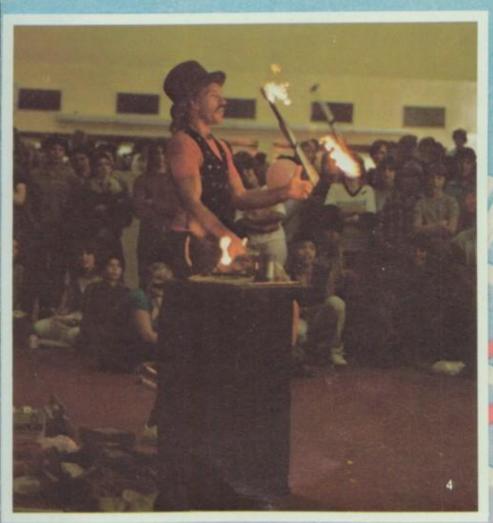

5. The pavement in the parking lot is a welcome addition to the campus, but overcrowding is still a problem. In this picture, the parking lot is full at sunrise.

6. A candy bar's eye view of Thelma Castillo at the student store: even the cramped space in the student store doesn't stop the students at brunch and lunch.

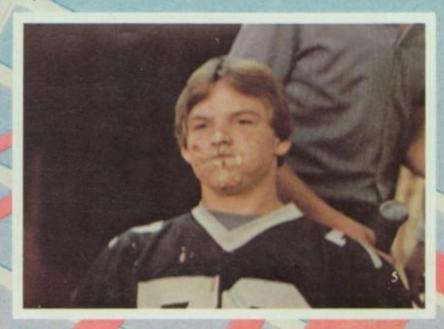

7. Some students, like Denise Hill, here in this picture, have to be on a school bus at 6:20 in the morning.

- 1. A warm round of applause greeted candidate Romeo Mendoza and his escort, Gena Kurzsfeld at the Homecoming Assembly.
- 2. Food booths highlighted Homecoming week. 3. Jill Soper stood proudly by Mr. Gunder-
- son's arm as one of the homecoming candidates.
- 4. Torches in the air is just one of Dan Melendez's bag of tricks.
- 5. Stuffed with splits and ready to burst: Dan Swain takes a break during Homecoming week competition.

Coming Home In Style

pring has sprung, fall has fell, Homecoming's come, and it's fun as . . . well. Booths of food, enraging decibels of top 40 tunes and uncountable amounts of students over the campus during Homecoming.

To start off Homecoming with a bang, students came from their classes to see tempting goodies being sold by different groups of NC clubs. The French Club had their everpopular croissants stuffed with ham and cheese.

To wash everything down, the FBLA sold orange and banana daquiri's. To top off this sophisticated meal, there was cotton candy avilable, also sold by FBLA. As tradition would have it, lumpia was sold to the students and alumni.

To entertain everyone, "Off The Wall" played popular hits, and students took advantage of the music and danced to their hearts content. The Wrestling Coach, Mr. Lines showed his fellow teachers how he could strut his dance moves with no embarrassment whatsoever.

As the week progressed, everyone's spirits rose. Most of the spirit lifting was during the assembly. It let everyone cheer for their favorite candidate and skit.

After the freshman candidates were revealed, they went on with the first of four skits. They showed us how NC students "strut their stuff" and get hot and thirsty in the process. Then, from out of nowhere came KoolAid to quench their thirst.

The sophomores took their turn after their candidates were announced. They showed their prediction of Saturday's game and how the Condors would send the Cardinals, "Up, Up, and away."

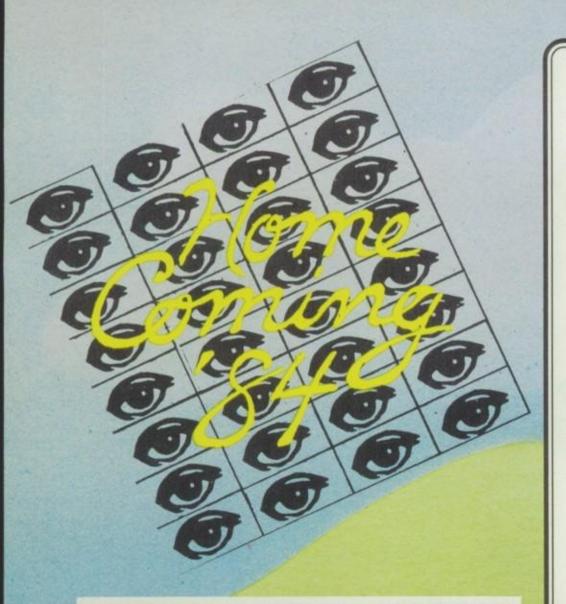

Once we found out who the junior candidates would be, they tried to amuse us with their version of "If I was a Condor." It was working until a chain reaction of laughter broke them all up, and brought the skit to a giggling halt.

Finally, the candidates for king and queen were told, and the seniors went on to show how Cardinals prepare to play the Condors. They went to the man upstairs for help. Not even he could help them in this desperate time of need. So reluctantly, they went to see the man downstairs. In the end, not even the little devil himself could help Santa Cruz beat North County.

he festivities continued with juggler Dan Meldendez. He made juggling machetes and rods of fire look easy. If that wasn't enough, he juggled balls while riding a unicycle. Now, that's incredible.

After his spectacular feat, everyone moved outside for the announcement of this years homecoming court. (continued)

1. The Pride of Condor County: John Seltzer, Frankie Borerro and Phil Coborruvias, mainstays of this year's Co-championship team.

Last minute work on the prize winning Senior float. or the freshman, they had Mary Lou Hernandez and Kevin Gander to represent them. Rochelle Doman and Troy Morgan were the sophomore prince and princess. The choice of a new generation were juniors; Julio Quintero and Jodi Richards.

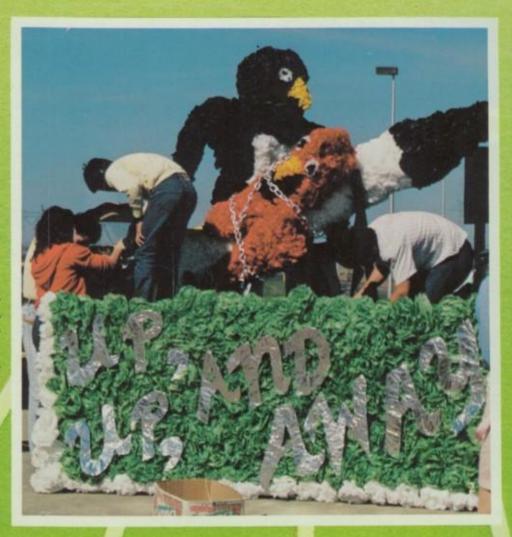

As Homecoming week came to an end, everyone was jacked for Saturday's game.

After numerous fumbles, dropped passes and miscues, the highly favored North County squad went to the locker room nursing a feeble six point lead over previously winless Santa Cruz.

The halftime festivities brought floats, convertibles, and smiling faces. The floats came onto the field, followed by the homecoming court and queen candidates. The first candidate was Julie Klos, followed by Barbara Bacon. Next was Malinda Bollinger, and behind her was Kapio Donovan. Last, but not least, was Susan Benny.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Jim Byker began the stirring 1812 Overture, and Ft. Ord was great in offering us the booming crescendo. Six howitzers blasted blanks at Oak Hills as the photographers jumped out of their pants with each report.

For candidates for king, there was a domination of football players. In fact, they were all football players. They were Bill McCreary, Paul Sanburn, Romeo Mendoza, and Hilton Metzner.

Bring On The Big Guns

- 3. A guest appearance by six howitzers from Fort Ord helped the Condors blow Santa Cruz High right off the football field.
- 4. Junior Queen Jodi Richards tours the stadium, the guest of Rick Tomlinson's Classic Ford
- 5. The crowd loved every minute of it. Home-coming '84!

A CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT

or senior prince and princess, we had Romeo Mendoza and Kapio Donovan. Finally, what seemed like forever we heard the winner's names ... Paul Sanburn and Susan Benny! Cannons roared as Paul and Susan took their places.

After the parade procession had left, the Condors proudly came back onto the field. Nothing could stop this awesome team now, not even a measly Cardinal. Santa Cruz sucked it up and tried, but they just couldn't seem to stop us from scoring. Condors scored again and again. This brought the score finally to 34-6. It surely was a sad day in Santa Cruz, for the Cardinals were crushed flat.

To conclude the homecoming events was the traditional homecoming dance. This was a time for the alumni to return and relive the highschool dance life one last time. It was a time for old loves and new music. Everyone's favorite tunes were played by the Shreds and MJ the DJ. Everyone danced until that last song. After that, no one wanted to leave, but all good things must end, and this ended Homecoming 84.

Homecoming, a time for reuniting old friendships and making new ones-a time for dreams being fulfilled. A week long event that lasts a lifetime in memory. Now that it has come to an end, everyone goes back to their busy schedules and put the week's events behind them. This year was fun, and hopefully next year will be even better.

 Just minutes before judging time, the sophomores quickly put together their float.

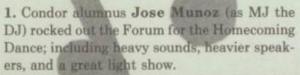

2. With the band playing behind them, Susan Benny and Paul Sanburn stand together as king and queen.

3. Homecoming queen candidate, Julie Klos, looks on at her friends and the rest of the lively homecoming day crowd.

4. Who's the leader of the band?! David Rabe shows everybody as he heads the band and circles around the field.

5. Sophomore royalty Rochelle Doman and Troy Morgan pass by the spectators as they look at the upcoming float.

6. Condor quarterback, Mitch Speirs had an outstanding day with a crushing victory over the Santa Cruz Cardinals.

2. Homecoming Princess Candidate Debbie Soper andher date Brian Flores cut the rug while The Shreds (who alternated with MJ) rip through some tunes.

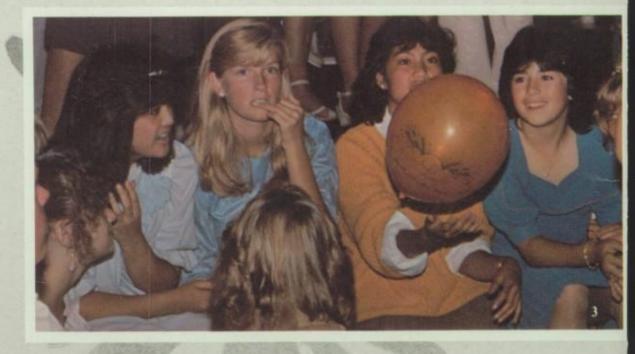

3. In between dances, Jennifer Dawson, Becky Jimenez and friends establish sophomore territory in the Forum.

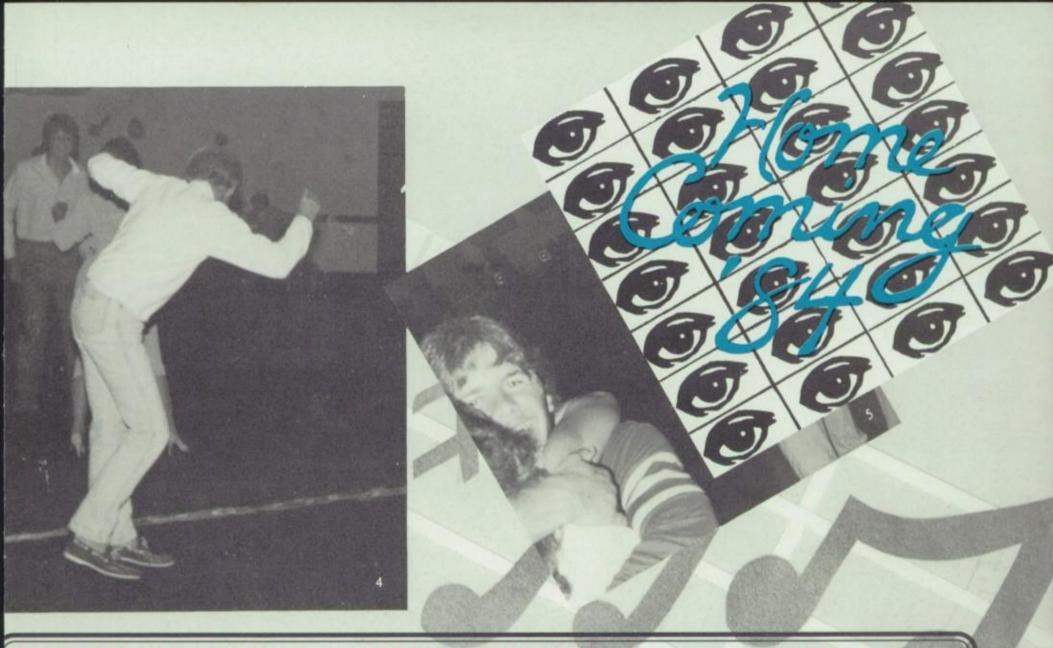

4. Full of homecoming spirit, Darrel Hutchison gives a demonstration of the North County Shuffle.

5. A homecoming hug is Scott Pere's prescription for good times.

FOUR HUNDRED WORDS ON HOMECOMING

he following interview was conducted by Gary Scoggins on Director of Student Activities Ron Severson. The interview was held a couple of weeks after Homecoming to give Mr. Severson some time to calm down.

Q: How are the Homecoming candidates selected?

A: The way we have done the selection for the last ten years is that we go to the students. All the classes in the school at one time or another during the day get to vote. Kids can nominate anyone out of the class they want to. We compile the votes, and take the top five for the seniors. The underclassmen can nominate three. Our constitution outlines some basic requirements for candidates. Never has there been any students who . . . well, first you have to define what a low achiever is. But, the candidates have to have at least a 2.0 grade average and be eligible athletically. I know the constitution was designed, and the school in general is run in such a way so that a kid will not be denied just because they are not an honor student. Deciding who is eligible and who isn't is a tough question.

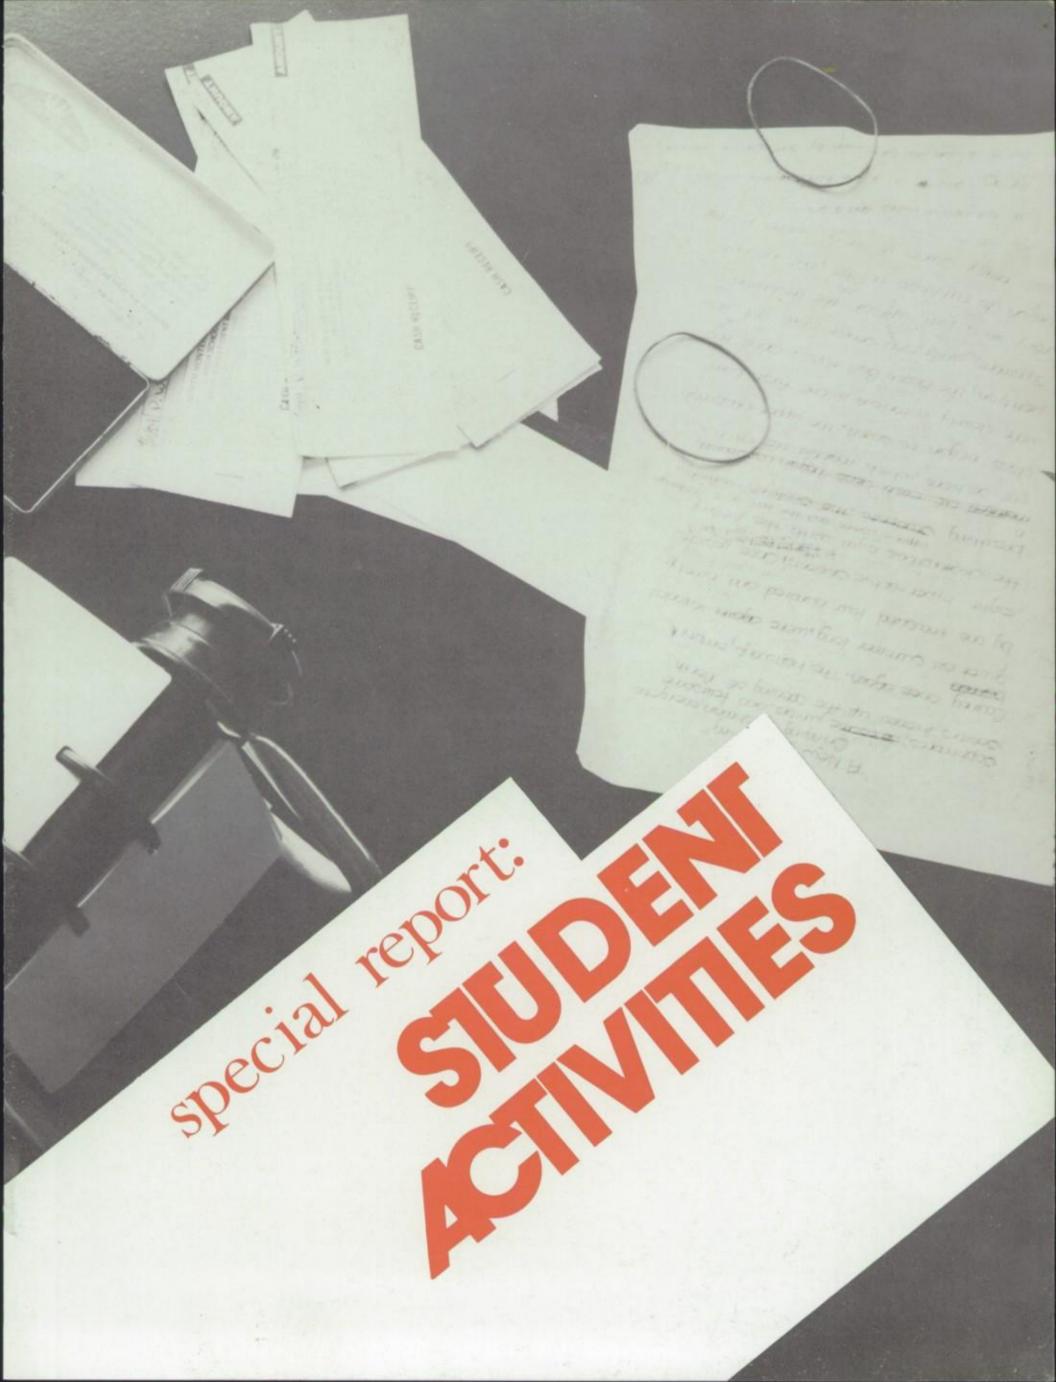

Q: Whose idea was it to use the howitzer?

A: I'm not sure whose idea it was originally. We talked about doing the 1812 Overture last spring, with cannon. Mr. Byker, Lonce Bailey, and Ken Smith for a while, and I think Ken Smith was the one who first brought up the idea. I know Ken and Lonce coordinated it with Fort Ord. We learned that you had to have an official request from the high school; so, Dr. Davis wrote a very nice letter to the people at Fort Ord. It was shuffled through the chain of command there-until I got a call from a Colnel at Fort Ord asking exactly what our requirements were. We went through an exchange of about four or five phone calls through different levels of command; a variety of different officers. With each phone call the process got whittled down a little more. Each person we talked to had less and less for us to do. By the end, it seemed like we would get a couple of cannons, which would each fire a couple of reounds for us. The sergeant who is in command of the cannons, and an officer in charge are both musicians, and ex band members from their high school days. They were both really into doing the 1812 Overture here. They were really excited about our idea, and got us the extra four cannons, and the twenty-eight rounds of ammunition.

Q: What is the purpose of Homecoming?

We invite the graduates from previous years to come back, and provide a real exciting experience for them. We have the halftime festivities, and the crowning of the king and queen, which is traditional. That's what Homecoming is about.

PUT ME IN COACH I'M READY TO DANCE

Once upon a time in Condor Country, when you gave a dance, nobody cared and nobody came ... either. The security was as tight as a cruise missle launch, and if you sneezed, you were searched. Times have changed, and so have our dances. This year we have had some great bands; Chaser, The Shreds, and also we had some hot DJ's, which means better music and more people dancing. "They're fun but the best is saved for after." was a quote from senior Michelle Martinez who does agree that dances have changed tremendously. "Now, all we need is some more upperclassmen to attend and we'll have it made. "Some advice to the next senior and junior classes, go to all your high school dances, they only come once in a life-time," quoted Romeo Mendoza.

"Dances are so original and different that everyone can express their own style," stated another senior Jay Tracy. That's the truth. No one is going to tease or make fun of you because you dance punk, new wave, or just plain dance. Dances are made so that people can let themselves go and have a great time. So all of you there saying dances are dumb, come on out to a North County Dance and see what having fun is all about! Remember, you have as much fun as you expect to.

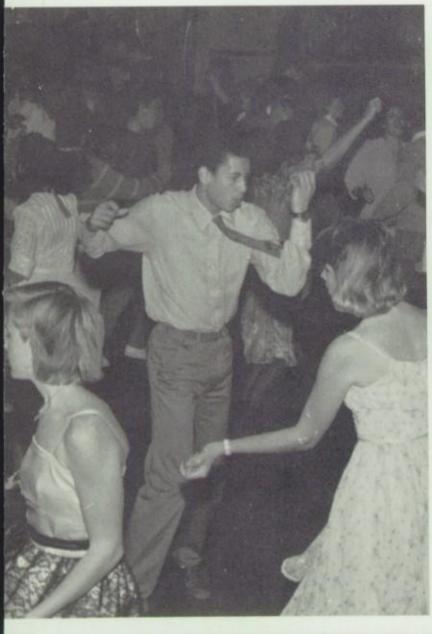

1. "Hey, wait a minute!" Kim Nuki and Rochelle Doman share a couple of laughs between dances.

2. Some of these shy ones, like Carrie Bambaugh, can't even be pried from their chairs.

- 3. When you try and talk while you're dancing, sometimes you have to yell.4. Bay Area band Chaser gave us some hot tunes at the Chirstmas Ball.

5. Up, up, and away at the Homecoming Dance with Robin Boyn and her partner.6. The Shreds jammed for the Homecoming dance.

CHART BREAKERS

- Up The Creek
   Purple Rain
- 3. Dune
- - - 10. Teachers

10 Best Movies Griest, Period 6

- 2. Beverly Hills Cop 3. Karate Kid 4. Last Starfighter

- 6. Nightmare On Elm Street
  7. Missing In Action
  8. Uncommon Valor

- 1. Different Strokes
- 2. Miami Vice 3. A-Team

- 4. Rip Tide 5. Hill Street Blues

- 1. Good Times

- Air Wolfe
   Miami Vice
   Family Ties

5 Best Places To Go For A Date Williams, Period 1

- e. Japanese Tea Gardens
- 4. Fremont's Peak
- 5. Carousel

- 5 Best Places To Go For A Date
- 1. Asilomar Beach
- Pizza Place
   Boardwalk

- 5. Movies

3 Best Places To Get A Burger Maunder, Period 1

- 1. McDonalds
- 2. Dairy Queen
- 3. J & R's

- 3 Best Places To Get A Burger Thomas, Period 1
- 2. Wendy's 3. Carls Jr.
- 1. Burger King

- Rivera, Period 1

- 2. General Hospital
  3. Santa Barbara
  4. Days Of Our Lives
- 5. The Young And Restlesss

- Griest, Period 2
- 1. Shannon-Let The Music
- Play
- 2. Y & Y T-In Rock We Trust
  3. Van Halen-VOA
  4. Madonna-Like A Virgin
  5. Prince-Purple Rain

- 6. Midnight Star-Planetary Inva-
- 7. New Edition-New Edition 8. Earth, Wind, and Fire-Electric
- 9. Madonna-Madonna
- Thomas, Period 6
- 1. Ratt-Out of the Cellar
- 2. ZZ Top-Eliminator
  3. Lionel Richie-All Night Long
  4. Nucleus-Jam On Revenge
  5. Y & Y T-In Rock We Trust
  6. Wham-Wham
  7. Sammy Hagar-VOA

- The USA
- 9. Judas Priest-Defenders Of

Buzz Words . . . bzzzzzzzz

Like, way cool!	Ummm handarariii CATU
Hot tub action	Hmmm bendover!!! SAT's
Blitz Fresh!	Castro-y-que? We're jacked!!!
Scorpions Scorpions	The world is yours It's 1984
Bloopers	Ooh wah, ooh wah Homecoming Week
Shet	Oh tay butwheat! Neon takeover
Never miss	Hot for teacher Ska
You failed!	Frankie says, Relax!!! Like a virgin
	The Rapping Caucasians Ice cream cones
Tubby If it feels good, do it!	The eeby jeebies Jack Daniels
Chubby Bunny Statisticians	This mess is a lunch line??? Taste!
She's so unusual	Okey dokey artichokey!!!! Four wheeling
Purple Rain	Parties, parties Sarah Vaughn
Cheat sheets	Mr. Hirt, I'm in jeopardy! Artichoke High
Friday Night Bingo	Is that a seal in the forum?
Fund raisers	The Homecoming's Queen's Got a Gun
Valley girl extinction	The Cools Shaffle ALLOVER!!!!
Computerized attendance	The Curly Shuffle, woop, woop, woop!!!
You're history!	Move it or lose it! Buffalo Head
That's blowin' it!	All right, get to class! Peiper pesos
Redroom	Uh! Another speed bump! Cold french fries
Is it vogue?	But Juniors always win the float contest, right??
Deadhead	People, the bell has rung! Take off!!!
Breast wrestling	SAB (Smoking Area Burnouts) Carroll's bunsen burner fire alarm
Bunji Too coo for moo!
Ralph Stoked!!!	ASB Convention Extravaganza  Eddie and the Cruisers Nautilus Surfboards
General Public
Maui Wowie	Student store munch raids Choice!
Ray-Bans Exactly	You want some I.D.?? Forum boredom
Squidlo	Dear Jabber Jaws Class competitions Prom-Up Where We Belong
Eurogliders	New Years Day Hangover and out
Popping Right on!	The Oak Hills Cool People
Fritz who?	You mean we have to draw that Mr. Gardner? In color?
Peppermint schnapps	Go ahead punk make my day That's our float?
General Hospital	Converse high tops The Dingbat Sisters
Parachute pants	Oh, that's tacky! Beun
New wavers	Heeeeey, that's great! Megamiss
Bip! Relax, Roberts	What should we do this weekend?
Bruce Springsteen	What's the scene? Jerry's kids
Kegger parties	I'll never eat a fried burger again!
Heavy metal	Who you gonna call? Straight up!
Uneven hairdo's	Kamikazes anyone? Strawberry Quick
Mary Lou	Plagiarism?? Tsk, tsk, tsk KWSS
Aggies Wayfarers	Pick that melvin!!! Hey buck!
What's a Rookery?	Beam me up, Scotty Hank Williams Jr.
Rockers	Organized parking?? Make it happen
Trivial Pursuit	No! No more vocabulary Ms. Vaughn
LA Olympics You know it!	X-Country Champs! KWST
Senioritis	Buy my calendar! See food!
NC Condors	Where's room ninety-six??? You queeb!!!
Fishing lure earrings	Band/PE Transfers
Jackson Victory Tour	Geek Patrol! Beep, beep!
Gimme a bud	Silent Night Deadly Night
Cabbage Patch dolls	What do you think?
Inspector Gadget	Do you want to contribute to the birthday fund?
The Wave	Nighmare on Elmstreet
Doonesbury returns	Who's that knew counselor??
Rill the Cat	Unidou the 19th The Pinel Chantage

Friday the 13th, The Final Chapter?

Bill the Cat

I wanna know what love is One, two, tree . . . Dress out! . . . . Zipper jackets Foreign exchange students Eeny meeny miny mo Your legs are gangreen! I light up your life Dinner Theater Trendies! ... KSPB Breakin' movie after movie Suntan salons? Just picking my nose 49ers!!!! . . . . . Chaser You need to relax! Raging! ... Smack! Hey, we're almost upper classmen! Oh no, let's go! Santa Barbara Reagonomics Let's do the time warp Aggies ... Bitchin' The boys have a team? Letter jackets Monterey Bay Aquarium Make a basket, get your name in the paper! Allright x3, awesome x3 Christmas "Food research and tasting experience" Guess jeans ... Apple II C Shucks, report cards delayed What a doorknob! Artificial heart transplants Seargant Sam risking life and limb! 501's ... "The Neat Look" Beer Drinker's Handshake Chugging ... Wranglers Oooh! Love that do! Willie and Harry Eddie Murphy, Jumpback! Gonna kiss myself! Vatos . . . . Prince-purple reign Machine gun laughs Where's the beef??? KSJO ... Teacher's aids Let me rock you, Chaka Kahn! Djarum cloves Final's Dead Week Grandma Buffalo cookies Mr. Mitchell in '84 Condor football domination! Is that an essay behind the map Mr. O'Leary? Swatches KTOM ... .. Tina Turner on! Cheers to Geraldine Ferraro Keep up with tradition Lady Condors!?! Forenza sweaters Band Aid ... Croissants Death of Indirah Gandhi APES ... Yes, double space Point Lobos shutterbugs Cruising Main Julian Lennon, like father, like son Where's your pass? Mr. Sugi, is that a new gray hair? How many shopping days till Christmas? What up? ... alTHOugh Bermudas ... Nachos For your eyes only Vanessa Williams You mean I have to ask someone to dance? The Banana PC-Jr talks back? Huh? ... Whiners Elbow Sex ... KOME Hey, I want to tell you a secret! Playing "look" . . . . Locos
Burps . . . . . How feeble!!! Lovely ladies C'mon guys! Kiss mine! ... Numb fingers 701's ... Skoal I.T.,.... Tan docksiders Strawberry Shortcake Squawks ... Desperados Rappin' Rodney ... Preps Raggin' ... Beverly Hills Cop Scarface ... Rocky Horror Mountain Oysters . . . . . Spaz! Ever! ... Gumby and Pokey Fritz and its . . . . . Mustangs Snaggelpuss Alabama ... That's a skit???? Snausauges B'lot . . . . Soloflex One hung low ... Tahoe bound!!! The nails .... Surf's up! So many! Puck you! ... VW bugs Unreal! ... Twisted Sister Easylover ... Cordless phones Room 101 2:02???!!! . . . . . Journals Wavers ... Clark's tarantula tendencies Hectic . . . . Class rings Wild boys Jungle Love ... Lace T-shirts Darling Nikki ... ... KSJO-new wave? Drop Dead ... Quarters You Asian!! Hello Again . . . . Colored Mousse Wonderful!! . . . . . . Buckwheat Wazzone ... How 'bout '88? Dogmeat ... Bleached jeans Leon Panetta ... Senior's Hawaii trip BYOB ... Rookie move Fear- the group I swear!! ... Lumpia Hosehead ... GPA's DEADLINES! DEADLINES! ... Secret pals Madonna California Coolers Wheels of Tragedy ... Anything goes Home Ec spaghetti ... ... Ms. North County

Get me a bun ... Mexicali

Spaced In A Place Called The Forum

The Forum, what is this unusual place? This is the place where everyone must hang around sooner or later. Many people have never encountered the experience of hangin' around in the Forum. For many people it's just a place to pass time away, for others it's just shelter, but the main reason is, it is the one and only spot to get our food. "It's a great meeting, greeting, and collecting place," says Catherine Hatch, first year coordinator. "Also, it is a good place to see students. My first day it was a great surprise, there's love, romance, food, lots of mixed groups, and it is really easy to find people there because they're always in the same spot." Overall, Mrs. Hatch thinks it is a real friendly place.

Michael Gunderson says, "I would rather be in the Forum than any other place in the school," he also states that the Forum has its emotions. One thing he would like to change is, add more room to make it a more comfortable place to be at.

Pat Avey says that the lunch tables and speed lines were a great asset to this year's Forum at NMC. She says that she would rather be without boxes, because with them, it's hard to communicate, and taking care of the Forum has gotten worse. "Considering the population in the Forum, fight control as been exceptionally well."

For Mel Hagio, another well known student coordinator, he thinks the Forum is getting smaller because of increasing enrollment at NMC, but he says, "It's really a nice place to be."

Vice Principal, Dennis Carrocci thinks it's really the hart of the campus. Everyday it's a fashionshow, a dating game, and mixes of different cultures, grades and interests. Carrocci says, "Kids here really like each other, and that makes the Forum a real special place."

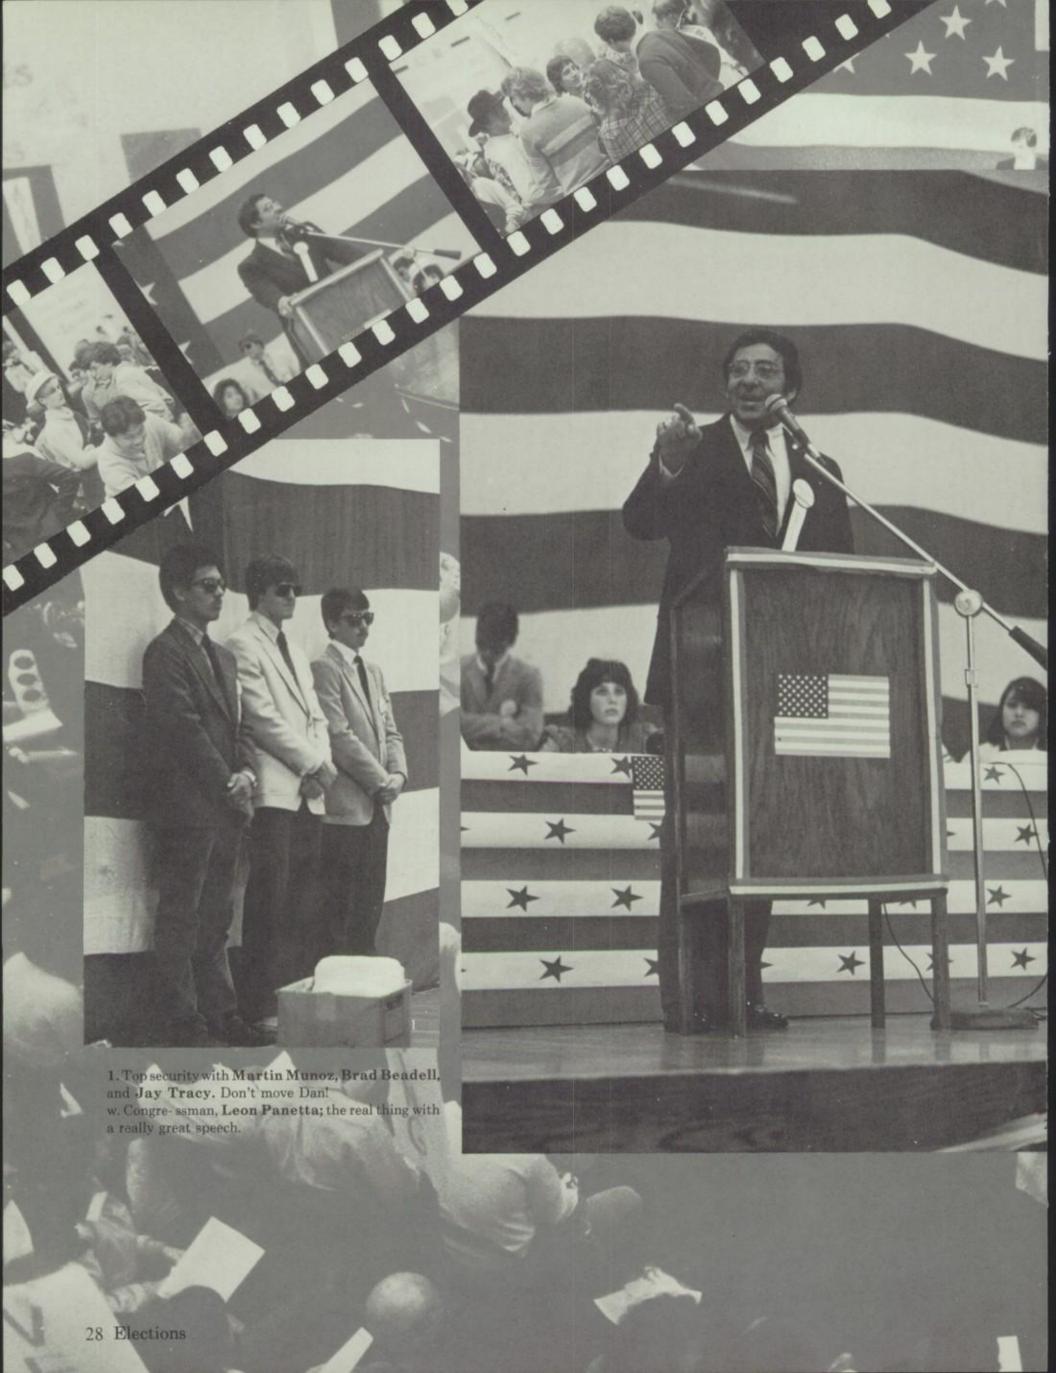

"This place is where you can get together with your friends and girls to find out what is going on after school. This year the Forum is better because we are seniors. Class of "85" forever." -Kenny Conner.

"The Forum is a cool place to hang out, for the brothers and the athletes. You got to be cool to hang out with the brothers. -James Nibbelin.

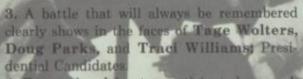

"Without having boxes at school, it really hasn't been to live. So, to make NC live once again, I think boxes should be allowed at NC. -Alfred Mendoza.

LEON AND LONCE IN '88

Convention delegates participated as much as possible as state representations, Teri Favela advertises her state spirit in a dice.
 To tally the votes was the easy part, to run around and get them was the hard. James Nibbelingives results to runner, Amy Archer.

The superlatives flowed profusely before, during, and after our highly awaited ASB Election Convention. Modeled after the two party Nominating Conventions, the ASB event was an entirely new concept in high school electioneering. Attacking the task with fervor, the ASB commission and major domo Rom Severson set the works up quite smoothly. Like a timex, everything just kept on ticking.

The organization and manpower hours spent were taxing, but the impact was solid. The inside excitement of what happens was never more evident than when it happened to theminstead of some stranger a thousand miles away and forty years their senior. The walls vibrated with tension during the early sessions. The stress and strain crept up on everyone, resulting in some disquieting moments. Dan Kaminskis had some good observations. "The only problem seemed to be the questions at the end of the presidential debate. We wanted to bring out that kind of intensity from the delegates, though." That opened a lot of eyes to some of the realities of politics and human nature.

"It was an extravaganza and it showed the professional and talent of the Associated Student Body," was Hilton Metzner's response when queried about the convention by Tage Wolters. Leon Panetta electrified the crowd. "A dynamite speaker," was a description from an implacable member of the gallery. It seemed a strange turn of events when a masked gunman jumped up on the stage (armed with a watergun) and took aim at ASB Pres. Lonce Bailey. The security forces took aim on the would be assassin and each grabbed a limb and then headed in four different directions. "The assassination was so incredibly real that it scared the ... well, it shocked me a lot," said Presidential runner up Traci Williams.

After the smoke cleared (just a figure of speech), Tage was President, Jodie Vice President, and we were all worn out.

Where It's At

1. Ready to go back to class, after a short lunch period; it's Carlos Perez, John Tracy, Rob Torculas, and Martin Sandoval.

2. Nicotine fits are notorious on the NMC campus, Ed Moore, Julie Lamb, Sheri Aunchman, Elizabeth Frank and "Buggs" Pratt utilize the smoking section, while investigating reporter Susan Oler takes notes for Yearbook.

3. As the bell rings, these Freshman; John Prinance, Genevieve Silva, Mike Wallace, Newell Barger, and Donald Carl have their last laugh before classes start once again.

Who's who? where are they? and who are they with? Well, around the N.C. campus, brunch and lunch time is the whole purpose for finding this out.

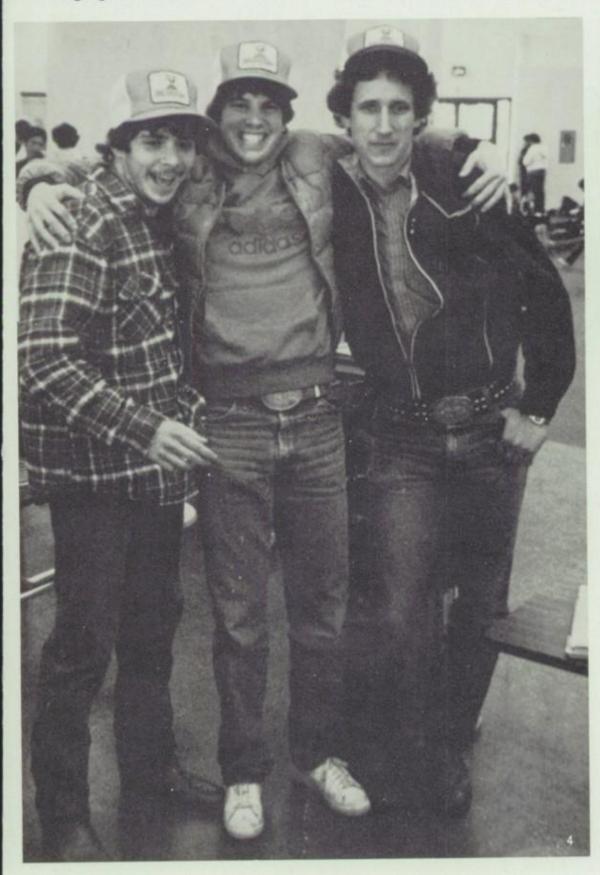

Many of us found our own little niche. It was in the Forum, not in the Forum or for those who can brave the elements: Outdoors. "Waiting for the next riot," was Darci Allen's reason for hanging in our only lunchroom. June Cain spends her time in the Forum with Yvonne, Cheryl, and Kaniu. "Only cool Snausages can hang there."

For other students, the hustle and bustle of the Forum is a little too much. The kick-back atmosphere of the band room works as a great tension releaser and dining room.

"The reason I like the band room is cause nobody has hang-ups about popularity," says Elaine Bullock. "It's a really care-free place."

As for the "Castro Locos" the wall seems to be a good munching spot. When asked why he hangs out where he does, Enrique Castenada replied, "It's not 'cuz I like to hold up the wall, it's cuz it's skitz to hang out with my homies Godfrey and Ted."

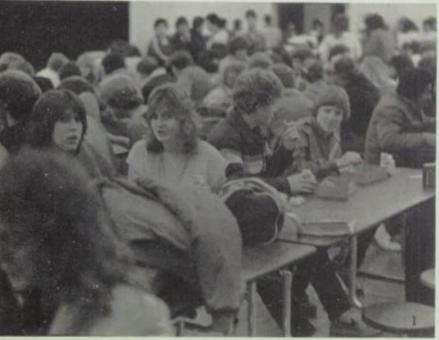

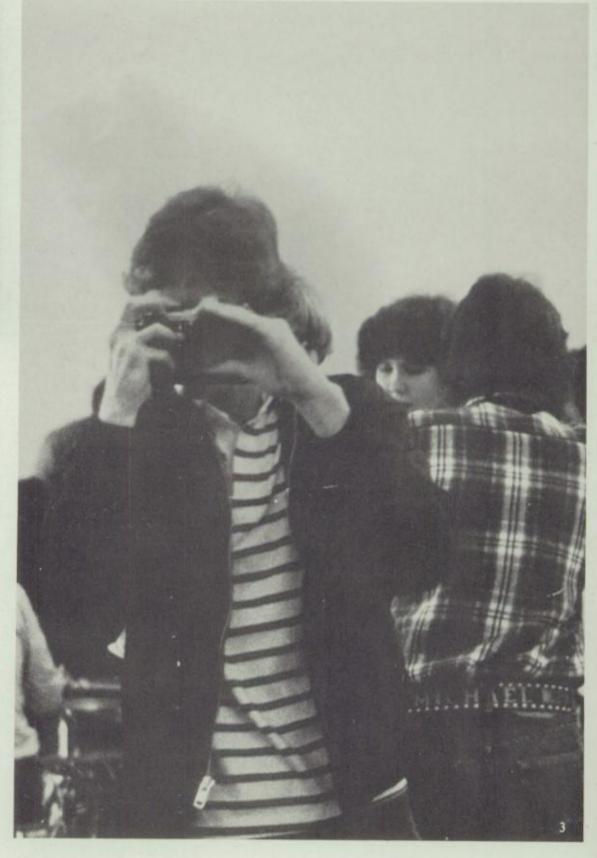

4. Aggies Steve Sustaita, Jeff Banuelos, and Jeff Russum show togetherness.

5. For many, brunch is a time to associate with others, but for Deena Martinez, Melissa Anulao, Christina Martinez, Chris Beck, and Lisa Nouchi, it's a time to make arrangements for a party.

- 1. Who are you trying to impress chickadees?
- 2. "No fagging off guys, the camera's on us."
- 3. Smile Gary, you're on camera with your camera!
- 4. "Hey folks, where's the visine?" says Tiffany Hazen.
- 5. These ties prove that girls can't resist talking to the famous Jamie Jones.
- In search of the mythical "A" crowders, Angie Krzyiak looks about.

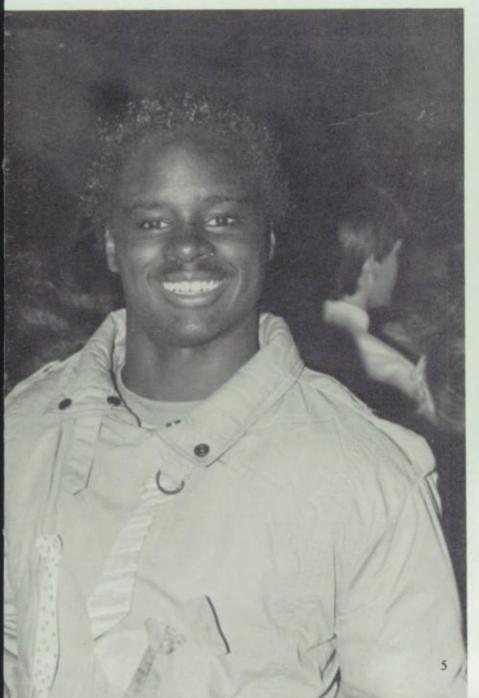

Who's where, who cares and we don't I don't know, well, to find this out is the purpose of school itself.

Most of the cliques that consist of the school are the Jocks, "A Crowders", Castro Locos, Aggies, Rockers and Band Members. As for the Jocks, they all seem to like eating and goofing off in the forum.

"The forum is a great place for questionable encounters of the mysterious kind" said senior Mike Magee. He really meant what he said, if you've been through the forum, you'll know why "Doesn't anybody know who Sadie Hawkins is?" "My parents have a Beatle's son about her."

"Naw - no way."

For those of you who don't know, Sadie was that sweet thing from the comic strips a few years back (your parents would know). She sorta looked like Barbara Bach, but with a lot more curves. She was always after this guy named Lil' Abner. She finally got him and now we have a national (at least local) holiday to celebrate that national (at least local) heroine of role reversal. First, y'know, you've got your tie, where the girls aren't allowed to talk with guys, and that's quite a switch. After that comes a big favorite, Slave Day. The girl who always wanted to dress up her favorite hunk like a playboy bunnie must have gotten a kick out of seeing Steve Byrd and Paul Sanburn struttin' down the hall under command.

The last big activity of the week, but definitely the most loudly received is the famous (infamous!) Ms. North County Pageant. There are some who carry this dress to some outrageous x-rated extremes. For the second year in a row, Tom Henderson teetered on the outer limits of decency. But, Arthur Whitney was deemed the most perfect of all the contestants. As Art was heard to say after his victory: "Some of us are perfect, others were born with hair."

TRANSVESTITES AND COWBOYS

- 4. A day to buy the slave of your dreams, as you can see this crowd is hot with lust.
- It's just Paul Sanburn and Steve Byrd about ready to take it all off.
- 6. Just exchanging a few remarks, is Philip Jackson and Mike Deetz.

LET'S HIT THE HAY!

"Should I ask him? What if he says no? Omigod, I couldn't handle rejection. How do guys deal with it?"

Well girls, the Sadie Hawkins Dance gives you the chance to ask the man of your dreams out to a night of dancing to country music and "Off the Wall" tunes. Do you dare ask?

At the dance, there were lots of couples dancing, but thanks to Lonce, "Make it Happen," Bailey, everyone got into the country atmosphere.

"It was the best time I've had all year; with the girl of my dreams," said Lonce.

As for the people getting down, Kenny Horner and his date were the famous two-stepping partners of the evening. All together, Sadie Hawkins was pure delight!

Waiting in anticipation Scott Schumacher waits for Stacie Marikas to ask him to dance.
 Getting into the great sounds of country music, Kapio Donovan and an alumni boyfriend dance while Romeo Mendoza chaperones.

- 3. Dancing the night away, Steve Stapelton and Wendy Zimmerman do the two-step.
- 4. Stomping, and romping, Jeff Banuelos
- leads the way.

  5. Doing the two-step really wore out Oliver
  Bohme, Morokat Yipinsoi, Jan Fisher,
  Kirsten Loveless, Trankie Tiscareno,
  Patty Ridge, and Mike Dunston.

WHAT A FEELING

 Long hours and long days show how hard Linda Hoey practiced to make the Dance Co. a success.

2. Dancin' was never a bigger success than this year at NC: Linda Hoey, Diane Funk and Jennifer Tonkin.

3. The cast of "We're So Excited" take a well deserved encore.

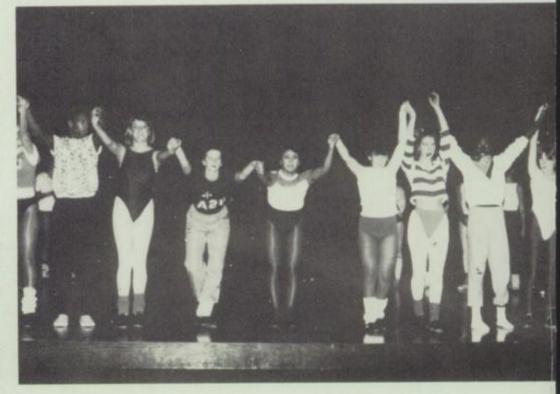

"Where is my make-up?" "How's my hair?" "Has anybody seen where I left my leotards? . . . Mrs. Andrews, I need your help."

This is what you would hear back stage before a dance company production. There are many hours put in by many students to present a spectacular production of dance. Mrs. Andrews is the one responsible for the production, and development of Dance Company, featuring the dance class she instructs.

The first successful presentation of the Dance Company was Dracula featuring Thriller; the second presentation was We're So Excited, featuring the first dance show ever here at NMCHS, Harvey was another one of Mrs. Andrews workings.

All that can be said is, Mrs. Kelly Andrews and her production is a huge success here at NMCHS and we all hope it remains that way. Good luck to the Dance Company!

4. Showing their true American patriotism is Patty Ridge and Susan Benny.

5. "We're So Excited" is the theme for the first Dance Co. productions which clearly shows in the faces of Linda Hoey, Teresa Tarango, Karen Lee, and Becky Pringle.

How come this trend never wears out? It's a trend isn't it? Here at NMCHS there are so many social groups, this means that there are many different styles of cars. Students here at Condor Country don't only go for looks, they go for interior sounds also, so when they head out to cruise the attention is focused on them.

- 1. Smile, its Candid Camera! It's just Tammy Lee and a friend cruising the scene.
- 2. Just hanging out is what it's all about on Main Street.
- 3. "Check out this action" says Danny Evans; "Too bad it's not my car.
- 4. Auto Shop students, Godfrey Musones and Pepe Jimenez, just about ready for a night out on the strip.
- 5. Cruising has got Tammy McGough and Tammie Silva a bad case of the munchies.
- 6. The Corvette; there is no substitute, that's why Theresa Deaton has one.

"FROM SPEED BUMPS TO ... THE MAIN STRIP"

Friday, Saturday and Sunday are ever popular cruising days for NC students, for some it's seven days a week. On Friday and Saturday nights the cruise is centered on Main Street, on Sundays the attention is out on Alisal Street. Who knows, maybe Castroville Blvd. will become the cruising spot someday, with NC high as the highlight of the drive.

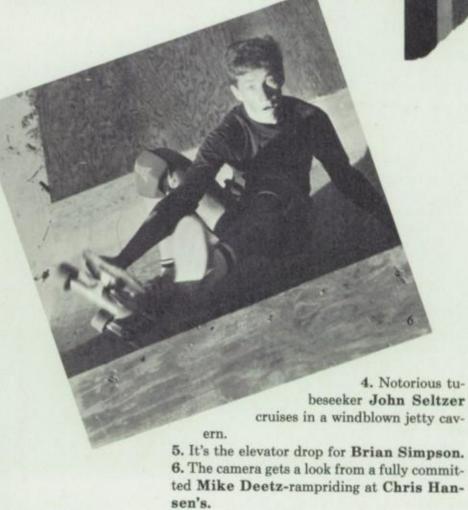

New moves with wheels, tube rides on waves, and spinning out in search of some heavy road rash. "Wow! Pizza with sauce . . . mmm, pepperoni!"

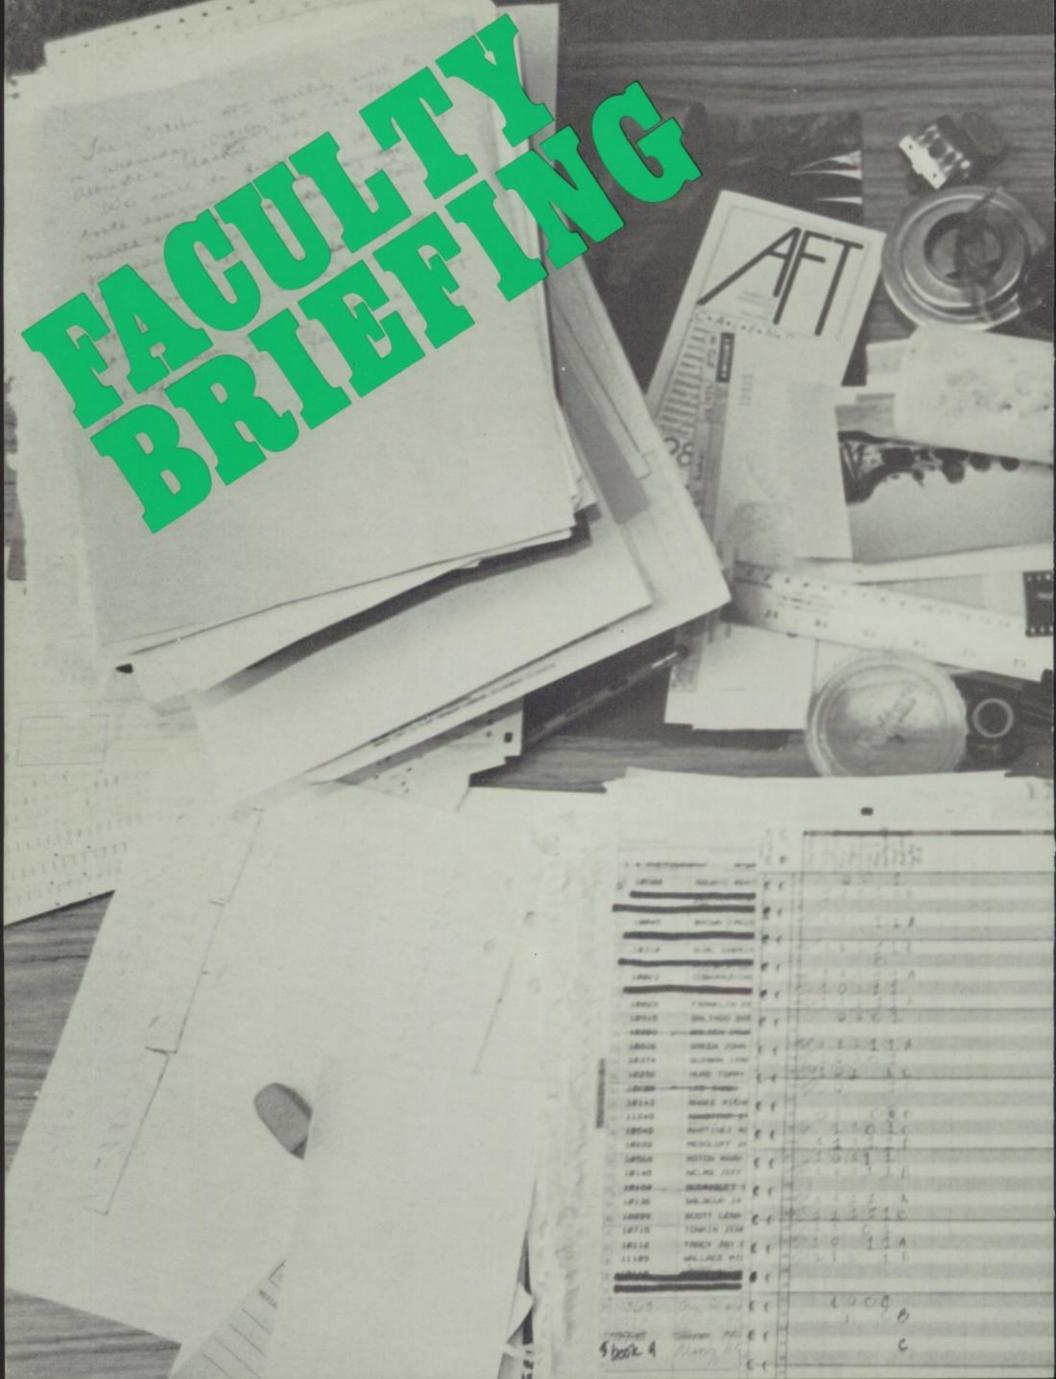

Ramp riding and tube riding both share the same exhilarating feeling of the deep drop-and a solid snap off the top . . . maybe grabbing some air!

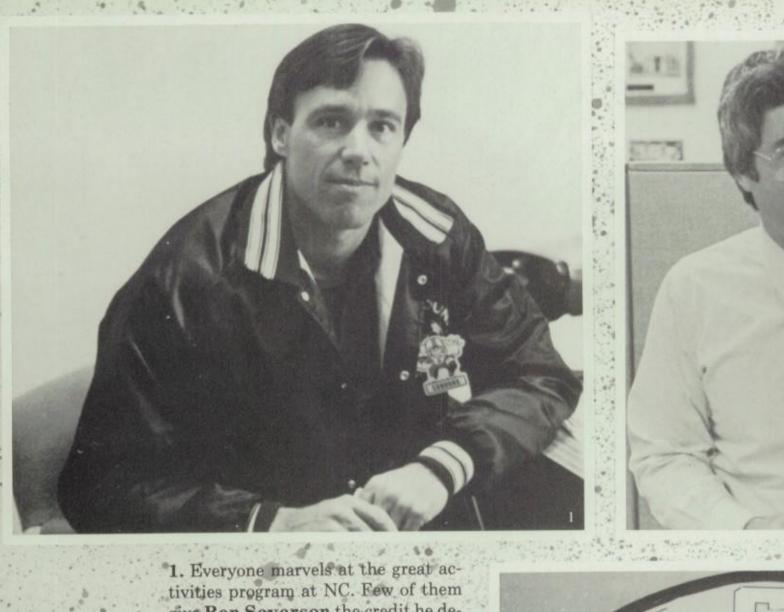

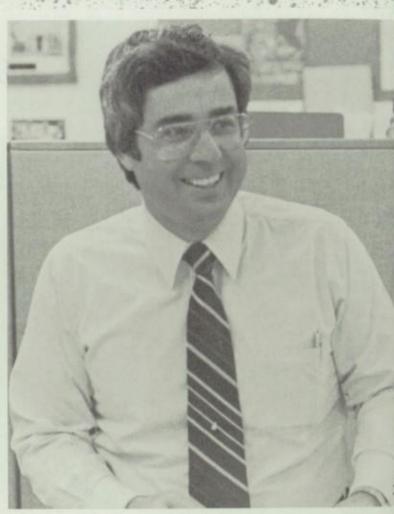

Photograph

MODAK mode and united

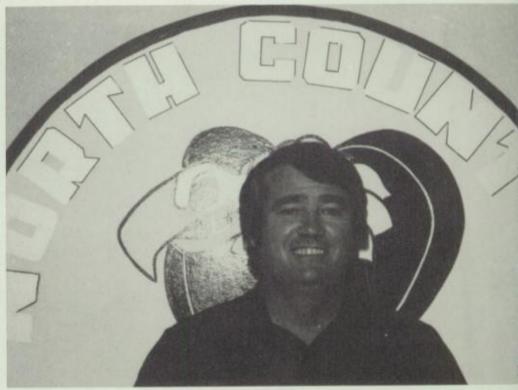

B. B.

1. Everyone marvels at the great activities program at NC. Few of them give Ron Severson the credit he deserves for making it all happen as head of ASB.

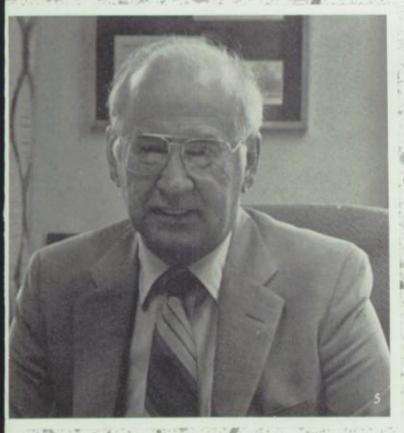

2. The Adult School Program helps some graduate; while others continue learning through evening and after school courses. Rich Castellotookoverthisyear and brings a smile to work every day.

3. Bingo has been a financial miracle for many clubs and most all sports.

Mr. trvin, as president of the Boosters, has helped make it all happen.

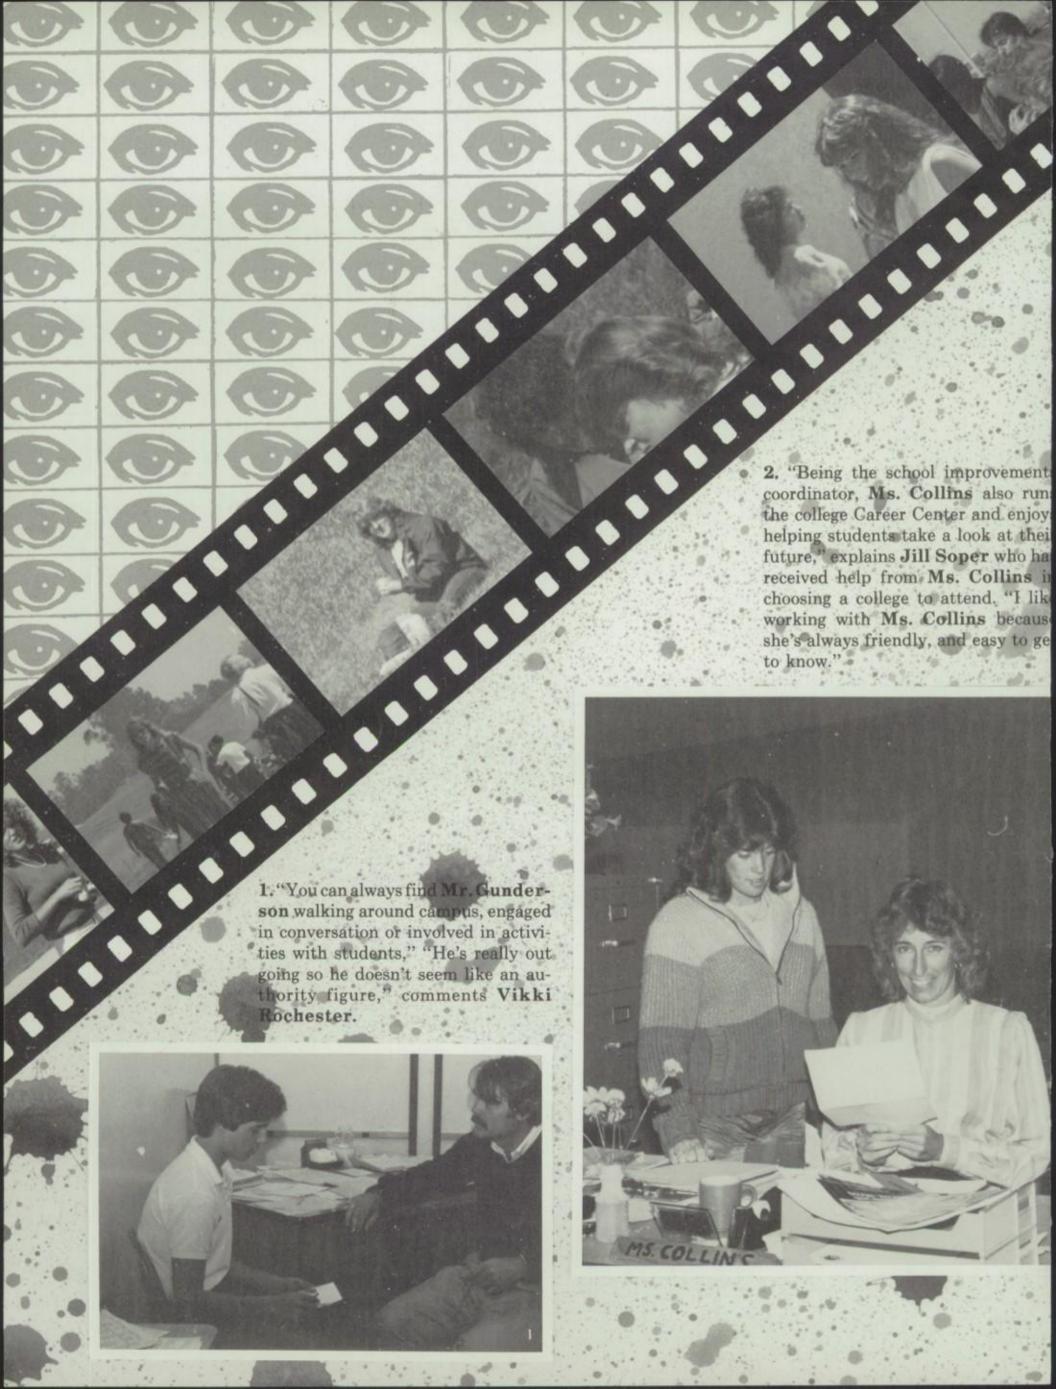

4. Speaking of taking credit, not too many realize what a tremendous job Dr. Marlene Davis and Mr. Dennis Carocci do. North County has few problems, no riots and is considered by many to be the finest public high school for a long way in any direction you choose.

5. Directing the whole district is the superintendant's job. Dr. Donald Gauvin assumed command from the controversial Ray Smith. We don't make headlines daily with Dr. Gauvin, but that's okay.

TO THOSE WHO MAKE IT GO ...

. THIS ONE'S FOR YOU.

E DOCTOR IS IN

5. "Even when you have to sit and wait in a counselor's office, Mrs. Olsway tries her best to keep you from sweating about your call slip," pointed out Mark Moton.

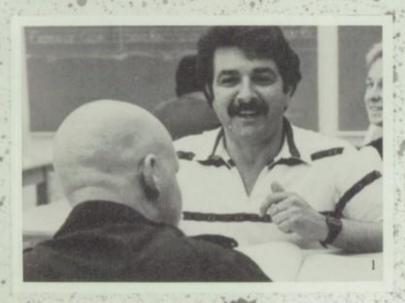

The high powered staff and stu- 4. Who's the new kid in town? Susan nts are only one of the reasons Mr. Phillips feels that her new counselor, agio is attracted to North County, Mrs. Hatch, has adjusted well to her cott Pere says, "As a counselor, first year at NC. "It seems apparent to r. Hagio is helpful in solving prob- me that Mrs. Hatch enjoys being at ms, but he's more like a friend." NC," commented Susan, "Everyone I know agrees that she's real friendly."

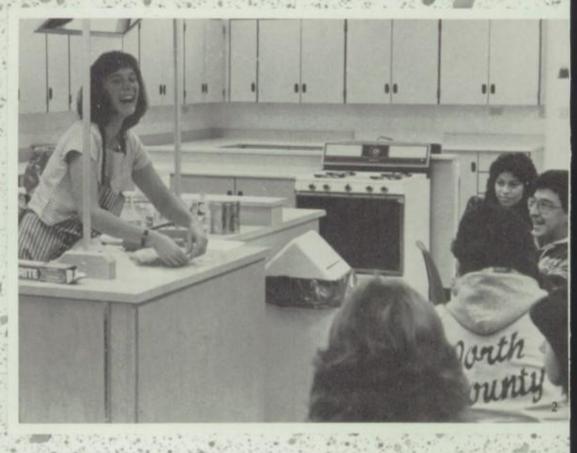

6. "I communicate well with Mrs. Avey, because she understands school problems from a student's viewpoint." Kelly Fortney pointed out a good relationship between a student and counselor. "She's got a personality that nobody could dislike."

BROKEN WRENCHES AND TWISTED NUTS

1. The Drafting program is a mainstay of the vocational arts program and Mike Cappetti works hard as the head of this department.

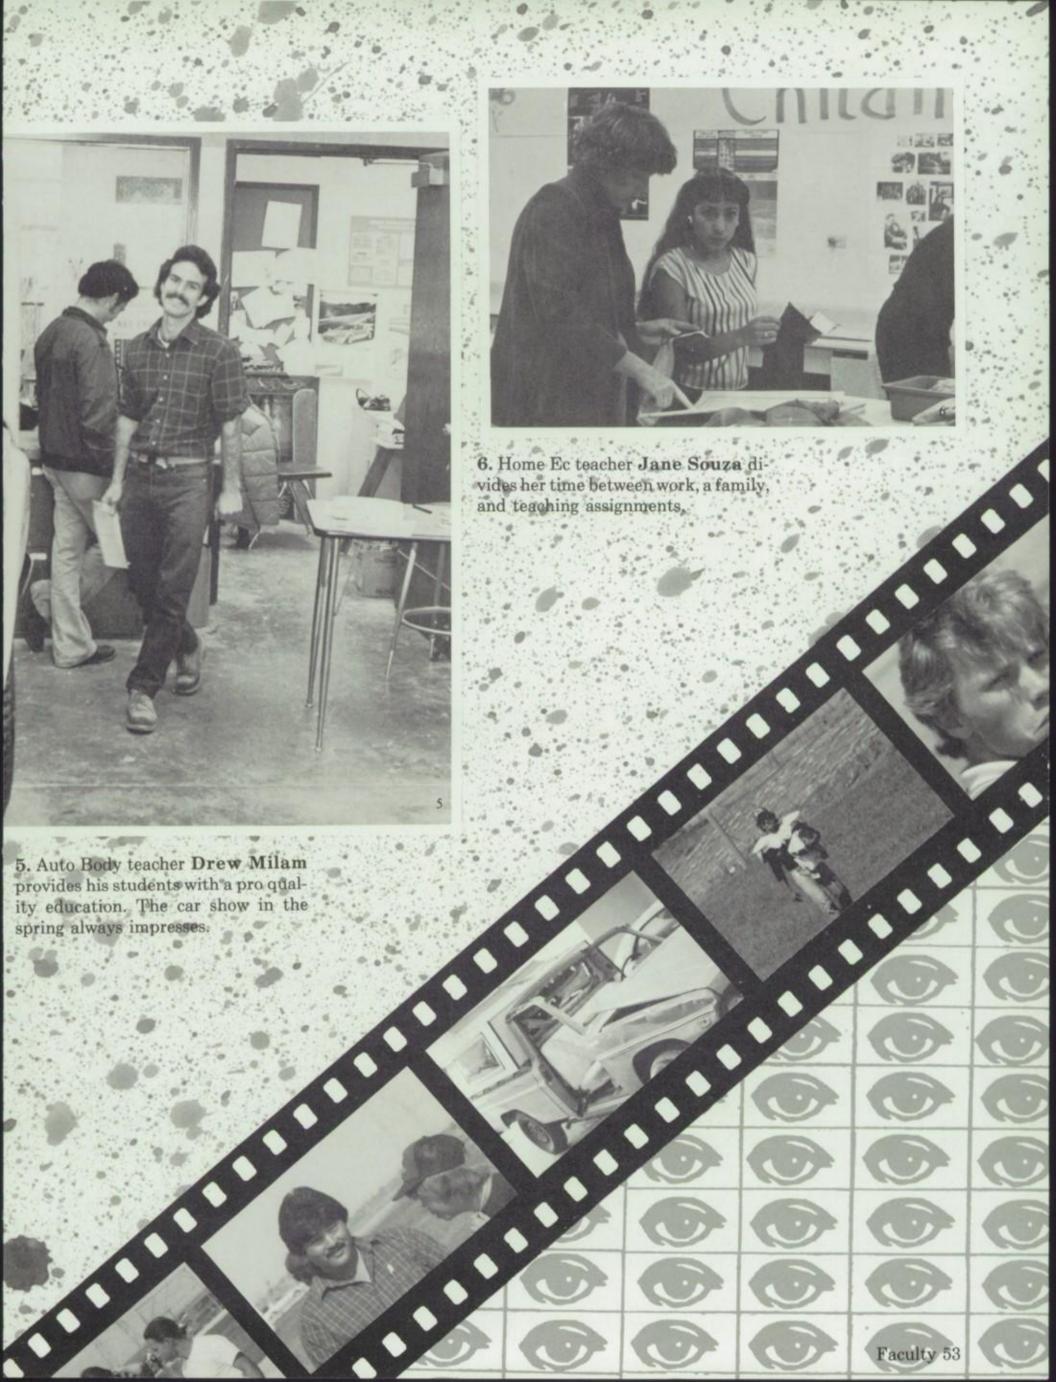

- 2. New Home Economics teacher Carrie Bambaugh came to NC to replace Brenda Guy, who left for Pacific Grove. Her smile and good nature have made Home Ec an overwhelming favorite on campus.
- 3. The Solar Energy class is one of Mr. Forgette's specialities. He also shows superior teaching skills in welding, a much wanted elective class.
- 4. Class participation is what Mr. Berridge ponders about most. He clearly shows he is no more Mr. Nice Guy.

HI-TECH BUSINESS AS USUAL

4. The auto program trains kids to understand their cars. Ken Jordan has kept a lot of clunkers on the road. Mostly to get them out of the school garage.

- 3. Hard working kids, and a fun staff is what Trudy Wilson enjoys most about working at NC
- 5. A professional in the computer industry, Ty Williams' understanding of software takes the byte out of studying.
- 6. As of our deadline, Ted Meyenberg was preparing to leave NC, to pursue other interests in the ag business.

ADDING UP TO SUCCESS

1. Success being a priority on Mrs. Stuart's list; it shows with the success of this years Cross Country Team.

2. A former yearbook advisor; Ms. Kurzfeld's interests also include ceramics and her profession: mathematics. 3. Cal Poly graduate Ted Albright, provides a strenuous atmosphere for college bound students. The thought of new snow at Bear Valley makes his hands shake and knees quiver.

4. A regional representative to NAACP; Mrs. Armstrong is the head of the math and science department.

5. Soccer coach, Ray Garcia, prides himself in being involved with minority students.

DRIVING HEALTHY

5. The world of Science is tough to understand. David Johnson did his best to make it comprehensible.

6. Renaissance man Jonathan Shoemaker has taught Math, Science, Spanish, and also could teach us some Bussian, if we needed it.

7. Outspoken health teacher Al Gardner took a lot of static for bringing up topics that many of us thought were kind of like, y'know . . . taboo.

8. Terry Eckhardt came to North County from Marello Prep a couple of years ago.

60 Faculty

1. After coaching five league champions in a row, Coach Sonny Stupek deserves a few laughs at Jeff Nelms expense.

GOOD SPORTS

2. The opening of a new health club, a weight program, and plenty of exercise helped PE Department Chairman, Wayne Roberts shed some pounds and get in shape.

3. This year, Lisa Frazer took over coaching chores in volleyball and softball, in addition to her regular teaching duties.

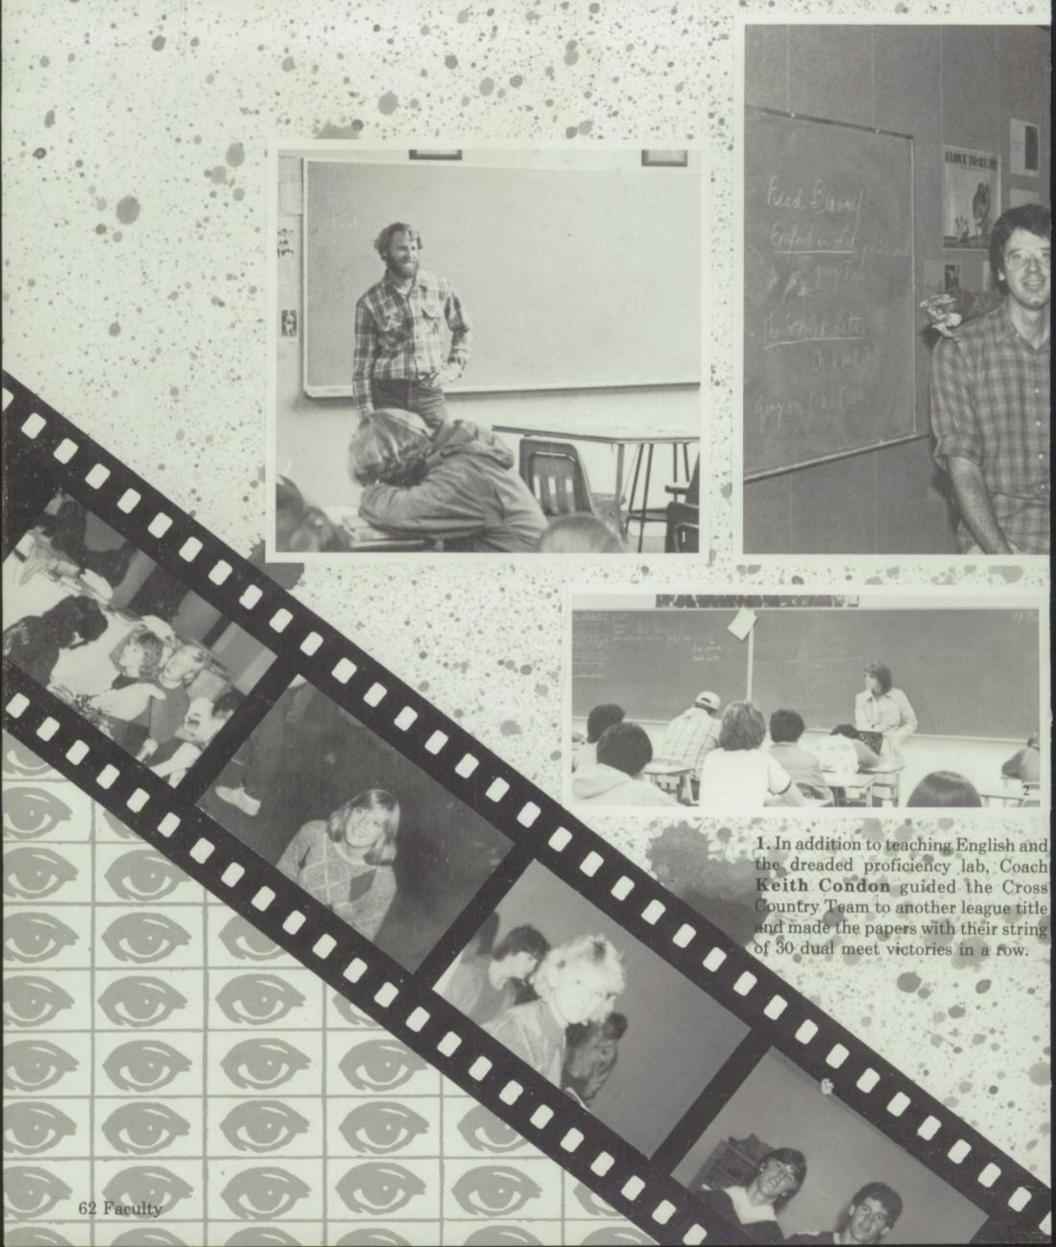

5. One of the original staff members, Mary Marks spent much of her free time researching her post graduate work in curriculum.

4. A little workout under a chilly November sky, with a few wandering thunderheads always got the blood flowing. Al Fereirra flashed a smile while tutoring some shooting.

TODAY'S SUBJECT: LETTERS ..

VARSITY AND SCARLET

Paying Off Mr. Griest? Try Finishing Your Work

Mrs. J. around," said Jackie Funk.
"She's a great friend who's always willing to help you out."

5. Freshmen soon learned the difference in being in high school when they walked into Mrs. McNeese's room.

6. A transfer from the teaching staff at Gonzales High, Tim Barnes taught the AP English class with a fervor that showed his love for Lit.

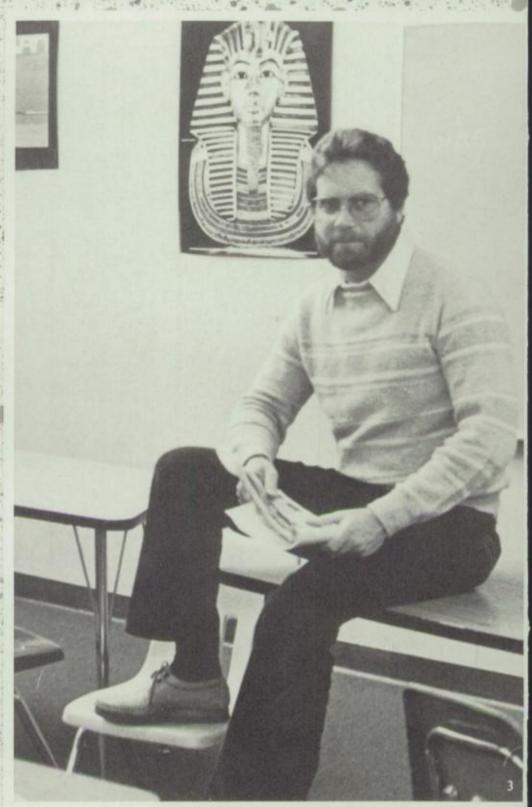

4. "It's nice to have a teacher like

A WORD WELL SAID ...

.. AND WELL WRITTEN

Norma Nava began her seventh year as our Spanish teacher, and ended it up as a new mother. Parenthood was popular this year with the staff.
 The Menter teacher program picked Julie High as the rep at NC. Her work in stress reduction resulted in the most subdued lighting on cam-

3. Easy going department chairman John Simpson handles all the diverse personalities on this page as well as the championship track team.

FROM DARWINISM TO DETERMINISM

- 4. North County staff member Jane Thomas worked hard to insure the success and recognition of the academic decathalon team.
- 5. After various jaunts around the world and across the country, Neil Agron chaperoned a trip to Europe in the summer of '85.
- 6. After six interruptions by yearbook staffers for pictures, Roger O'Sullivan still had the good graces to pose for one more shot.
- pose for one more shot.
  7. Steve Hirt became a repeat father in 1984. At least a dozen teachers have become new parents during the past two years.

ACTING OUT ARTISTICALLY

- 1. Chairman of the most diverse de- 3. The Drama department achieved partment on campus, Kevin Martin resurgence under the guidance tried to keep the arts and social sci- Kelly Andrews, who won Condor ences on an even keel.
  - the Month for her work with Dracul

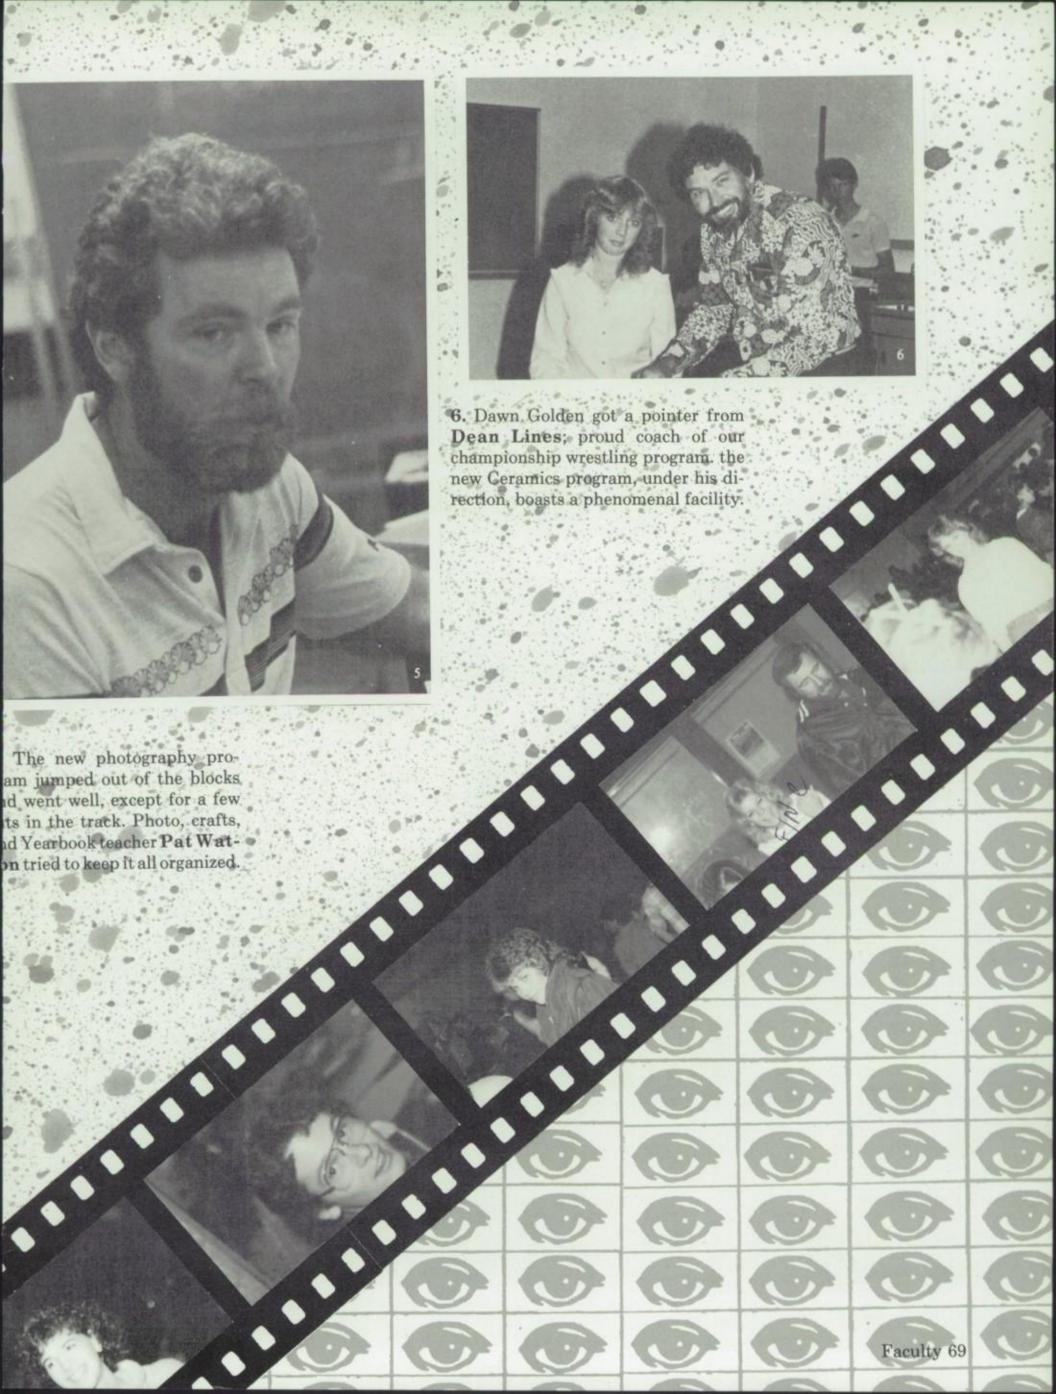

First year NC teacher Steve Maunder was another transfer from within the district. He came to us from Elkhorn School.

4. First after first got notched in the records of North County's Band; all under the direction of Jim Byker.

A LITTLE HELP FROM OUR FRIENDS

1. One of the resource specialists that help kids keep up with a full class load, Melissa Matlow worked out of a room that at one time was supposed to be a luxury restaurant for the staff.

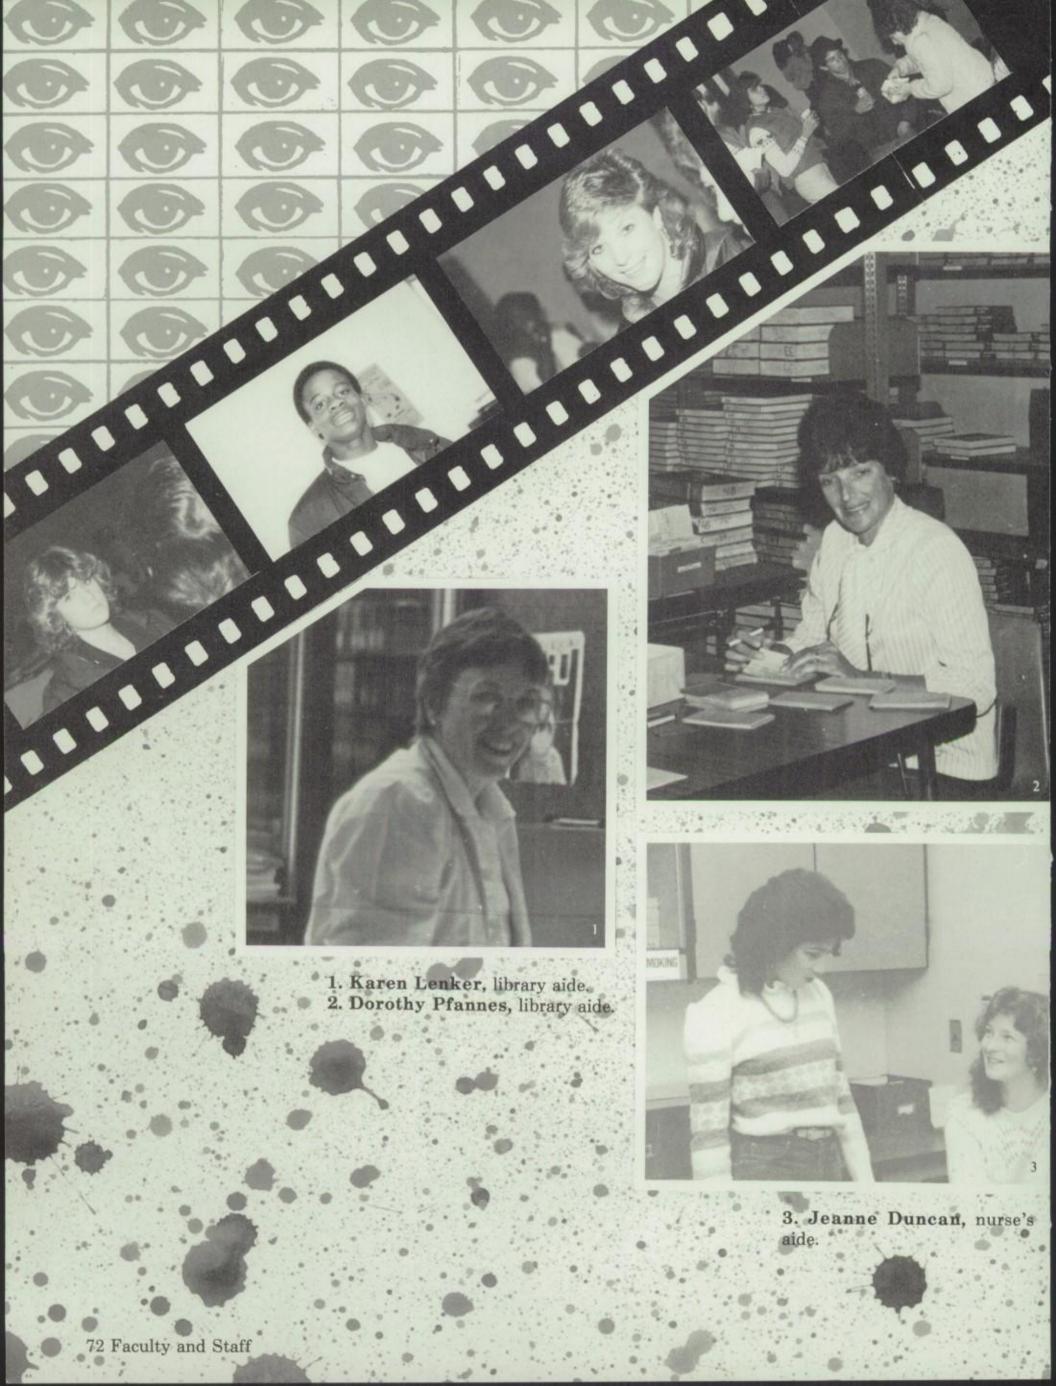

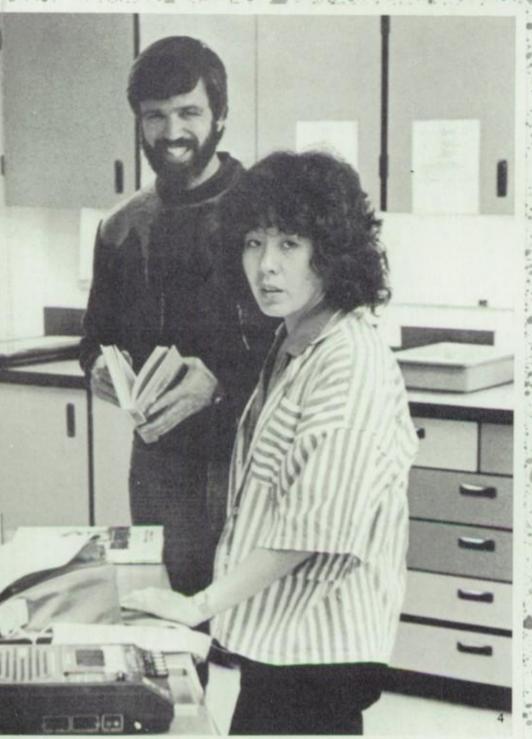

- 2. The dry wit of Stacy Baylis helped keep her students relaxed while she worked them through their lessons.
- 3. New Migrant Coordinator Liz Medina took over from Lydia Lopez, who went to work for the County Office of Education.

HELPING TEACHERS TEACH

4. The woman who has run the library so well these past few years is Shary Fukuhara. Her dedication to a top notch facility is matched by her extensive knowledge of her craft.

5. Charlene Sullivan, nurse.

Barbara Byker, Career Center aide.

7. Gloria Rojas, bilingual aide.

We Know Who's Really In Charge

taries," commented JoAnn Meza, son. "Most of what I've learned I'll be "but, Dolores Torrecillas is the able to use when I go to look for a full one I like to talk to most."

2. "I've learned a lot from Carol

1. "I get along with all the secre- Westfall," said Terry Lynn Jacktime job.

4. As Financial Secretary for the Associated Student Body, and all the clubs that are part of it, Blanche Crabbe watched over accounts totaling tens of thousands of dollars; and all with a smile, too!

6. As an aide for Marylou Alexander, Maria Salas helped get across the finer points of the English Language.

5. As secretary for Adult Education Principal Rich Castello, Vicki Villanueva coordinates schooling for those beyond high school.

7. A transfer moved Mary Paredes over to the Attendance Office, and Eloise Olsway to Mary's former job (in the Counseling Office).

LUNCH LINE TO FRONT LAWN

1. Gate Guard Sam Samples took a thankless job and has been a landmark at NC.

2. Taking a break; instruction aides: JoAnn Canady, Leslie Archer, Lana Corson, and Lois Roach.

3. Though sometimes called Inspector Gadget (for her diligent pursuit of hallway wanderers), Lorraine Lerma supervised the campus with good cheer, and kept a lot of us in class.

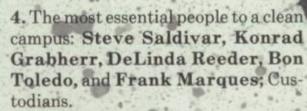

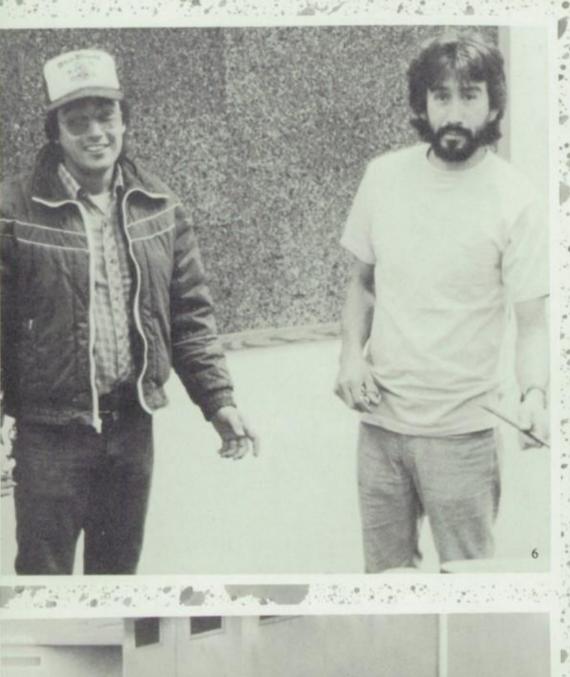

Alumnus and Head Custodian: David Milam.

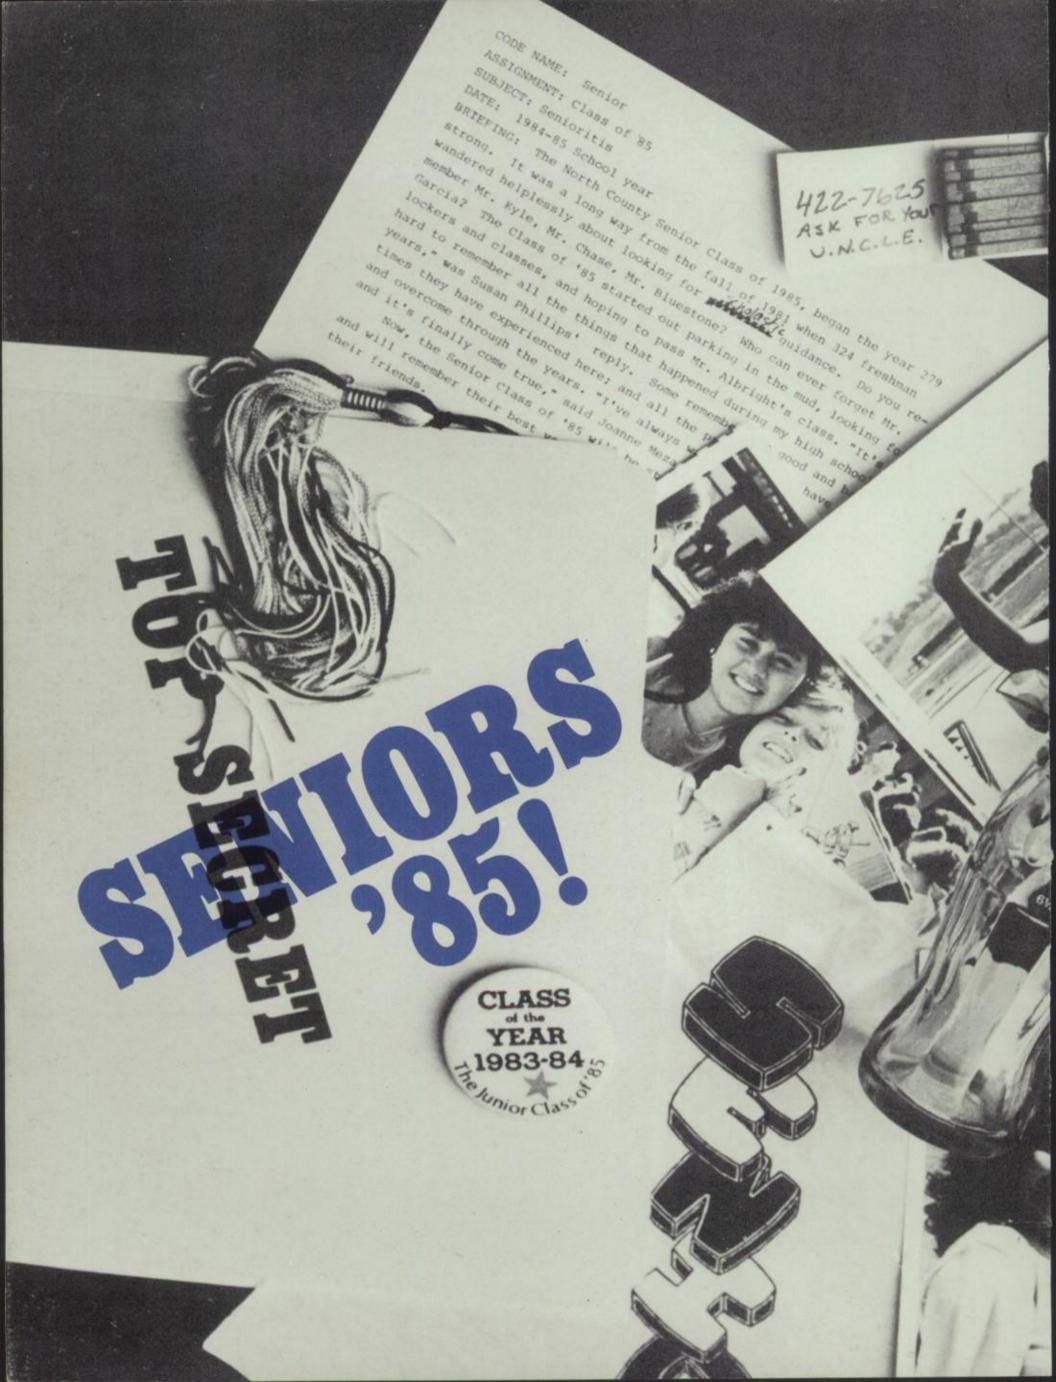

6. These two gentlemen maintained the facility, so that the least amount of breakdowns and weedy swamps befuddled us: Sam Perez and Hector Martinez

7. The Cafeteria Staff: Ila Puskavic, Sharon Jones, Solomon Ching, Betty Gillespie, Hivoro Daughtry, Cindy Brown, Sheila Roesler, Sue King.

8. Chief Condor Cook and champion money maker for the cafeteria: Betty Frolli.

Worth Manterey County High School

Seniors On Top And On The Move

We first came to North County frightened and intimidated by it's size and what it would hold for us. We knew that we were entering a time and world that would later be considered one of the richest parts of our lives.

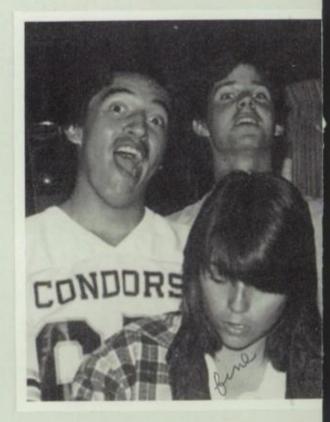

A world where we would learn to grow and share, and to love. A world that would show us and teach us to cope with the ugliness and unfairness as well as the beauty and joy of the outside world. A world that mold us into who we would eventually become.

The most important part of our high school years is belonging, knowing who we are and where we stand; cheering the football team on, striving for that goal line out of sheer will, leading the crowd in a unifying cheer, pointing to the sky and shouting, "We're number one!" in this world of our own.

Here at North County we've learned to be the best of this: The best sports teams-the best teachers-the best clubs-and of course, the best students! Seniors are the finished product of four years of hard work here at North County.

It is the end for some and a beginning for others, though we know we shall always be together in our hearts. The memories will always be with us for our time at North County High School.

Your Loving President, Victor Ramirez

Officers; Class of 1984: Angie Sullivan, Secretary; Maria Garza, Vice-President; Victor Ramire President; Kendra Pfannes, Treasurer.

 With some clowning and creativity, Alex Can pos and John Green blow off steam while Michel Martinez slaves away on the senior homecomin float.

What is your biggest turnoff?

Bryn Byker-Stuck up people who refuse to accept newcomers.

Enrique Castaneda-Teachers who lecture the whole period.

Pepe Jimenez-Kissing a girl that smokes.

Amy Hoskins-People who try to be something they are not.

Alex Campos-A good looking girl with no personality.

Maria Torculas-Guy's who think they are just to studdly.

Tracy Aboytes Martha Aguayo

Lupe Aguillon Darcie Allen

Melissa Alonzo Sandra Araguz

Amy Archer Elena Arroyo Elisa Arroyo Loida Aruiza Milagros Aruiza

Tracy Aschebrock James Ausmus Kym Aylworth Brian Bacon Lonce Bailey

Rick Balducci Jeff Banuelos Michelle Bartell Ramona Barth William Beadell

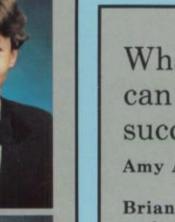

Jacqueline Beck Gary Behrens Susan Benny Dale Benson Amy Berg

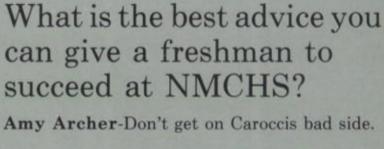

Brian Bigham Oliver Bohme

Brian Mowbray-When in trouble, hide in the trash can.

Katrin Anderson-Don't look so eager ... you've got three more years.

Clint Verwolf-Don't start smoking, and get the teachers on your side.

Phil Salacup-Don't drink the water.

Arthur Richardson-Be mellow, and do your homework.

Toni Brooks-Give the teachers a chance and work hard.

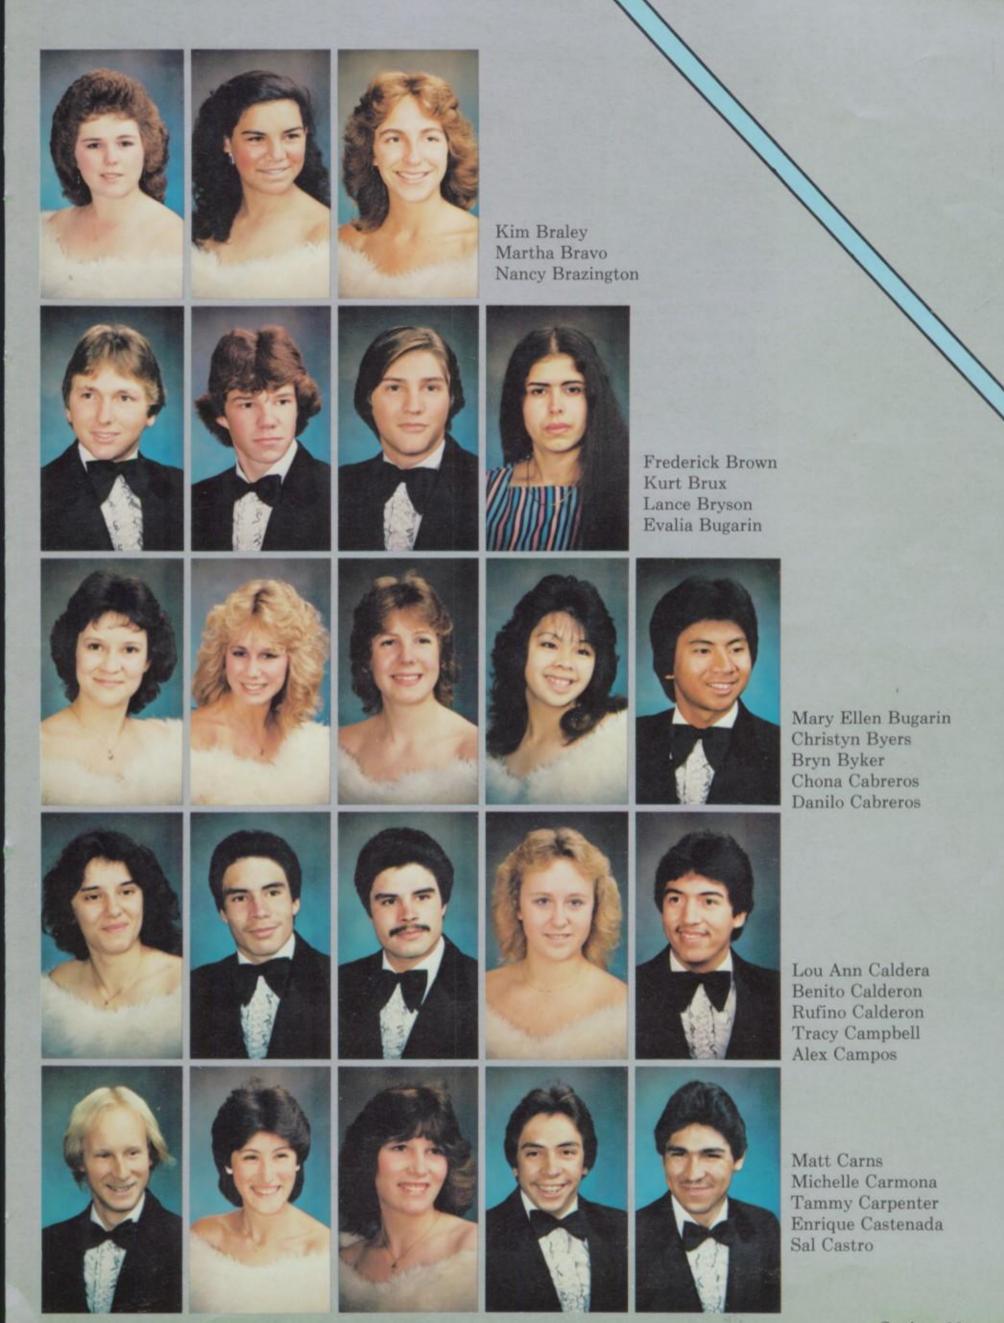

Tiffany Cooper-Participate in school activities.

Malinda Bollinger Jorge Borden

Michael Borre Brenden Bowling

Rick Elliott Robert Ellis Jesse Escobedo

Kapiolani Donovan

Rodney Creel Cathy Falanga Mike Deetz

Dean Duey

Tammi Cate Ted Ceralde Irma Cervantes Robert Church Kelly Clark

Troy Clausen Tiffany Cloud Philip Cobarruvias Kenneth Conner Chris Contreras

Tiffany Cooper Evelyn Corpuz Jennifer Corrigan Maria Sylvia Cortez Dena Covington

What is your favorite saying?

Arthur Gabudao-"Don't despise it, challenge it."

Angie Sullivan-"Like y' know, he's really the geek of the week."

Loida Aruiza-"I'll blow up that bridge when I come to it."

Jeff Nelms-"I'm really stoked."

Holly Steiber-"Go to hell world, I'm a senior!"

Mike Roeseler-"Party hardy," and my other is, "That's what she said."

Tiffany Cloud-"Oh, give me a break!"

Joey Ramirez-"Where'd you get your brains, at a blue light special?"

Louis Kyzivat-"What does it say on the inside of your ear, inflate to fifty pounds or what?"

Jacqueline Beck-"Whatever blows your hair back."

Erik Farrell

Darrell Fisher Brian Flores

Ruben Flores Mark Foxworthy

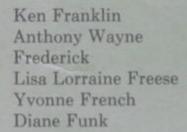

Brenda Gabbard Arthur Gabudao Maria Garcia Jose Garcia Maria Garza

Nicholas Gee David Gieblestein Gracie Gill Robin Gillingham Damon Glysson Jose Godinez Dawn Golden John Green Kenny Gregg Mary Grigsby Karen Hardy Mathew Hare Pamela Hamill Lisa Heiser Tommy Henderson

Juan Hernandez Teodosa Herrera John Hickox Bill Hija Laurie Hill

Mathew Hooton Amy Hoskins Lisa Huckabay

Darrel Hutchinson Miguel Ibarra Kerri Lynn Jackson

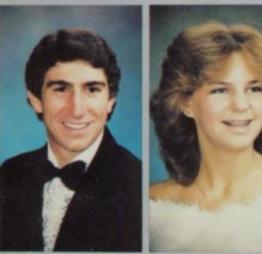

Jeff Jacobson Albert Jarschke Jose Jiminez Chris Joachim Joel Johnson

What's your favorite line for meeting a guy or girl?

Patti Reynolds-So, where have you been all my life?

Chona Cabreros-Hi! What are you doing tonight?

Eric Farrell-Haven't I seen you before?

Tracy Cambell-Hey dude! What's Up?

Dan Cabreros-Oh! Not Again!

John Lines-Hey sexy.

Greg Pratillo-Hey, let's party!

Scott Johnson-Hi, your beautiful.

Scott Johnson Tammy Johnson

Dan Kaminskis Noel Kaysinger

Steve Kellogg Paula King

What type of car best describes you and why?

Arthur Whitney-70 Mustang. Smooth, fast, normal, and ordinary.

Mary Ellen Bugarin-Mercury Cougar, cause it's luxurious like me.

Godfrey Musones-A Desoto, because it's very rare and hard to find.

Amy Berg-A Datsun Pulsar, because it can be mellow and wild at the same time.

Susan Benny-A VW Bug. Short and tubby.

Damon Glyson-Porsche 924 Turbo because it has style like me.

Tracy Aboytes-A Delorian, because it's fast and unique.

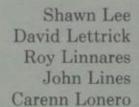

Ted Ceralde-A Ferrari because it's expensive, get's alot of attention, and hard to get.

Louis Kyzivat Charles Lampredo

Julie Klos

Kathy Kubas

Kerry Langley Delia Leal

Ted Love Antonio Lozano Lea Lucero Kara Lyman Micheal Mage

Kaj Mailo Shawn Marikas Maria Luz Marquez Michelle Martinez Oscar Martinez

Monica Martin Sarah Martin Stacy Martin Veronica Martin Shawn Mason

Bill McCreary Ruben Medina Jose Melcher Elizabeth Mendoza Margaret Mendoza

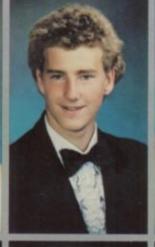

They're the few, they're the proud, their the Seniors

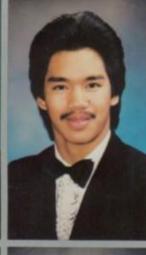

Romeo Mendoza Hilton Metzner

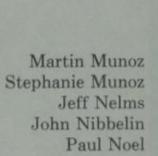

Joann Meza Fischer Moller Sally Montgomery Brian Mowbray Godfrey Musones

Roselle Ocampo

Rafeal Ojeda Tiffany Olsen

Lunch time is a time to kick back for Tom Hendersen, Scott Pere, and Mike Magee.

What is something you did someone dared because you?

Eric Brestears-Put a coaches car in the gym.

Liz Mendoza-Yelled in a class that was very quiet.

Jamie Crouse-Chugged a bottle of rum and got wasted. Yeah!

Angie Pochop-Streaked at a party in Salinas.

Evelyn Corpuz-Told a hunk his pants were ripped and they were.

Romeo Mendoza-Asked a chubby girl to dance at Penny Lane.

Kelly Clark-Ran from the basketball courts to the locker room with no shirt on.

Damien Olah Dennis Ott

Teresa Parades Jefferey Pestana

Scott Pere Kendra Pfannes Susan Phillips Sandra Pierre Melanie Pisetti

Angela Pochop Greg Pratillo Audra Price Kenneth Quisenberry David Rabe

Mike Roeseler Bertha Rubio Patrick Ruiz Jeff Russum Steve Sala

Phillip Salacup Ivan Salkin Ruthie Samudio

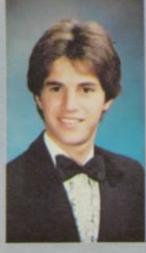

Paul Sanburn Micheal Sanchez Maribel Santua

Anney Schumacher Gary Scoggins Lena Scott Steve Searson Steven Searson

What do you plan to be doing five years from now?

Robert Nunez-I should be finishing my last year in Anopolis.

Theresa Zwarts-Probably traveling.

Marina Vargas-Have a good job.

Micheal Black-Having my own advertisement company.

Mike Borre-Not getting up at six o'clock in the morning.

John Nibbelin-I hope to be an officer in the U.S. Army.

Teresa Terango-Teaching dance in a high school.

Lisa Freeze-Living it up in Santa Cruz.

Ruben Medina-Getting out of college and having a good job.

John Seltzer Randy Senitz

Pam Shannon Andrea Silva

William Sincerbox Kevin Sitko

Ken Smith Paula Smith Jody Solano Mitch Spiers Jason Staley

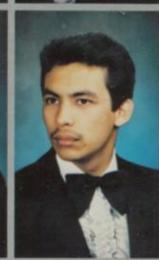

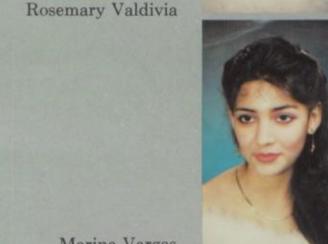

Marina Vargas Teodosa Vasquez

Always lending a helping hand, Catherine Hatch explains senior graduation requirements to Jeff Russum and John Nibbelin.

Who was your first high school crush and what happened?

Ken Smith-Garrie Wenig, still going out with her.

Mitch Spiers-Teresa Valderama; nothing happened . . . I choked.

Roselle Ocampo-Mike Schneider, we're now engaged to be married.

Ted Love-Kari, we're still together, (4 years.)

Mike Deetz-Angie Pochop, nothing we just teased each other.

Amy Young-Hilton Metzner, nothing, I was only a freshman.

Jennifer Corrigan-Wayne Martin, he asked me out three years later.

Bertha Vega Paul Venturacci

Clint Verwolf Heraclio Jr. Virgen

Robert Wagner Carrie Wenig

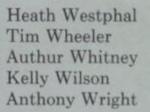

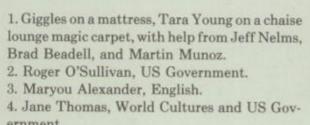

Amy Young Tara Young Marokot Yipintsol John Zamorano Theresa Zwarts

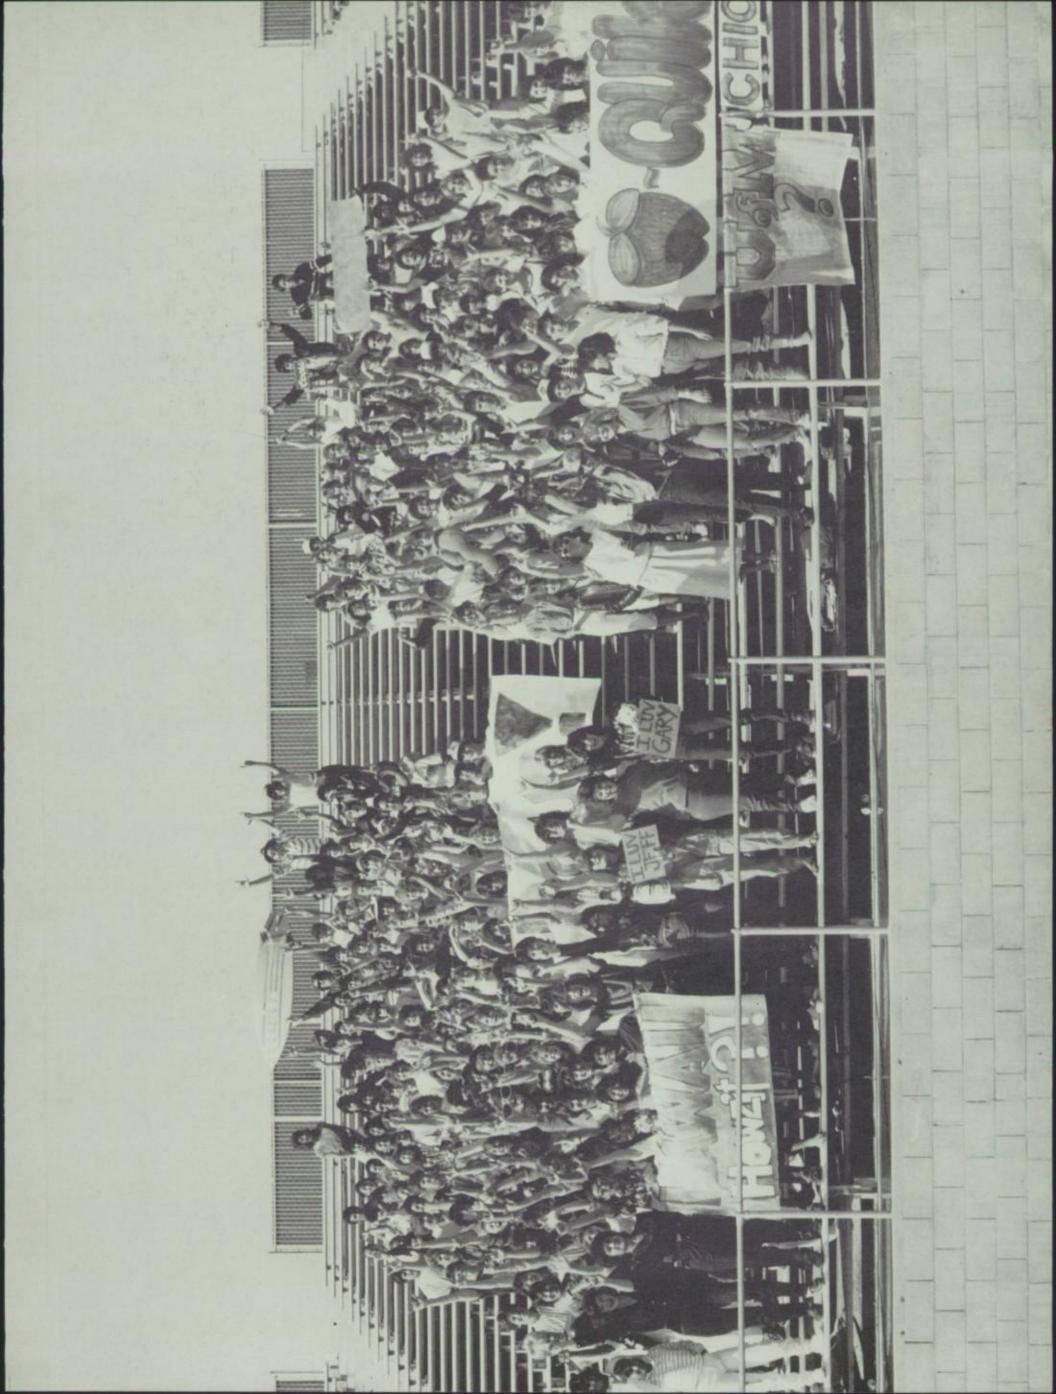

- ernment.

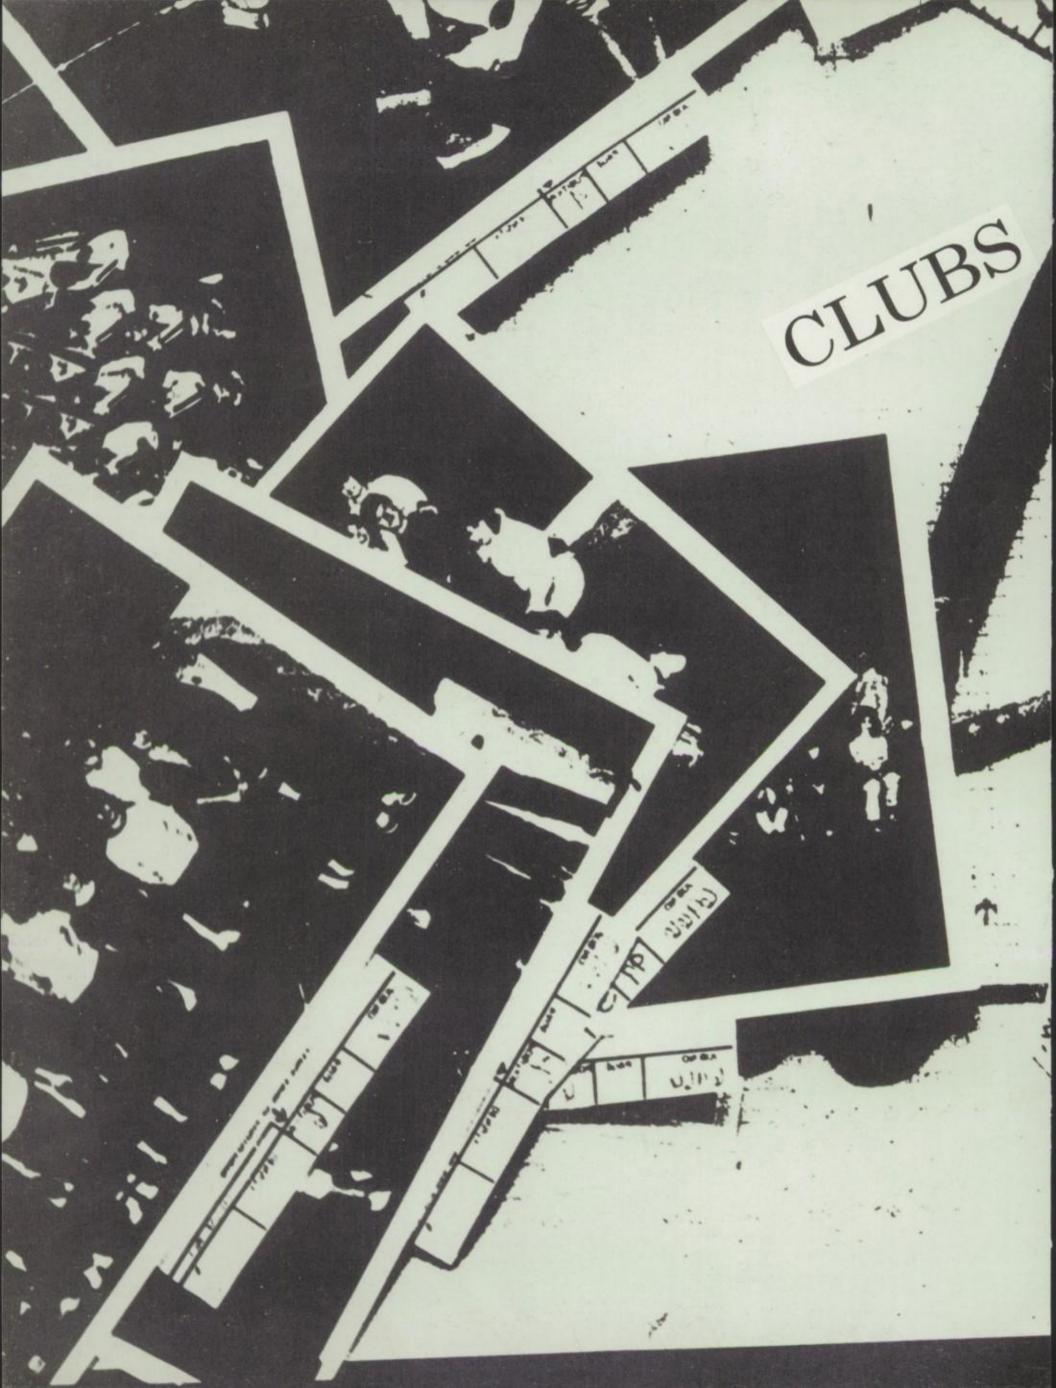

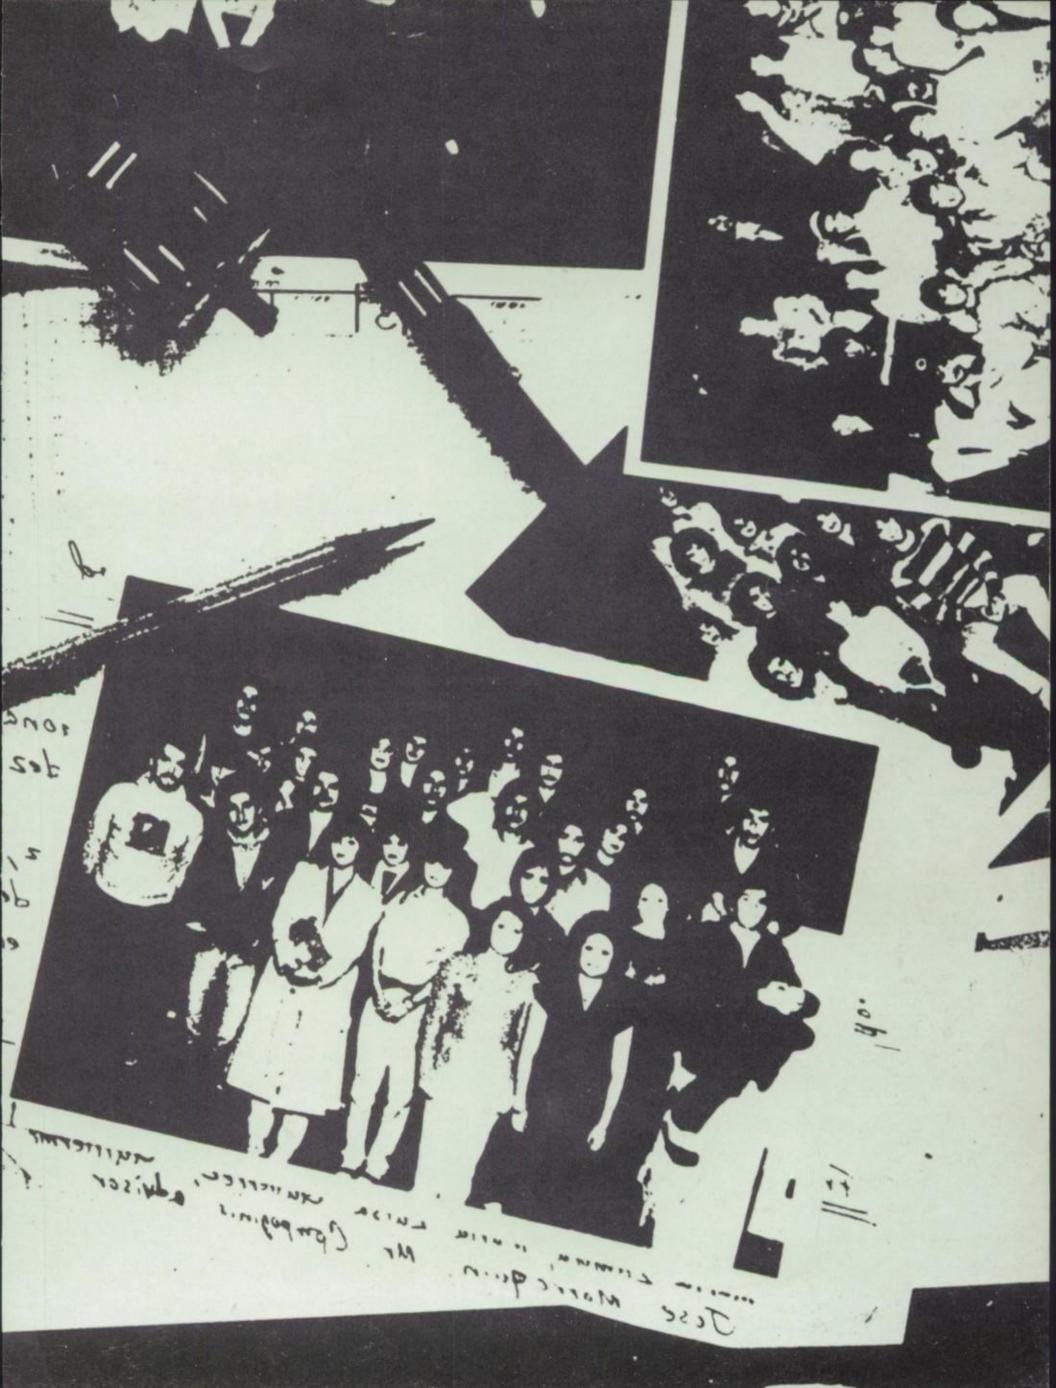

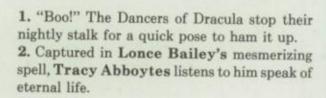

Ghostbusters were seen dancing in the night as the creepy ghouls lurched their way to their graves. Blood oozed from their decaying bodies as masses of skin hung from ears, noses, and arms. Gasps of terror arose from the audience when eerie creatures dragged themselves around tables of innocent bystanders.

All these spooky and creepy happenings began way back in September when the director, Kelly Andrews, held tryouts of dancers, singers, and cast. Practices were held after school and in her dance productions classthe first professional dance class at North County.

The leading role, Dracula, went to the funny and motivated Lonce Bailey, who portrayed an undying abundance of energy. Lead dancers, Marcus Knight, Teresa Tarango, Phillip Jackson, and Diane Funk led the freaky cast of dancers in a hypnotizing trance throughout the show. Hard work and hundreds of headaches are what made a good show, and the behind the scenes crew proved this once again.

Drac

.........

"Immeasureable Effects"

Flying high can be done without drugs or alcohol-at least it can be done for our first and finest Dance Company. The thirteen talented members became buddies fast when they found out they would lead all the dancers in the school in leaps and bounds. Dance Company's first few trying experiences were to be featured in "We're So Excited," a winter dance production, and the "Footloose Concert." To their great surprise, they actually did fly high as the applause grew louder and they perfected their abilities with their president, Becky Pringle, Vice President Teresa Tarango, secretary-Linda Hoey, and treasurer-Diane Funk, the small group performed for school's around the Monterey Bay Area and attended "Dancin' Between The Lines," a musical dance production in San Francisco. We hope Kelly Andrews and her Dance Co. keep the tradition of the beautiful art of dancing around, because the energy and inspiration you feel from dancing can not be experienced by this select group, but by anyone, with a love of dancing. We'll be "so excited" to see what their plans for the future are!

3. Drama Club: Top Row: Joy Smith, Renee Pedroza, Kim Galper, Ellice Angelucci, Tanya Pedroza. Second and Top: Mike Borre, Tiffany Poare, Doug Parks, Nikke French, Alex Campos, Terri-Lynn Jackson, Ken Smith, Carrie Wenig, Lonce Bailey, Jennifer Corrigan. Middle Row: Joy Pratillo, Marcus Knight, Leslie Parks, Drew Mason, Dawn Westphal, John Hickox, James Reynolds, Tiffany Olsen, Robbie Church, Tracy Aboytes, James Pennington, Shelly French. Bottom Row: Jennifer Church, Sharon Cabrera, Jennifer Work, Nancy Hunter, Elise Hull, and Denise Carmichael.

4. Dance Company: Back Row: Becky Pringle, Nicole Carter, Marcus Knight, Michelle Taft, Diane Funk, Phillip Jackson. Middle Row: Teresa Tarango, Jackie Funk, Jennifer Tonkin, Angela Winter. Front Row: Linda Hoey, Joy Pratillo, Karen Lee, Robbie Church-Drummer. 5. During Night Of The Condor, Dance Company gave a great performance. Here, Nicole Carter waits for instructions between numbers.

Enthusiasm and stick to it: These are the two main ingredients a person must have to be a cheerleader representing the silver and black. "Even though I was a cheerleader last year, I still had a lot to learn," comments JV Cheerleader Susan Oler.

For a lot of these girls, they already knew about the strain and sacrifice that comes from being on a spirit squad. Since they tried out again and again after already knowing the experience, it just proves that girls just wanna have fun!

"Try outs weren't as bad as I expected," says JoAnne Jancich. "Once my partner and I got out there to be judged, all the tension seemed to just vanish."

Yes, being a cheerleader is great fun, and allows you to meet a lot of new people, but just remember, a lot of time, hard work, and extra practices go into all of these girls lives.

Cheers

To An "Unforgettable Year"

 Waiting in anticipation; JV Cheerleader, Jennifer Dawson, watches the Condors defeat Watsonville.

2. The 1984-85 Varsity Spiritleaders, (top to bottom) Kelly Clark, Diane Funk, Tami Johnson, JoAnne Jancich, Bonnie Brady, Nicole Carter, Tracey Lee, Lori Ferreira, Gina Rondez, Mascot: Angie Pochop, Michelle Martinez, Amy Archer, and Kapio Donovan.

3. The 1984-85 Junior Varsity Cheerleaders (top to bottom) Joy Pratillo, Tami Coelho, Jennifer Dawson, Susan Oler, Jennifer Tonkin, and Yvonne Butler.

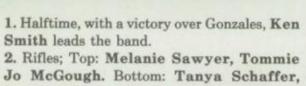

4. Glamorous Kelly Clark showed us some unorthodox moves.

5. At the 1984 Homecoming, the Varsity cheerleaders hold the banner that describes their bubbly attitudes: up, up, and away!

ON THE MARCH

Sandy Johnson, Joanna Gee.

3. Majorettes; Lyneth Castleberry and Karen Lee.

4. Band Members; Top: Cathy Falanga, Bryna Byker, Jeff Jacobsen, Lonce Bailey, Roy Butler, Ken Smith, David Beebe, Michael Hooton, Allan Trammel, Sandee Nall. 2nd: Denise Charmichael, Carrie Wenig, Melissa Grimsley, Dawn Westphal, David Searson, Matt Brady, Art Whitney, Ron Welts, Ann Buvia, Sally Montgomery, Robbie Cook, Letica Rocha. 3rd: Cindy Gailey, Jennifer Bridler, Joyce Olivas, Tiffany Oksen, Tini Martinez, Theresa Russel, Delia Leal, Michelle Taft, Phyllis Small, Carrie Luch, Angie Pochop, Tina Cook. 4th: David Rabe, Denise Padin, Andi Venturacci, Tina Garza, John Ervin, Charles Rentar, Jenny Church, Darlene Rhine, Tonya Westphal, Karen Lee, Lyneth Castleberry. 5th: Marcus Knight, Mike Borre, David Hardy, Curtis Brister, Sam Monroe, John Hickox, Robbie Church, Eric Kohman, Tina Baldwin, Tony Lopez. Bottom: Joanna Gee, Michelle Sawyer, Tracy Holley, TJ McGough, Tanya Shaffer, Darlene Kelsey, Mary Dunkelberger.

5. Flags; Top: Chandra Ash, Cindy Gailey, Denise Charmichael, Leticia Rocha, Jennifer Bridler. Bottom: Cathy Falanga, Sandee Nall.
6. Award winners all: The NC band at Homecoming. They had to duck when they went by the cannons.

Do you play an instrument? March in parades? Have crazy times on buses? If you've answered no to any of these questions then you've missed out on the most electrifying year in the history of North County's Band and Pagentry.

The band and pagentry started out slow and has progressed steadily in every parade and competition they've entered, says band director, Mr. James Byker. The band has repeatedly taken first place ratings in parades they've entered. The biggest thrill for Mr. Byker and the band was receiving first place in the Pacific Grove Review. It was the first every first place in a major band competition for North County's band.

The key to this year's success states Mr. Byker, was hard work, dedication, and a committment to excellence. With hours of practice after school and on weekends, this key has opened the doors to superior ratings and first place awards.

Come Wallow With Me

1. As president of FFA, Mike Roeseler explains some important information to member Gary Scoggins.

2. FFA member, Jeff Banuelos looks through an FFA magazine before class starts.
3. 1984-85 FFA; Top: Matt Hooten, Wes Ausmus, Darci Allen, Bev Stackhouse, Greg Pratillo, Patty Reynolds. Middle: Tanda Zabo, Dennis Ott, Kelly Clark, Scott Pere, Kerry Langley, Mide Duncan, Dawn Reeder, Scott Johnson, Kim Braley. Front: Robert Ellis, Joel Johnson, Steve Alvarez, Jeff Russum, Mike Roeseler, Jeff Banuelos, Steve Stapleton.

 Staff photog Gary Castronova catches Gary Scoggins with a gripe in his mouth.
 Notorious Poet Hank Jones caught in midstanza.

7. George Wright, Elyse Deckert, Jesse Ortega, Hank Jones, Marchelle Graves, Brian Mowbray, Tina Bates, Gary Castronova, Tony Wright.

"If you enjoy sharing your opinions ... newspaper is opinions ... newspaper is definitely the class to ger into!" Marchelle Graves wrote us a nice little piece about the paper, but we needed to focus on the newsworthy events of the year.

The Talon was nearly extinct after last year. New Advisor George Wright brought a new concept, new energy, and a new staff. The first change was to make the Talon a weekly. The small budget was augmented by sponsors from the community to help solve the money problems. The staff wanted to make the paper more controversial — and they succeeded. The letter from the girl who thought she should have been nominated at Homecoming caused quite a stir. Then, there was the back and forth exchange about what girls expect and so forth and so on. Jabber Jaws always had amazing letters and the comments-were those for real?

The controversy got heated when the paper got feedback about the negative comments regarding Open House. After that calmed down, there was another financial crisis, then a staff crisis. After that, of course, there was a crisis about which crisis was the most critical.

We're Gonna Talon You

South Of The Border

"Club Amistad serves as a forum to meet the needs of migrant and Spanish speaking students on North County's campus." says Club Advisor, Liz Modena. Led by officers, Maria Rocha, Mary Ellen Bugarin, Gloria Macias, Rafael Martinez, with the help of advisors Liz Modena and Louis Compoginis the club organizes field trips to explore career and educational opportunities that promote cultural awareness. Aside from taking field trips, the club meets at least twice a month to discuss fund raisers, such as the Cinco De Mayo Dance, to provide scholarships for deserving seniors in the club.

1. Club Amistad; Top: Jaime Alonzo, Silvia Cortez, Juan Hernandez, Miguel Romero, Leticia Zamora, Norma Gaona, Rosa Vega, Christina Torres, Alberto Valdez. 2nd: Antonio Lozano, Bertha Vega, Leo Cortez, Rafael Ojeda, Daniel Macias, Rufino Calderon, Gloria Arias, Martha Moreno, Margarita Romero. Bottom: Jose Martinez, Mary Ellen Bugarin, Lupe Rocha, Rafael Martinez, Gloria Macias, Maria Zamora, Maria Luisa Guroquin, Mr. Compoginis.

2. After a club meeting with Mr. Compoginis, Antonio Loyano and Alberto Vladez make their way to the forum.

tierrez, Guillermina Valdez, Jose Mar-

3. In the greenhouse, Berta Carlos, Aide Camacho, and Margarita Romero relax and chow down at lunch.

Across The Sea

4. The 5th column of the French Club: The famous Croissants.

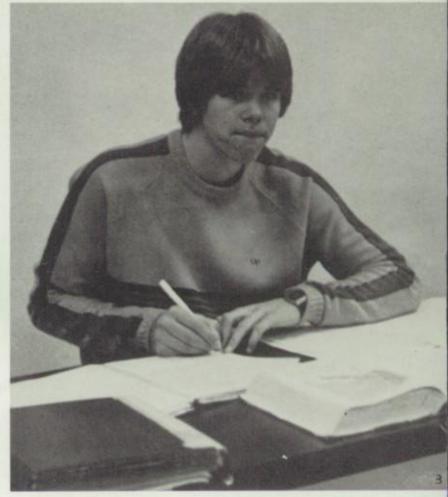

5. French Club; Top: James Reynolds, Samantha McLoughlin, Roger Riley, John Preinitz, Melissa Grimsley, Dana Ferreira, Michelle Taft, Jenny Church, Hilton Metzner, Dolores Lopez, Sharon Babrera, Kris Smith, Paul Chiguina, Paul Torrecillas, John Carmona, Konrad Hammerschmidt, Armando Vargas. 2nd: Oliver Bohme, Audrey Chung, Cindy Clark, Kara Lyman, Wade Korzan, Heath Westphal, Theresa Zwarts, Ken Smith, Amy Dunkelberger, Wendy Faircloth, Stacey Pullen, Mary Dunkelberger, Kandi Neskitt, Susan Emery, Marlo Moura, Allen Trammell. 3rd: Drew Mason, Doug Parks, Mike Borre, Robert Heater, Jeremiah Childs, Cindy Young, Melinda Banta, Jackie Tranquch, Rachelle Doman, Jenny Williams, Cindy Gailey, Rosa Canaday, Pat Garthner, Eliot Smithson. Bottom: Mme. High, Allyson Mowbray, Ramona Barth, Jennifer Corrigan, Tara Young, Lonce Bailey. 6. In the attendance office, French club member, Jennifer Corrigan waits for her pass.

1. Varsity; Top: Sergio Parra, Bill Dunston, Jim Pullen, Julio Quintero, Glen Kaminskis, Jeff Nelms, Bill McCreary, Andy Wilcox. 2nd: Dan Swain, Arthur Gabudao, Brian Flores, Lonce Bailey, Roger O'Sullivan, 3rd: Steve Olvera, Ron Candiloro, Mitch Speirs, Romeo Mendoza, Nicole Carter, Mona Carnero, Tina Autry. Bottom: Sonny Stupek, Kathleen Walker, Cathy Crume, Tara Young, Angie Kryziak, Traci Williams, Kris Turner, Teresa Tarango, Joey Ramirez.

CSF Club 1984-85.
 CSF officer, Paul Noel can't handle photography so he cracks the books instead.

Men And Women

Of Letters

~ 1. O.TT

Speaking Of Homemaking

4. FHA-HERO; Top: Amy Berg, Tammy Carpenter, Jane Souza, Carrie Bambauer, Sabrina Rodriguez. Bottom: Rochelle Doman, Jennifer Lenker.

5. Forensics; Rop: Mike Borre, Doug Parks, Brian Bigham, Marcus Knight, Lonce Bailey. Bottom: Audry Chung, Theresa Favela, Jennifer Corrigan, Denise Padin, Tanya Pedroza, Becky Pringle.

On The Slopes

"Hey, I know where the beef is; but my question is, Where's the snow?" asks Shawn Mason, Ski Club President. Forever contemplating new ski locations and the best possible weather conditions, the North County Ski Club scanned condition reports and devised plans to carry the club's skiers, advisors, skis, baggage, and assorted junk food up to the slopes.

"I'm really excited about Kirk-wood," said junior, Kris Turner. But as fate and landslides allowed, the skiers first trip ended up at Iron Mountain. "It was fun, but I needed more challenge, explained advanced skier Jenny Williams. The season's plans included trips to North Shore Tahoe and areas of Squaw and Alpine Meadows for the Easter trip. Advisor Mrs. Clark looked forward to "possibly a day-trip to Bear, and maybe a visit to Sierra Ski Ranch too."

Clad in assorted blue jeans, tight racing pants, baggy leggings, and camouflage, the club members braved sleepless rides, exasperating lift lines, "nippy" lift rides, crowded restaurants, even more crowded rest rooms, and worst of all, "beginning skiers" to have some "raging times" on the slopes, as Paul Sanburn expressed his view of the year's ski season with North County's Ski Club.

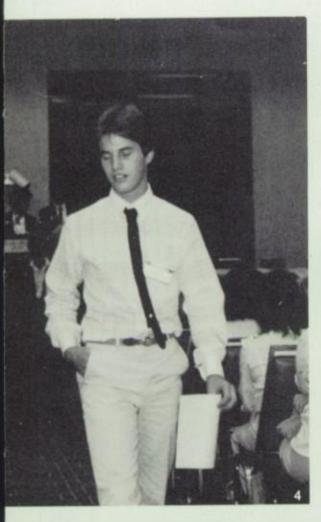

1. Getting a lift at Iron Mountain; Paul Derney and Billy Gilfillan.

2. First outing of the year to Iron Mountain (Kirkwood was closed by avalanche).

3. Ski Club '84-'85: Top: John Hickcox, Robert Kelly, Paul Derney, Adrian Urquidez, Greg Alex. 2nd row: Jan Fischer-Moller, Glenn Kaminskis, Mrs. Clark, Mary Lee Hanna, Heather O'Donnell, Billy Gilfillan, Oliver Boehme, Nikki Pugmire. 3rd row: Tracy Williams, Mrs. Stuart, Cindy Young, Brigid McGinn, Jessica Alonso. Bottom: Laura Whitmire, Mindy Banta, Kris Turner, Lisa Onomoto

In

4. During a central California FBLA conference, President Steven Searson received an award.

5. These FBLA officers are obviously the main attraction at Blackbeard's.

6. FBLA '84-'85: Top: Wendy Faircloth, Irma Guzman, Michelle Melveso, Kristy Gayman, Sandra Araguze, Maria Garcia, Tara Young, Hilton Metzner, Maria Torcules, Tanya Schaffer, Angie Sullivan, Morakot Yipintsoi, Oliver Boehme, Ray Okomoto, Wade Korzan. 2nd row: Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Thomas, Jennifer Lenker, Tami Deaver, Lisa Fowler, Sally Montgomery, Killer Wilson, Jeff Russum, John Nibbelin, Brian Mowbry, Mike Borre, James Dickinson, Peter Moore, Jan Fischer-Moller. 3rd row: Joy Pratillo, Denise Carmichael, Teresa Tarango, Trankie Tiscerano, Angie Kryziak, Julie Klos, David Searson, Sandee Nall, Joanne Gee, Kim Ames, Eva Moore, Tami Lee, Yvonne Butler. Bottom: Bonnie, Treasurer; Margret Mendoza, Secretary; Valerie Villanueva, Vice-President; Steve Searson, President; Brenda Terherst, Parliamentarian.

Business

TOUGH DECISIONS

- Over Dan Kaminskis' shoulder, ASB Director Ron Severson wonders about a point of order.
- 2. To look innocent and to be sincere is what it takes to become a true blue ASB member.
- 3. "Gimme a minute, and I'll think of something" says senior President Maria Garza, in slight amazement.
- 4. Intent on a crucial issue; James Reynolds caught in thought.
- A few laughs never hurt anybody, especially Kelly Wilson, and Tage Wolters.

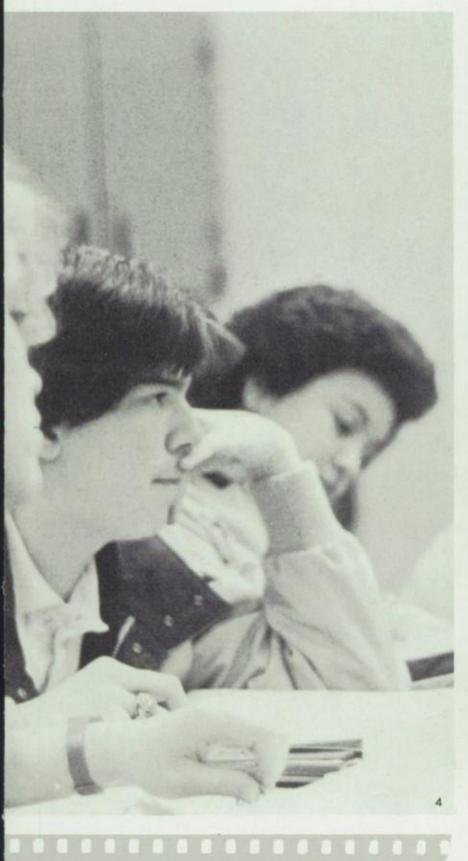

If you could ask an ASB member nat question they hate the most, eir reply would most definitely be what does ASB stand for?" Well, for ose people who don't know, it means Associated Student Body. This title refers to all of the hardworking reliable individuals that give of themselves for student and school benefit.

The top job in ASB is definitely

President. In the '85 elections students voted Tage Wolters to fulfill this title. Good luck ASB, you'll need it.

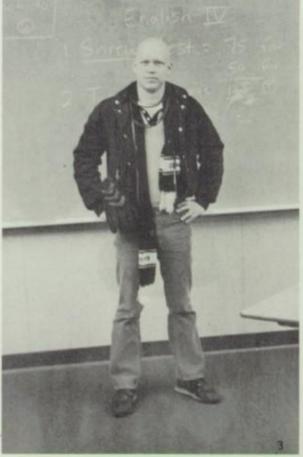

1984 ASB: Top: Maria Kocha, Maria Garza, Kapio Donovan, Lisa Huckabay, Morakot Yipintoi. Second Row: Becky Jimenez, Tara Young, Roselle Ocampo, Mary Lee Hanna. Third Row: Maria Torculas, Tuve Nyland, James Reynolds, Trankie Tiscuerano, Hilton Metzner, Kelly Wilson, Tage Wolters, Jennifer Corrigan. Bottom Row: Steven Searson, Jan Fisher, Oliver Bohme, Lonce Bailey, Ken Smith, Dan Kaminshis.

84 ASB

Lotsa

1. Apes; Top: Rosendo Perez, Christine Simpson, Kim Kotolup, Ishmael Sonico, Steve Byrd, Scott Kindred, Dawn Westphal, David Beebe, Wendy Faircloth, Jeff Jacobson, Dan Kaminskis, Steve Searson, Jeremiah Childs. 3rd Row; Mary Ellen Bugerine, Rob O'Brian, Ken Hunter, Chris Turner, Tracey Williams, Lori Ferrera, Jodie Richards, Denise Padine, Mary Foxworthy. 2nd Row; Sophia Lopez, Wade Korzan, Cindy Young, Billy Gilfillan, Theresa Russell, Michelle Love, Michele Swain, Doris Estiban, Desiree Cabrera, Jennifer Linker, Mr. O'Leary. Front Row; Lori Brooks, Katrin Anderson, Kendra Pfannes, Paul Noel, Mary Grigsby, Paula King.

2. Academic Decathalon; Top; Jane Thomas, James Reynolds, Heath Westphal, Arthur Whitney, Mr. Carroll. Bottom; Jody Solano, Steve Searson, Kelly Wilson, John Nibbelin. 3. The Academic Decathalon season never stressed Art Whitney.

4. AFS; Top: Tage Wolters, Ingrid Fenkl, James Pennington, Jenni Ward, Steve Searson. 2nd: Normita Reyes, Angie Escoto, Kim Kotolup, Lulu Fichter, Jody Richards, Lorri Brooks, David Beebe, Theresa Russell, John Nibblin. 3rd: Shary Fukuhara, Kirsten Loveless, Desiree Cabrera, Irma Guzman, Sharon Cabrera, Mary Hanna, Cindy Young, Michelle Love. 4th; Tove Nylund, Marakot Yipintsio, Doris Esteban, Wade Korzan, OliverBohme, Jan Fischer-Moller.

Scholars

5. Foreign Travel; Top: Tara Larson, Drew Mason, Heidi Martin, James Pennington, Erika Culp, Paul Torracillas, Keith Tienken. Bottom: Jennifer Ward, Mr. Agron, Michelle Taft, Ingrid Fenkl, Sonia Morino.

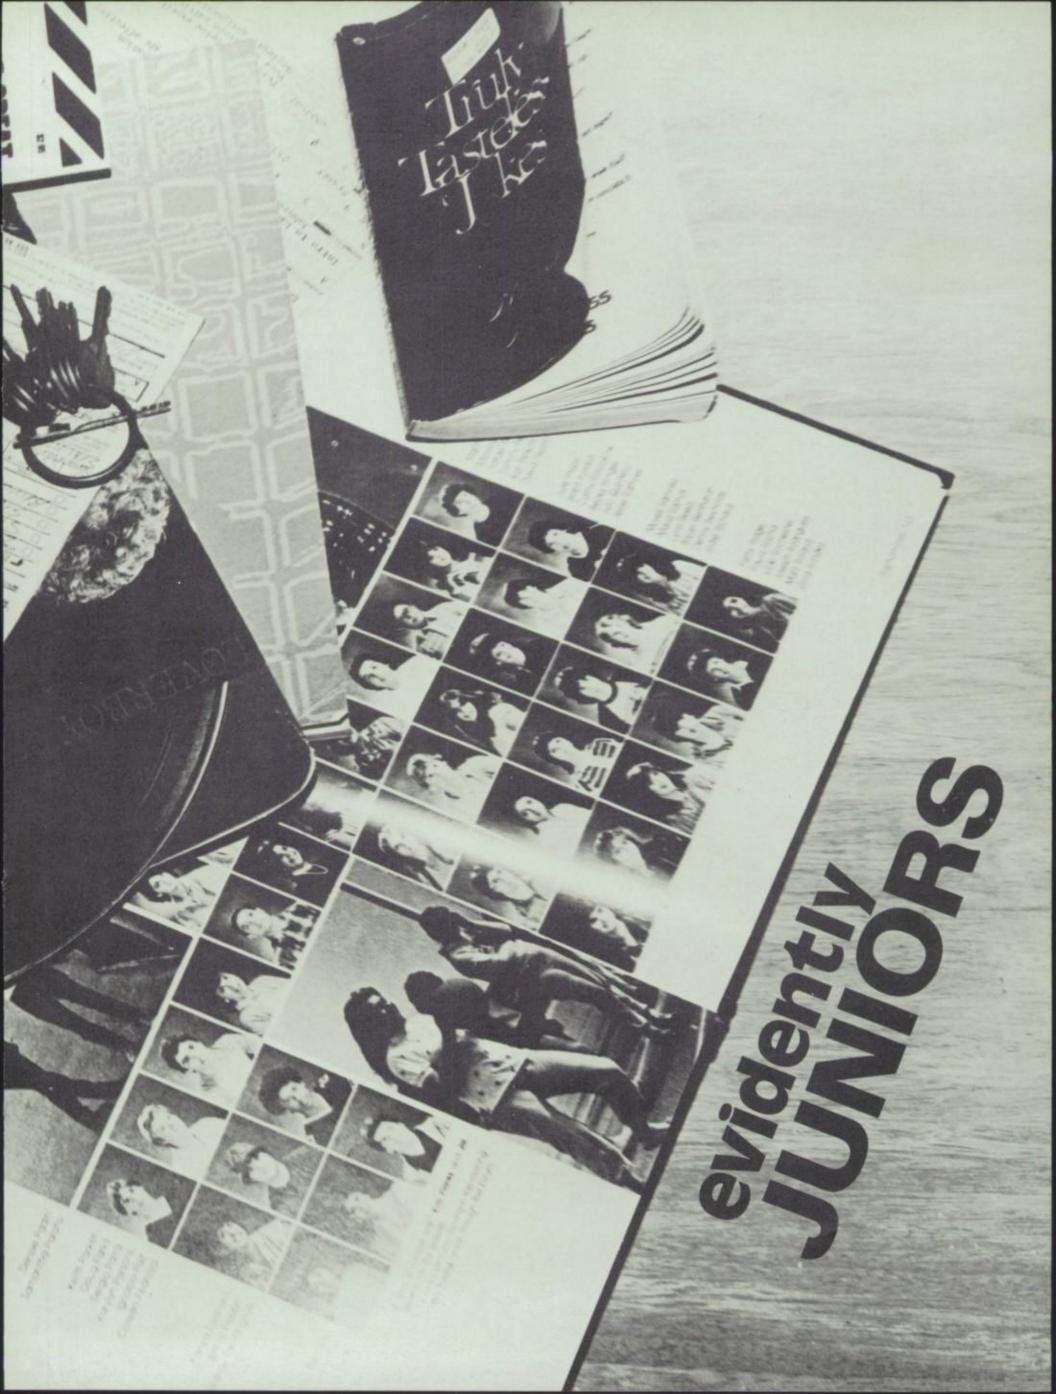

6. MACH; Top Gary Scoggins, Alex Kellog, William Hendricks, Darrin Jones, Ron Wilkghem, Fred Smith, David Wall, Moses Ramirez, Brian Mowbray, Mike Borre, James Hardwick, Mike Rophone, Mr. Goodspeed.

Some Travellers, Too.

***************

1. There's something moving in there. Alfonzo Cruz, Mark Moton and Mike Wallace try to get a roll of film into a steel reel in a small black bag.

2. When you have to chug the last lug, it has to

BEATING THE BEST

Giggles, glubs, slurps, and slips were all essential ingredients to class competitions. Pushing a beach ball, screaming your lungs out, or poking a lump of kleenex through chicken wire is where it was at to make your class the best.

Ask any eyewitness to last year's class competition and you'll hear the saga of strain, pain, and self-sacrifice. "It was a lot of fun, but sometimes I got really bummed by people who didn't show up to help work on the float," remarked Lori Ferreira. The juniors almost had a heart attack when the judges picked their float as a less then first place finish. "It was the best!" said Brenda Terherst.

Senioritis traditionally grips the graduating class, but this year, was different. The class of 86 had it's work cut out for them from the begining. "I thought we were gonna take it from the start," said junior Spiritleader Joanne Jancich. But, with the past competitions, the classes seemed to forget the reward at the end of the year. This year was different. The juniors traditionally take the comps in a breeze, but this year they were in a neck and neck race for the free picnic in the park at the end of the year.

"The seniors might as well give up."

"If we can get everyone together to each competition, the seniors might as well give up now." The end of the year told the tale as to who was the best.

5. Amber Mclarney and Mark Therezo take a dip into a banana split during class competition.

6. It's easy to ride, just hop on says Steve Byrd, Brian Ensley, and Jerome Pennington to Joanne Jancich.

Plans Are Made

As President of the Junior Class, Lori Ferreira has nothing but praise for her fellow officers. "We never argue, even if we have different opinions" says Lori. She seems really glad that the class of '86 has such coperative people working together this year.

Tage Wolters, the Vice President who is also in ASB, has his hands full with everything that involves anything around this campus. "I have plenty of things to do with my spare time," says Tage, "but with being Vice President, being in ASB, and something that's known as homework, I don't have much of it!"

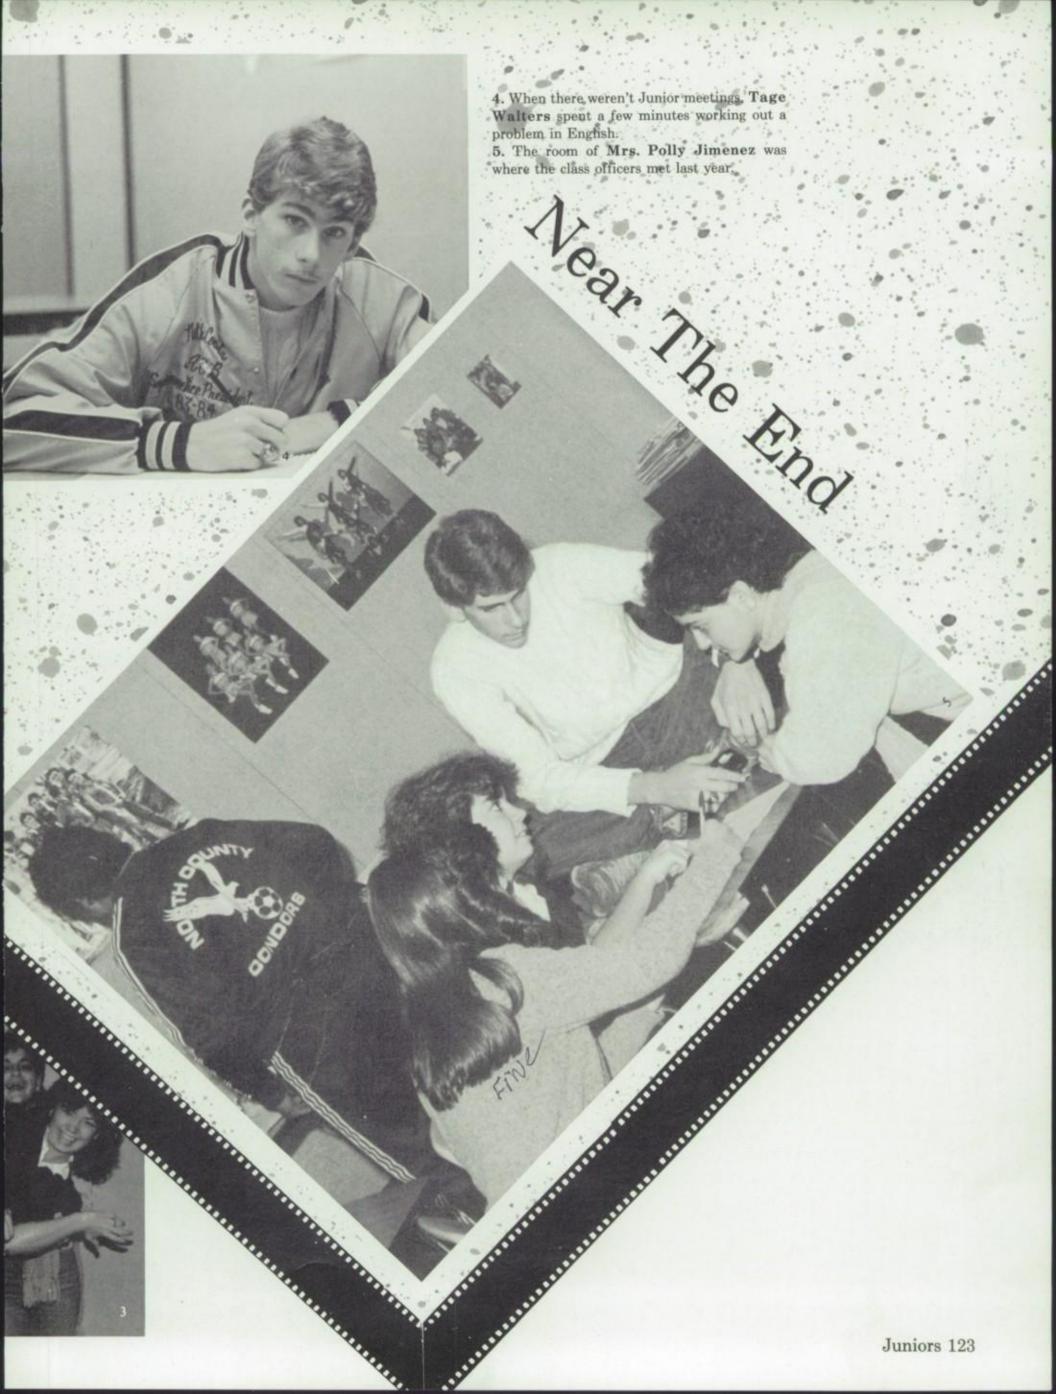

"Being a class officer isn't as glamorous as is seems to be," says Jodi Richards. "Even though we put in long hours, it's worth it; when things work out."

- 1. December mornings blew cold through the hallways; Greg Medley, Rob O'Brien, and Scott Kelly on the way to second period Electronics.
- 2. At a lunch time meeting of class officers, Lori Ferreira checks out a class competition schedule.
- 3. By the third take, the officers had this pose mastered; Jodie Richards, Secretary; Tage Walters, Vice-President; Denise Padin, Treasurer; Lori Ferreira, President.

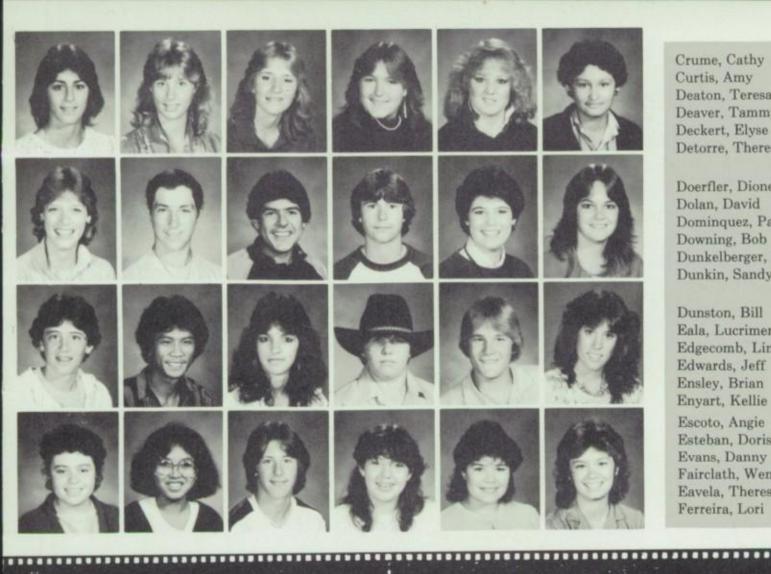

Aguilar, Leticia Aguilar, Tony Aguillon, Henry Aguillon, Sylvia Almanza, Gema Alonzo, Robert Alvarez, Steve Ames, Kim Arias, Gloria Armbrister, Curtis Aylworth, Brian Bales, Robert Beaumont, Barbara Beaver, Aaron Bender, Jill Benson, Scott Bishop, Robert Blankenbecler, Kirsten Borrero, Frankie Bouder, Tim Bowers, Sheila Brown, Sherry Bruhn, William Bugarin, Marie Bullock, Brian Burl, Sabrina ...... Butler, Roy Byrd, Steve Cabrera, Desiree Cabveros, Liberty Cabutage, Sam Cadle, Linda Cain, Ed Cain, June Calderon, Art Calderon, Lupe Campos, Ricardo Carter, Nicole Castellanos, Alma Castillo, Thelma Castrejon, Arturo

Chambers, Mike Childs, Jeremiah Ching, Solomon Choi, Hajun Crow, Jason

.....

Crume, Cathy Curtis, Amy Deaton, Teresa Deaver, Tammy Deckert, Elyse Detorre, Theresa

Doerfler, Dionetta Dolan, David Dominquez, Pasqual Downing, Bob Dunkelberger, Amy Dunkin, Sandy

Dunston, Bill Eala, Lucrimer Edgecomb, Linda Edwards, Jeff Ensley, Brian Enyart, Kellie Escoto, Angie Esteban, Doris Evans, Danny Fairclath, Wendy Eavela, Theresa Ferreira, Lori

High Spirits!

As freshmen, the class of '86 was a strong rival for the seniors. Their comraderie far outshone the other classes. As sophomores, and now, juniors, the eighty sixers continue their struggle to dominate the rallies with school spirit and enthusiasm. Eager to be involved, it's not hard to find a junior to stand up and lead their class in a cheer. The friendly rivalry between the classes opens the shyest mouth to shout cheers louder than the competitors. Aside from the class competitions, the juniors dismaying depiction of the opposing teams during the Homecoming rally was the comic relief for all weary float builders. With the support of the '86 cheerleaders, the juniors are audible at any North County pep rally. Next year, the underclasses will have to be tough competitors to dethrone this class.

Banding Together

Music affects the lives of all of us. There isn't a member of the campus who doesn't have a tune in their head at some time during the day. Most of us only fantasized about being lead singer for some heavy metal manaics, or rappin' through some good riffs.

Dedication to music is what Weldon Rooney epitomized. He played instuments for years before enrolling at NC. Piano, guitar, and trumpet, marked time in his day. "Trumpet is what I'm best at." His family always approved of his interest in music, but grades always came first. "When my grades aren't good enough, my parents threaten to take away my horn, and then my grades come right up."

Mr. Byker, helped Weldon with music theory, an important aspect of tunes that has escaped most of us. He hangs out in the band room during lunch. "Band Fags?" Mr. Byker said: "Patently offensive. Kids have used the term and don't know the band students... a put down coming from ignorance, just like any form of bigotry."

Weldon's attitude was a bit more laid back. "It doesn't bother me. I choose music, and I enjoy it. If others don't accept that, then they don't mean anything to me."

"Give music a chance. You may benefit from it."

Hurd, Tom Hurley, Richard Ingram, Les Jackson, Kathy Jancich, Joanne

Jenkins, Everett Jimenez, Tina Johnson, Craig Johnson, Pam Johnson, Sandy

Jones, Sheryl Jones, Tim Juarez, Rick Kaminskis, Glenn Kealoha, Lionel

Kellogg, Scott Kelsey, Darlene Kindred, Scott Korzan, Wade Kosobud, Becky

Kotolup, Kim Lee, Tammy Lee, Tracey Lenker, Jennifer Lettrick, Cathy Lococo, Heather

Lopez, Perry Lopez, Raymond Love, Michelle Loveless, Kersten Mabalot, Isabel Macias, Gloria

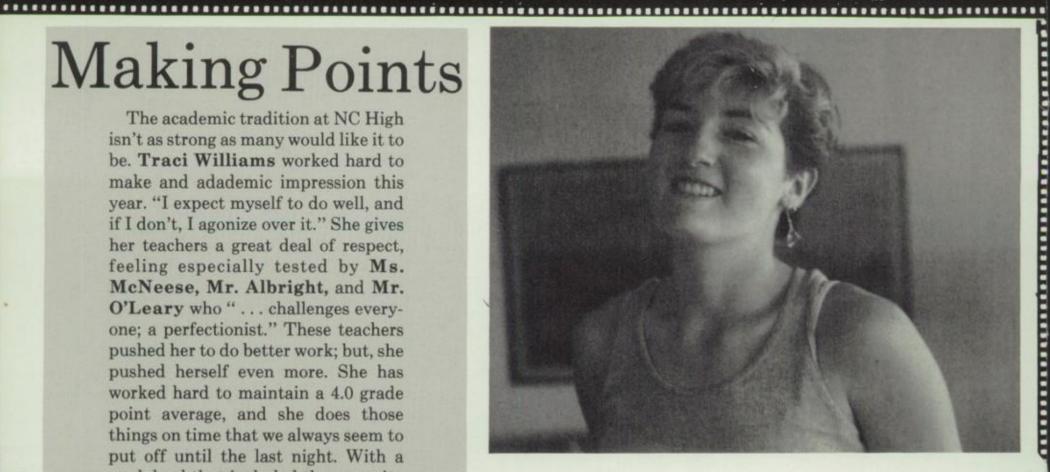

Mahon, Tabitha Mahoney, David Marques, Maria Martinez, Jose Martinez, Robert Martinez, Yvonne

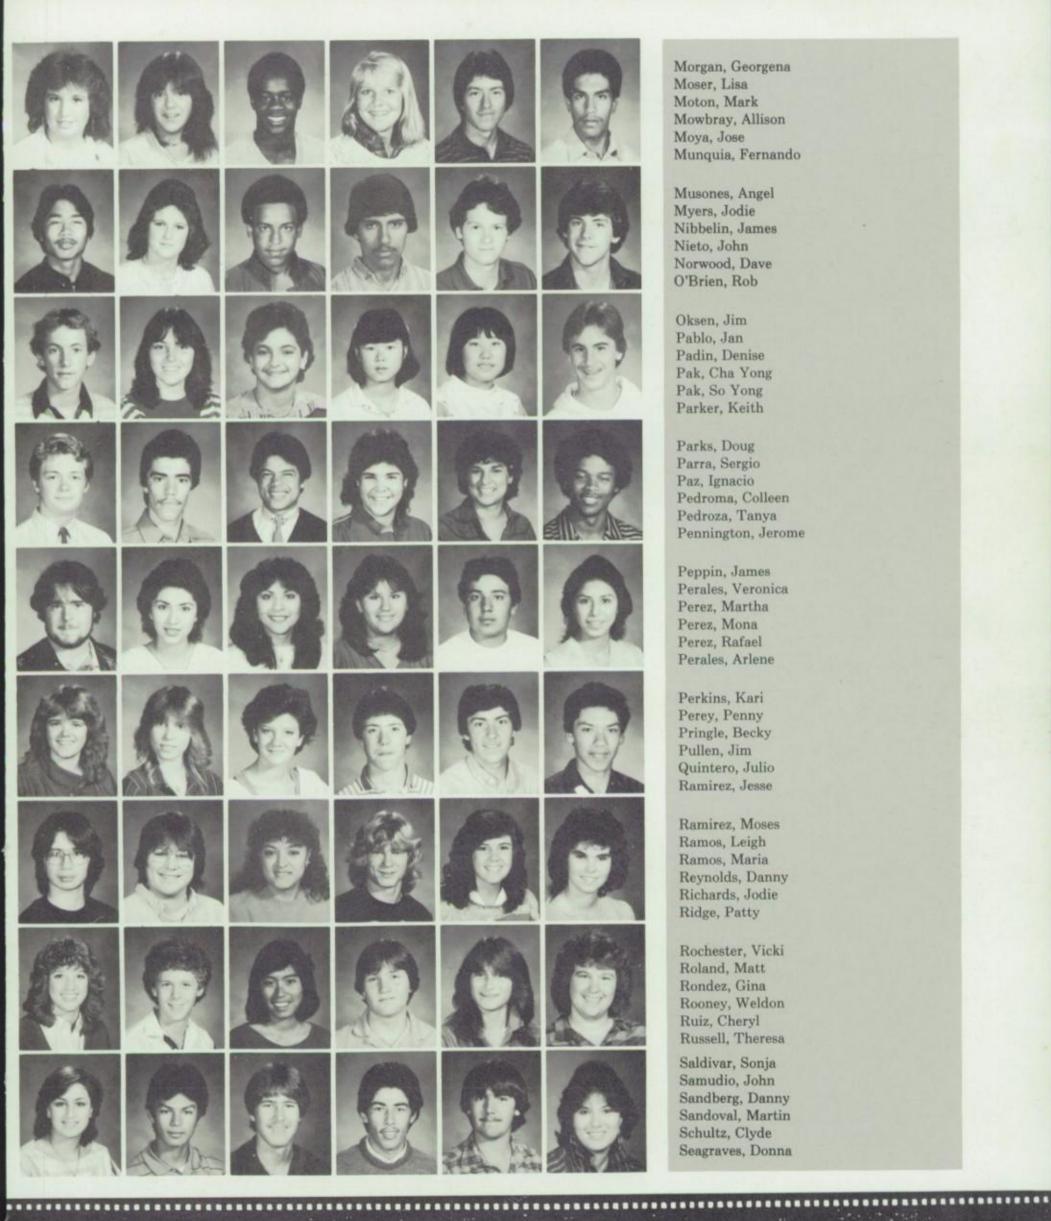

McCough, Tammie McGuire, Nancy McKie, David McLarney, Amber McKinney, Connie Medley, Greg Megoloff, James Meyer, Lisa Monroe, Roger Moore, Eva Miguel, Berthal Morales, Pat

Making Points

The academic tradition at NC High isn't as strong as many would like it to be. Traci Williams worked hard to make and adademic impression this year. "I expect myself to do well, and if I don't, I agonize over it." She gives her teachers a great deal of respect, feeling especially tested by Ms. McNeese, Mr. Albright, and Mr. O'Leary who " . . . challenges everyone; a perfectionist." These teachers pushed her to do better work; but, she pushed herself even more. She has worked hard to maintain a 4.0 grade point average, and she does those things on time that we always seem to put off until the last night. With a work load that included three varsity sports, Traci took on work that causes many to wonder.

Morgan, Georgena Moser, Lisa Moton, Mark Mowbray, Allison Moya, Jose Munquia, Fernando

Musones, Angel Myers, Jodie Nibbelin, James Nieto, John Norwood, Dave O'Brien, Rob

Oksen, Jim Pablo, Jan Padin, Denise Pak, Cha Yong Pak, So Yong Parker, Keith

Parks, Doug Parra, Sergio Paz, Ignacio Pedroma, Colleen Pedroza, Tanya Pennington, Jerome

Peppin, James Perales, Veronica Perez, Martha Perez, Mona Perez, Rafael Perales, Arlene

Perkins, Kari Perey, Penny Pringle, Becky Pullen, Jim Quintero, Julio Ramirez, Jesse

Ramirez, Moses Ramos, Leigh Ramos, Maria Reynolds, Danny Richards, Jodie Ridge, Patty

Rochester, Vicki Roland, Matt Rondez, Gina Rooney, Weldon Ruiz, Cheryl Russell, Theresa Saldivar, Sonja Samudio, John Sandberg, Danny Sandoval, Martin Schultz, Clyde Seagraves, Donna

 Hammin it up at break is Kellie Enyart Kim Flores, and Lindsay Martin.
 Grinning hard, Robert Alonzo shows Yvonne Butler a hot centerfold.

Siaz, Mellisa Simpson, Christine Smith, Janice Smith, Wendy Sonico, Ishmael Soper, Jill

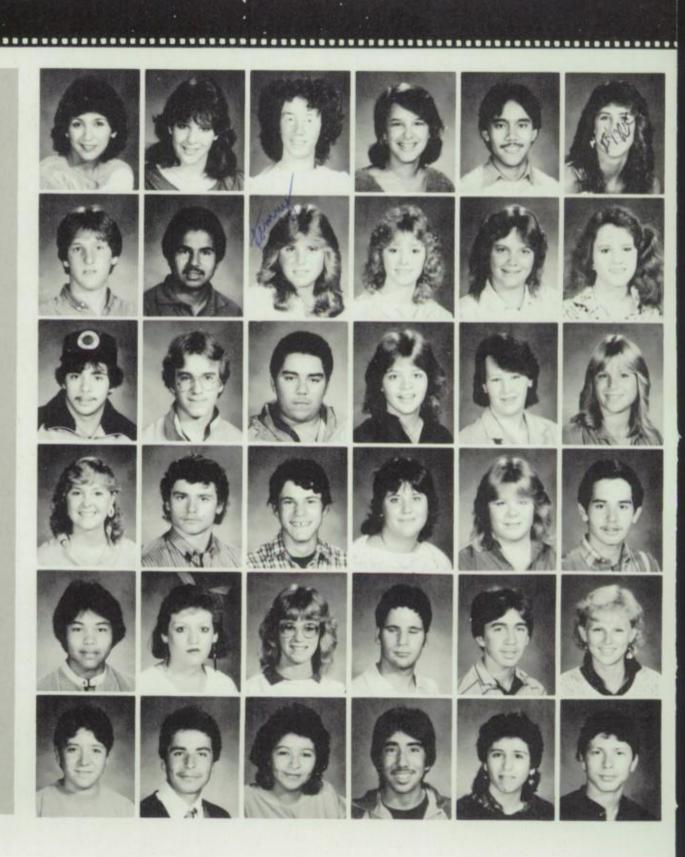

Sicley, John Sifuentes, Antonio Silva, Tammie Spangler, Desiree Stackhouse, Beverly Stanton, Madeleine

> Stapleton, Steve Steiger, Ron Suarez, Martin Swain, Michelle Syx, Tory Szabo, Tanda

Terherst, Brenda Therezo, Mark Thompson, Charles Tidwell, Susan Tolonon, Marci Tomlinson, Rodney

Torulas, Mike

Torres, Rachel Tovey, Gail
Treadway, Tony
Tucker, Thomas
Turner, Kris
Urquidez, Adrian
Valdez, Alberto
Valdez, Guillermine
Valenzuela, Tom
Valrerde, Yvette
Villalobos, Jaime

A typical windy day at North County finds
 Robert Schlafli trying to meet new friends.
 A day at Marriotts seems to be a perfect ending for Sherry and Patty's summer.

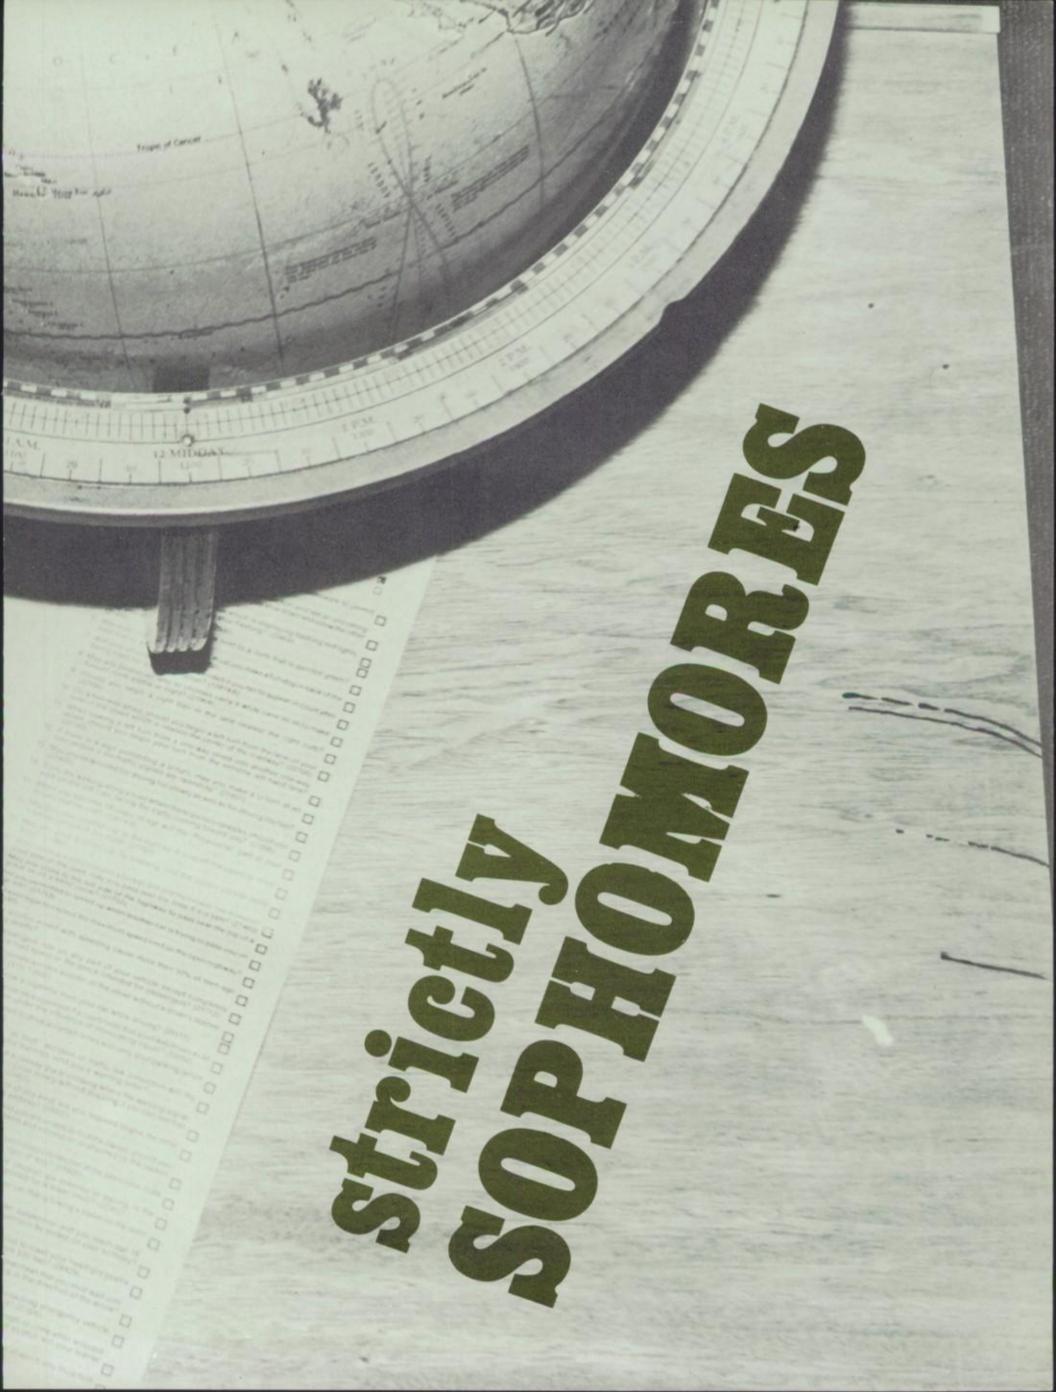

Villareal, Ed Walker, Kathleen Walker, Sean Wall, David Westphal, Dawn

White, Diana White, William Wilcox, Andy Williams, Traci Willingham, Ron

Wolfe, Oliver Wolters, Tage Wright, Stasia Yanez, Jerardo Yoshimaru, Russ

Young, Cindy Young, Paul Young, Robert Zamora, Maria Zimmerman, Margaret

'87: MOVING ON

Once again, grades have gotten to a student body rep. before the yearbook could. A class president was removed for poor classroom performance. This isn't the first time a class officer has been vanked, and we have no reason to believe it will be the last. "Some times I can't believe people's attitudes." said Nancy McGuire. "They think that they don't have to do any school work after they've been elected."

"What irks teachers is that failing students are class officers ... supposedly leaders of student body," remarked one staff member. "To think that class officers are immune from failure is a narrow minded attitude," commented junior Rick Megaloff. "We all make a few mistakes along the way, it's not that big of a deal."

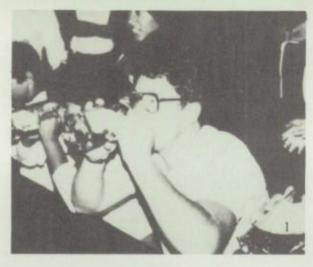

One year, this problem was aggravated by the fact that the departing officer ran again and won. "That is a problem that has been solved and won't happen again," said member Maria Garza.

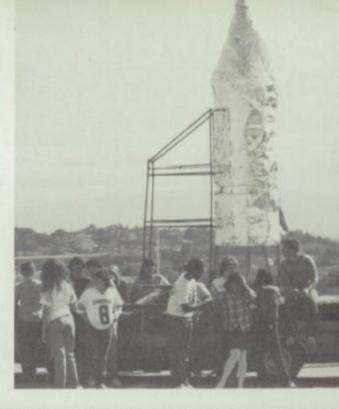

The real issue is whether the class officers are expected to be perfect. For that matter, should all ASB members be a CSF member. "That's not a realistic attitude," was heard more than once when we casually surveyed the student body. There were also a number of people who didn't care one way or the other, those who don't think the ASB comission counts for anything. "I don't really know exactly what the ASB comission does," replied freshman Ben Gallegos, when asked about the group. How seriously does this issue affect the students or school policy? "If the ASB commission doesn't really do anything, why does it matter what their grades are? responded Mark Therezo. Politics are a real issue at NC and the ASB comission faced some of the toughest ones this year. Non-student visitors, lockers, parking, smoking, are some of the issues that ASB confronted this year, and if you didn't know that, it's because you weren't involved.

- 2. Soph. class officers Becky Jimenez, Shannon Gillogly, Mindy Banta and Rochelle Doman prove that women in office can do a terrific job.
- 4. These two sophmore ladies, Marchelle Graves and Rachelle Domain are enjoying the sights of some ot the "finer" upperclass-

- He-man Keith Tienken devoures his mug of rootbeer for the class of '87.
- Sophomores prepare for take-off into the Homecoming Parade.
- Let's take a ride says the sophomore guys to Malinda Banta.

Abila, Paulette Adair, Kim

Aden, Dessie Alex, Greg Alonso, Jessica Alvarez, Brian Aruiza, Rick Autry, Tina

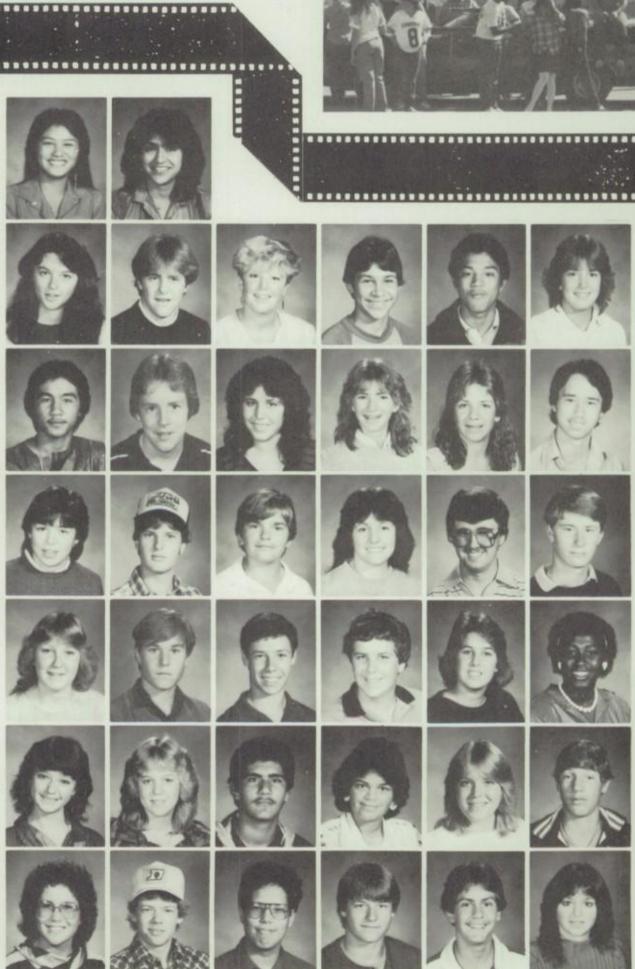

Babauta, Joseph Baldwin, Michael Baldwin, Niki Banta, Melinda Beauchaine, Nicole Beck, Dan

Benin, Deana Benson, Shawn Berg, Alan Bettencourt, Lucy Bettencourt, Paul Bigham, Jason

Blackman, Janene Boaz, Dave Bologa, John Bowling, Bruce Bowling, Leslie Boyd, Tyra

Boyd, Robin

Braley, Sandy
Bravo, Ernesto
Bravo, Gabby
Bristol, Jodi
Bryson, Scott
Bulloch, Elaine
Burns, Kelly
Burtons, Paul
Buss, Chris
Butler, Louie
Butler, Yvonne

Glory Points

"This is truly disgusting!" said David White. It was the first time he had paid attention to a class competition. Rootbeer guzzling became a splashing, choking, and belching experience.

As David found out, the dedicated sophomores gave up their dignity and honor to do justice for the class of 87.

"Who thinks of all these competitions?" was a curious question from Gary Castronova. Well, the reason our school has such interesting ways of determining the class of the year because of our reliable ASB.

This year, there have been quite a few hair raising competitions. Our very first yell-out occured on day one of the 1984-85 school year, followed by Rootbeer guzzling, ice cream frenzies, mattress carries, . . . you name it.

*************

Butterfield, Jason

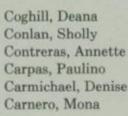

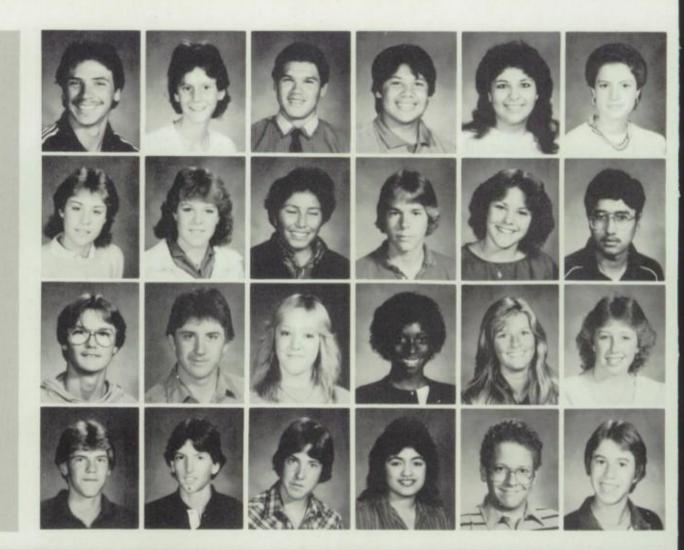

Castaneda, Bernadino Castleberry, Lyneth Castro, Martin Cedillo, Frank Cervantes, Patty Chamberlain, Shawn

> Chladek, Linda Chladek, Lisa Cortez, Leobardo Crow, Chuck Crumpton, Debbie Cruz, Alfonso

Darin, Rogers Davidson, Rick Davidson, Wendy Davis, Johnny Dawson, Jennifer DeAmaral, Denise

Dean, Eric Dean, Scott Debelle, Darin Delgoda, Araceli Dickinson, James Dilbeck, Erick

Do The Stomp

Where could you find lots of hyped out kids, hear hoards of screaming voices, and get into some good hand clapping, foot pounding competition? Of course, we all know it was a rally! The class of '87 is a rally good example!

Last year as freshmen, the class of '87 finished out of the money. This year, the sophomores are trying to improve on that record. They racked up points, and tried especially hard at the rallies.

Rallies are fun. The rallies this year were the best ever. Not only did the rallies get us out of boring classes (not all of them) they got everyone's spirits up. Most people forget how the team members feel when a thousand Condor fans scream for them and stomp for them. "The yelling for the playoff rally really made me proud," said sophomore Hank Jones. The cheering competition at the Homecoming rally made everyone work together as a member of the class of '87. That was when everybody first began to believe that being a sophomore was spectacular. And best of all-we're Condors for two more years.

Doman, Rachelle Dorney, Paul Duneanson, David Durazo, Lisa Edwards, Kelly Ellis, Jessica

Ellis, Karen Emerson, Katie Ervin, Bret Estingoy, Santos Falanga, Glen Farmer, Libby

Favela, Eva Fear, Jack Fenkl, Ingrid Fernandez, Arnuleo Ferreira, Dana Figueroa, Marcos

Flores, Danny Fowler, Mike Freese, Ingrid Fulks, Angela Gabudao, Andrew Gallego, Aaron

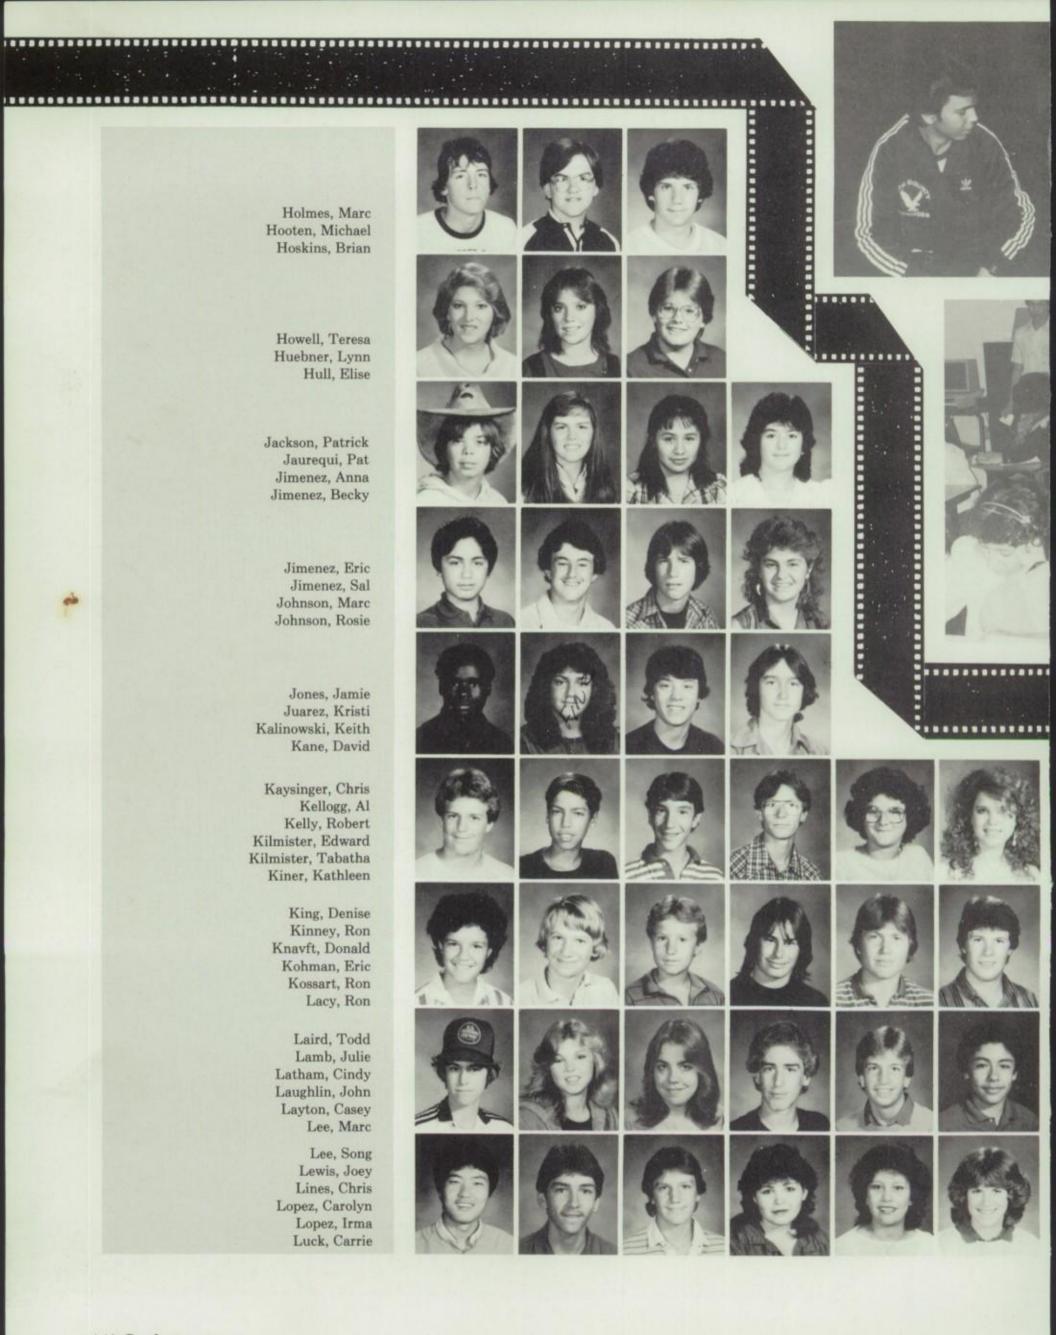

Garavello, Angela Garcia, Angel Garcia, Dorio Garthner, Pat Gee, Joanna Gillogly, Shannon

Godinez, Robert Golden, Marty Gomez, Jaime Gomez, Stephanie Graves, Marchelle Grigsby, Lisa

Grimsley, Melissa Hagen, Sherrie Hanly, Russ Hardwick, James Hastey, Paul Hawk, Petra

Haynes, Lisa Hernandez, Alvino Hernandez, Rob Herrera, Kellie

Hill, Denise Hoey, Lynda Holcomb, Lisa Hollibaugh, Bud

Speaking Of Success

"Miguel is an outstanding student because he is a pleasure for a teacher to work with," stated staff member Louis Compaginis. "He is easy to relate to and has been a leader for his friends and fellow students."

Miguel was enrolled in all bilingual classes this year. By his senior year, Miguel will be in mainstream classes and will pass the proficiency test, as everyone else who wants a diploma has to. Mr. Carlos Vega taught two of Miguel's bilingual classes. Bilingual Ed. is a program that most of the school wasn't aware of. It has been misunderstood for a long time. Mr. Campaginis and Mr. Vega guided a lot of new students through school, while the poor kids had to learn English cold turkey.

Miguel moved to Castroville from Michocan, Mexico. From his village school, he went to the regional Escuela Secondaria. After one year there, his family moved to California, echoing the heritage of many Californians. At fifteen this year, Miguel had plans to be an accountant after graduation. Was he nervous about the proficiencies? With a grin he shook his head-obviously not. Sports were not of importance to Miguel, studying was a higher priority, as was his job at the Castroville Community Center.

The Bilingual and ESL programs were designed to help students like Miguel achieve, and he has achieved a lot in a short time.

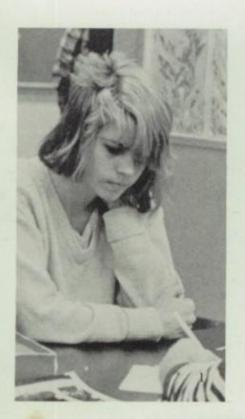

Mabanot, Sam Magallan, Delia Magdaleno, Stella Mallow, Steve Marquez, Jesse

Martin, Michelle Martin, Wes Martinez, Christina Martinez, Rafael Martinez, Rosie

Mason, Drew Mata, Albert McAllister, Dan Mendoza, Regina Mendoza, Alfred

Medrano, Merlo Medrano, Jimmy Medina, Lorena Medina, Jose Mills, Tammy

Not Trendy

After a round about trip through the Western States, Marchelle Graves and her family settled here at North County. Marchelle made quite a splash on campus, being one of the few punk stylists among the student body.

North County High was a big change from Lodi High School, where she spent her freshman year. After brief stays in Arizona, Nevada and Texas ("My mom likes moving."). She settled here with her mom and stepdad (a butcher), brother and sister. She hoped the teachers at NC would be tougher than they turned out to be. However, she really appreciated meeting Mme. Julie High "She's the sweetest person who teaches here." Marchelle felt Mr. Peiper really pushed her to do a lot better . . . especially to write neater."

Who bummed her the most was one teacher who she felt was too critical. "He gave me C's When I know I deserved B's" The fashion styles in this area where really behind the fashions in the Central Valley. The kids were a lot more conscious of fashion in Lodi. Looking like an Aggie was definitely out. "If you were an Aggie, you stayed on the farm."

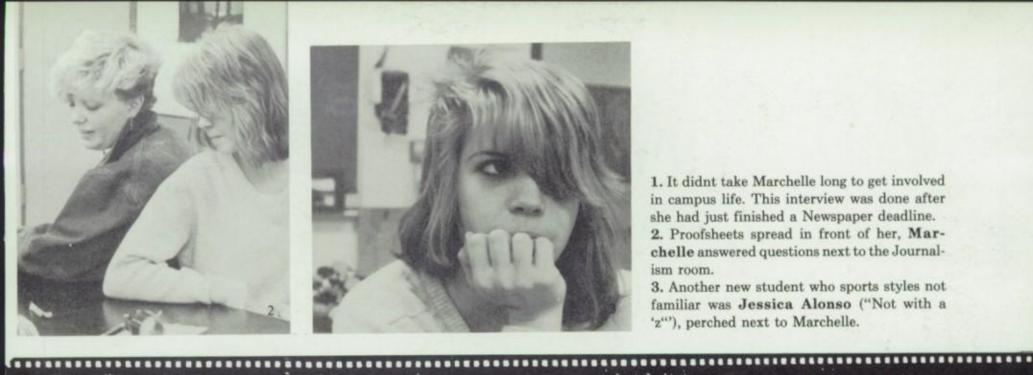

She ran for President of the Sophomore Class, but lost. She planned on running for office in the Spring Elections.

ľ

Myles, Robert Nall, Sandee Nuki, Kim O'Brien, Donald O'Donnell, Heather Ojeda, Maria

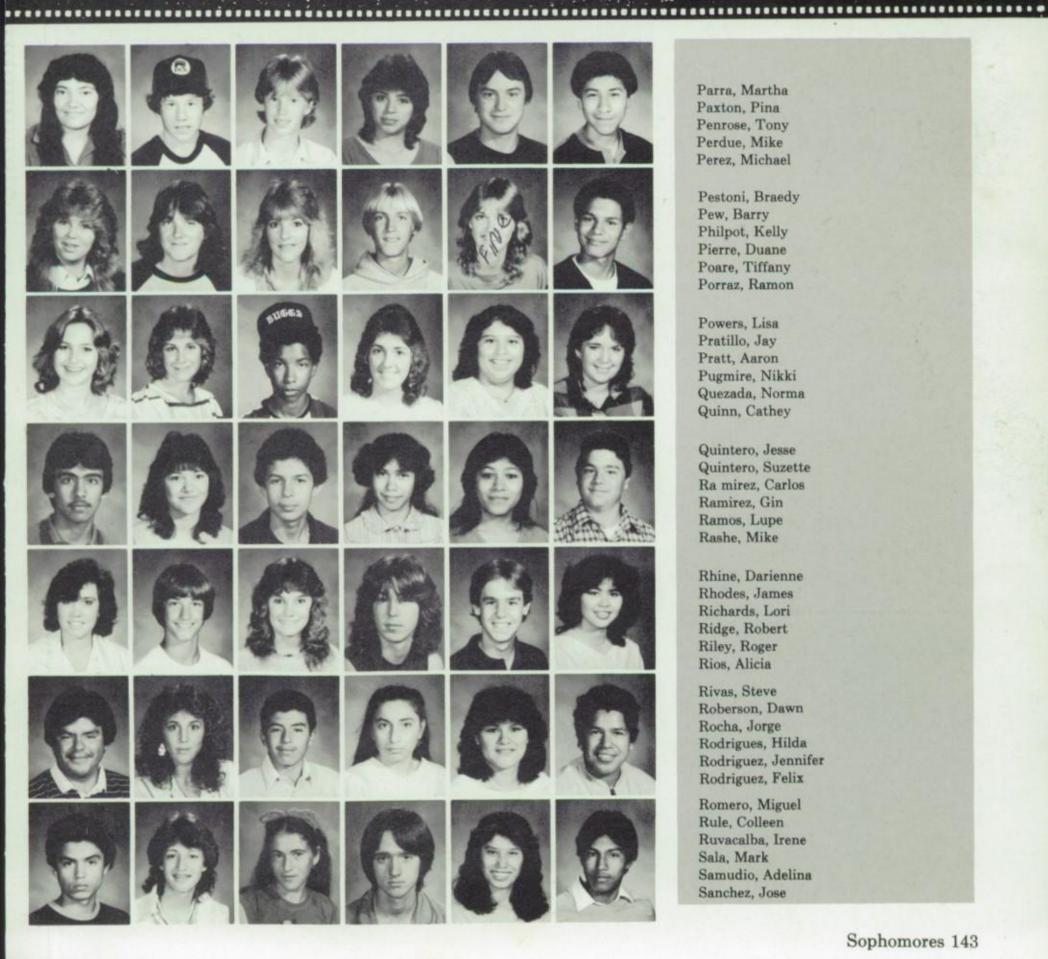

Okamoto, Ray
Okamura, Ayako
Oler, Susan
Olivas, Joyce
Olsen, Den
Olvera, Steve
Oney, Charlie
Onomoto, Lisa
Orozco, Lidia
Ott, Debbie
Pablo, Vickie
Pack, Brian

- 1. It didnt take Marchelle long to get involved in campus life. This interview was done after she had just finished a Newspaper deadline.
- 2. Proofsheets spread in front of her, Marchelle answered questions next to the Journalism room.
- 3. Another new student who sports styles not familiar was Jessica Alonso ("Not with a 'z"'), perched next to Marchelle.

Parra, Martha Paxton, Pina Penrose, Tony Perdue, Mike Perez, Michael

Pestoni, Braedy Pew, Barry Philpot, Kelly Pierre, Duane Poare, Tiffany Porraz, Ramon

Powers, Lisa Pratillo, Jay Pratt, Aaron Pugmire, Nikki Quezada, Norma Quinn, Cathey

Quintero, Jesse Quintero, Suzette Ra mirez, Carlos Ramirez, Gin Ramos, Lupe Rashe, Mike

Rhine, Darienne Rhodes, James Richards, Lori Ridge, Robert Riley, Roger Rios, Alicia

Rivas, Steve Roberson, Dawn Rocha, Jorge Rodrigues, Hilda Rodriguez, Jennifer Rodriguez, Felix

Romero, Miguel Rule, Colleen Ruvacalba, Irene Sala, Mark Samudio, Adelina Sanchez, Jose

1. The drivers training teacher Roger Sugimoto waits until Dionetta Doerfler calms down before he hands her the keys.

Sanchez, Mary Sanderson, Serena

Sandoval, Jerry San Nicolas, Selina Scheffer, Tanya

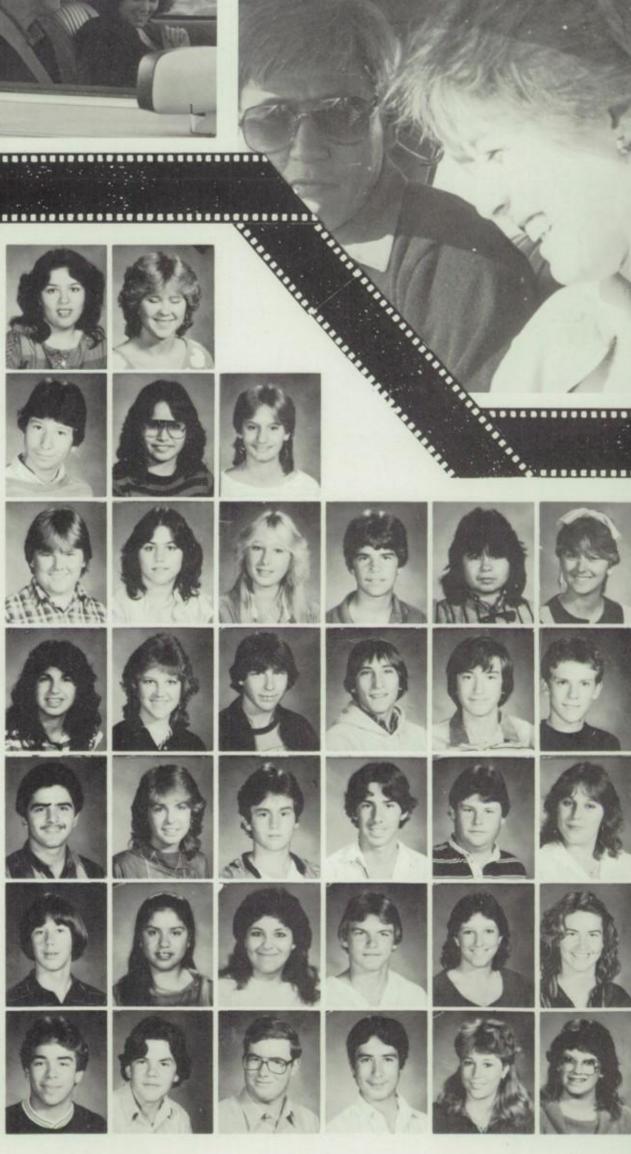

Scheff, Jeff Scherr, Heidi Sheck, Cindy Searson, David Sifuentes, Martha Silva, Genevieve

> Simas, Kris Small, Phyllis Smith, Gary Smith, John Smith, Shawn Smithson, Eliot

Solis, David Soper, Debbie Soto, Paul Spears, John Stevens, Doug Stover, Lea

Strader, Andy Suarez, Anabel Suerte, Donna Swain, Damiel Tafoya, Jana Taft, Michelle

Thompson, Mark Thurber, Chester Tienken, Keith Tiscareno, Trankie Tobias, Debbie Tonkin, Jenniff

DRIVING US CRAZY

"Shut and lock all doors, adjust seat, adjust mirror, fasten your seat belt, and check passengers." That quote was familiar to anyone who went for a spin as part of the driver training program. After suc careful instructions, someone (no names) would put it in gear and head straight for Sam Sample Shack. No wonder Mr. Sugimoto's hair is turning gray.

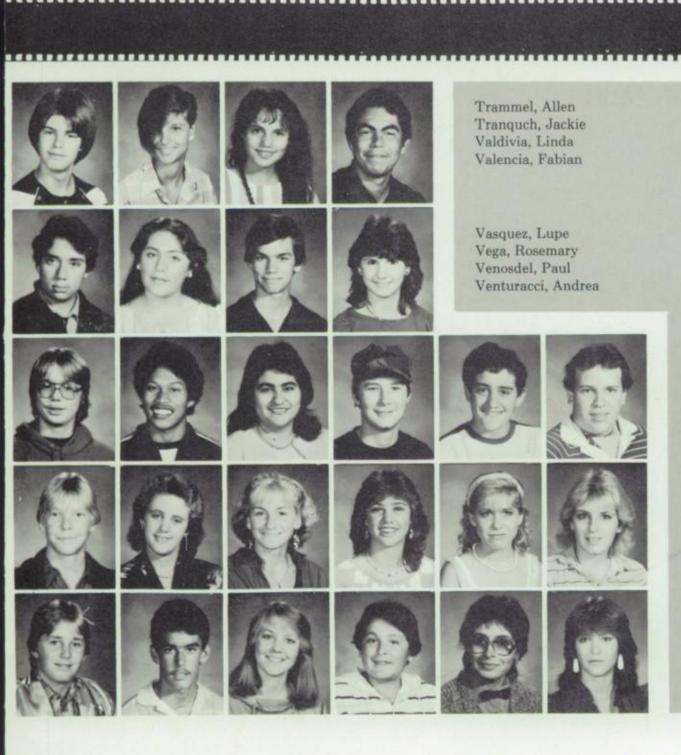

Driver's Ed is the class before you get behind the wheel. It's a required subject for graduation, but it's more important for the safety of the Driver's Training teacher, and his sanity. You learn rules, and take note, study laws imprint safety precautions in your subconscious, and take more notes. If you aren't taking notes, than the next best thing is a gory film.

Following football season, Driver's Training sign-ups begin, as does the excitement, the tension, relief for some, and nightmares for many. The first step involves going down to DMV to take the Driver's test, and nobody ever fails this, right!! If you do manage to miss less than 7 questions you get a permit. Okay, now you practice with Mom and Dad, and you develop this wonderful virtue they call patience. When you've missed hitting the mailbox for 5 days in a row, and you sit through Dad's lecture without shouting or crying, you're then ready for Castroville and Salinas. The question is, are they ready for you? Mr. Sugimoto and Mr. Smith bravely instruct you through all the ins and outs of driving conditions, precautions, situations, and then, finally, you reach the last day. This is the day they say "you pass," or "you fail, go home and we'll try again." They watch your every move, sctatching down little notes as you begin to perspire. Finally, they say, "you pass, congradulations!"

When you've missed hitting mailboxes for five days in a row.

Ready for the big time, you're now fully prepared to test for a licence. For many, the licinse means spending lots of money, and having more fun. Driver's Ed is the class, it's important, and sometimes worrisome, but it's never boring!

Veter, Andrew Villanueva, Joe Virgea, Silvia Welch, Ji Welts, Ron White, Curt

White, David White, Lia Williams, Jenny Williamson, Julie Wilson, Renee Withrow, Sherry

Woltman, Mark Woolem, Marty Yeargin, Alussa Zamora, Jose Zamora, Leticia Zellers, Kim

Official Work

Coming into high school as a class officer is exciting and challenging for these four young freshman ladies. As president of the class, Melissa Anaulao has much of the responsibility that is thrown to them. However, the Vice President Mary Hanna takes on an even bigger challenge by being an active person in ASB. "As a vice-president, I don't have much time to go after school and just hang around, even though I'm busy a lot, I really love the way things are going. I wouldn't give it up for anything."

People just coming into high school don't realize that being active in the school's affairs makes you more eager to participate in everything. "Since the first day of school, I knew that I wanted to make the most out of the year by running for President of my class," said Melissa Anaulao." She's really done a good job. The officers were great this year.

Trying to look important for her big speech,
 Melissa Anaulao gave us her best shot.

Another shot of the pretty ladies before an important meeting.

Discussing the freshman class float, the officers resort to a JC Penney's catalog for ready made ideas.

Aguillar, Ana Rose Aguirre, Monica Alexander, Buck Almanza, Rose Amador, Laura Angelucci, David

Angelucci, Ellice Anton, Lisa Anulao, Melissa Arellana, Abelardo Arista, Genero Arroyo, Angela

Ash, Chandra Ash, Staci Ash, Stephanie Asher, Luis Atlista, Genaro Babauta, Christine

Bailey, Dean Balding, John Balducci, Rob Baldwin, Justine Balesteri, Greg Bavaer, Newell

Bates, Tina Bauer, Kristine Beaumont, Dave Beck, Chris

Benson, Wade Bethany, Saundra Blackwell, Jason Blair, Robert

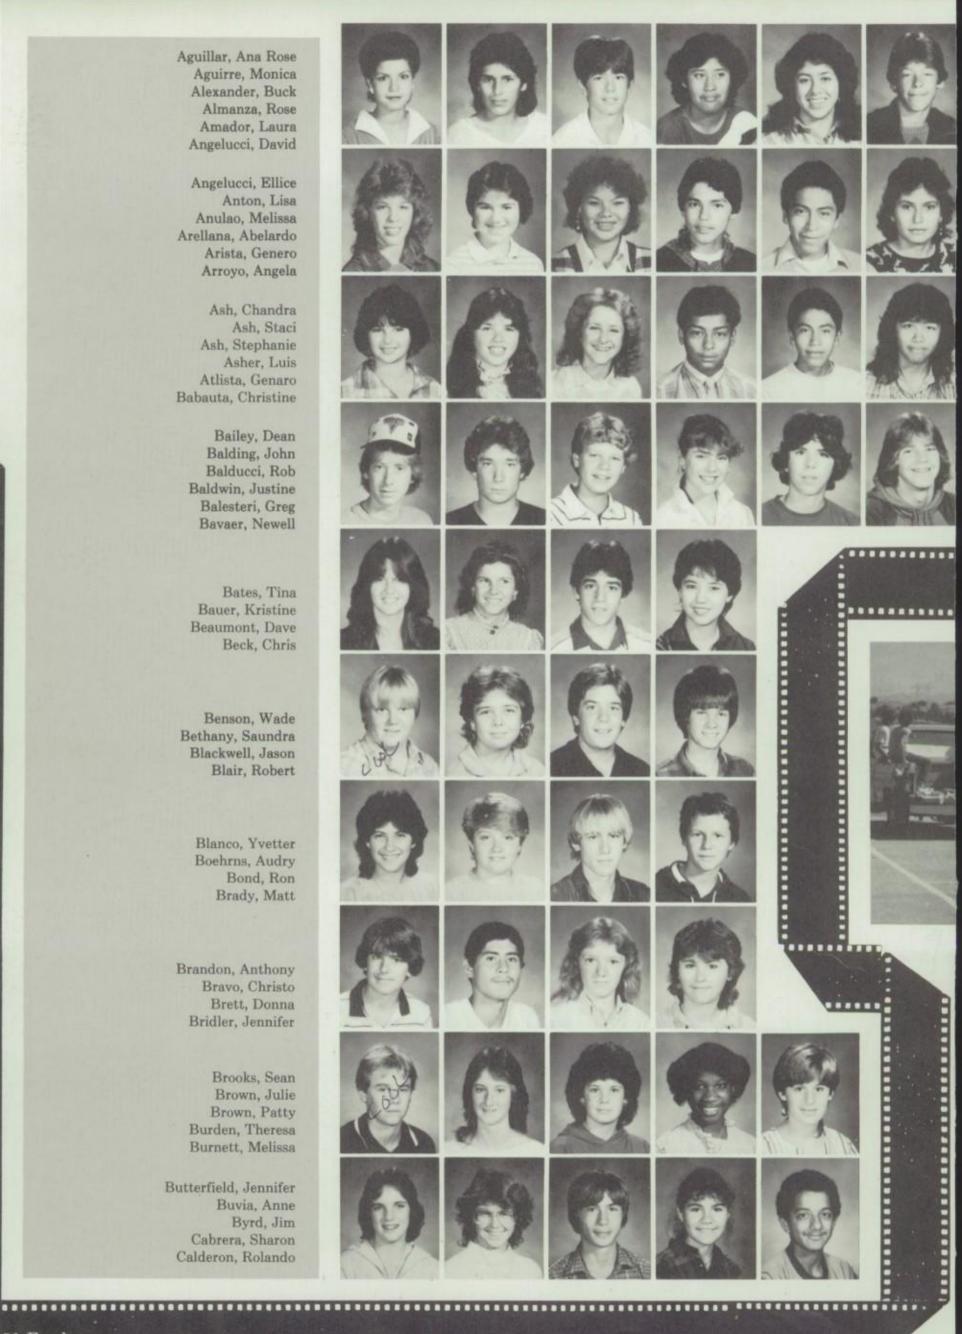

Blanco, Yvetter Boehrns, Audry Bond, Ron Brady, Matt

Brandon, Anthony Bravo, Christo Brett, Donna Bridler, Jennifer

Brooks, Sean Brown, Julie Brown, Patty Burden, Theresa Burnett, Melissa

Butterfield, Jennifer Buvia, Anne Byrd, Jim Cabrera, Sharon Calderon, Rolando

...............

....

Callaghan, Michele Camancho, Ayde Campbell, Carbett Campbell, Eric Campbell, John Canaday, Rose

Candiloro, John Cardenas, Victor Carl, Donald Carmona, John Carroll, John Cassell, Karen

Castro, Maria
Cavasuela, Olga
Cepucho, Sarah
Chambers, Lloyd
Chapman, Ron Chedder, Mike
Chinguina, Paul
Clark, Cheryl
Clover, David
Contreras, Rosemary
Cook, Teresa
Correa, Michelle

Here Come The Frosh!

Nobody ever thought it would be done-but this year's freshmen didn't finish fourth in all the class competition. It has taken all the other classes a while to realize they were here in the big time (sort of), and they had to work together to make things happen.

The first day rally came as a shock to a lot of the frosh. Hey! You know it was tough to get into the gym, with all the milling about and the pushing and shoving. "Even though I knew what to expect, it was still a big deal . . . all those people and no where to sit!" said Vice President Mary Lee Hanna. "But, we still did well at the yelling competition. I thought we won; but, the decision went to the Sophomores."

Soon after that, the freshmen got a third in the mattress carry. Maybe that was the first step up the ladder to a record breaking finish for frosh in class competition. Well, the hopes were a little premature. Some dismal showings in the next few class competitions, with a couple of DNF's really wrecked the class of '88's chances. "When there's a competition-everyone's got to show up," said Lori Hazen.

The Homecoming Float competition proved that if it's not one thing, it's another. A good idea came to flower, and a lot of the frosh showed up, and all the tissue flowers were put into the chicken wire-but then came the big wind, and to the four corners went the float. "It was a tremendous disappointment," said one disgruntled worker.

All was not lost. From that experience, the class found out that there were a lot of frosh with class. "We had a lot of people who show up to work," said Vice President Mary Lee. Special recognition went to helpers Christine Lucero, Marcus Knight, Chris Beck, Billy Fischer, and Ricky Ray.

Cottam, Rex Coulins, Angela Coyne, Billy Crouthamel, Mereme Crow, Cheryl Cruz, Jesse

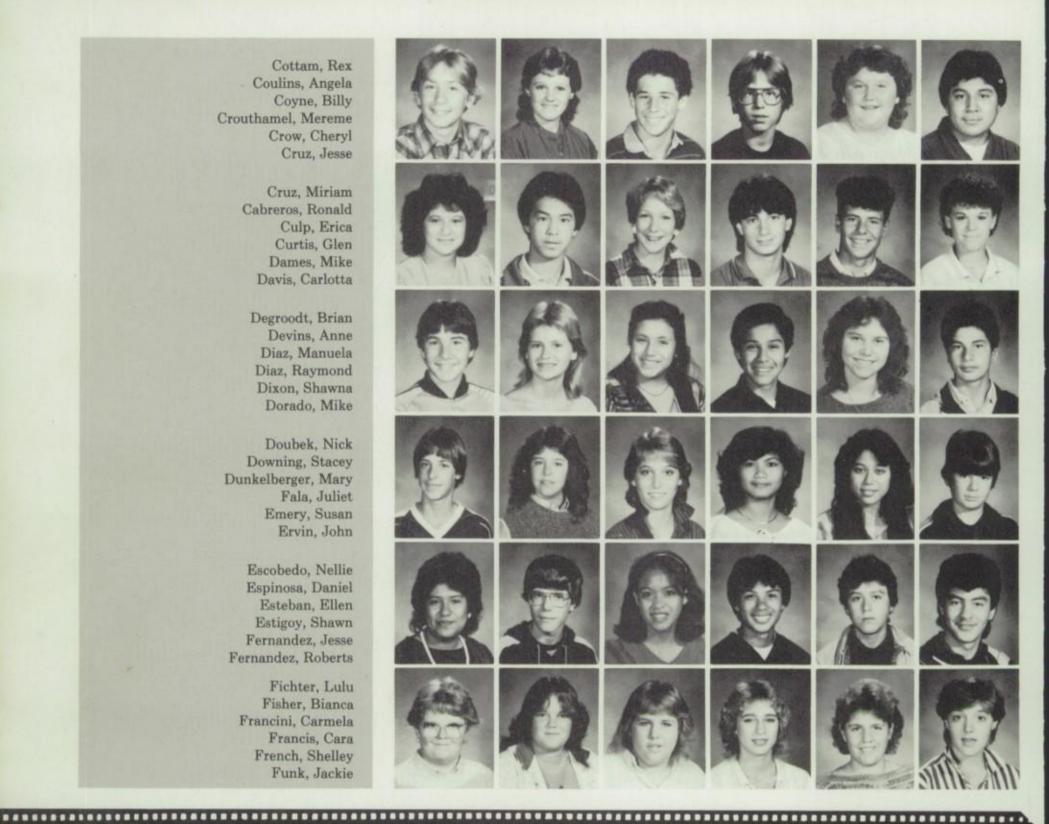

> Cruz, Miriam Cabreros, Ronald Culp, Erica Curtis, Glen Dames, Mike Davis, Carlotta

Degroodt, Brian Devins, Anne Diaz, Manuela Diaz, Raymond Dixon, Shawna Dorado, Mike

Doubek, Nick Downing, Stacey Dunkelberger, Mary Fala, Juliet Emery, Susan Ervin, John

Escobedo, Nellie Espinosa, Daniel Esteban, Ellen Estigoy, Shawn Fernandez, Jesse Fernandez, Roberts

Fichter, Lulu Fisher, Bianca Francini, Carmela Francis, Cara French, Shelley Funk, Jackie

"Oh Rally?"

"Like, Wow! So ... this is what a High School rally is like. Hey! check out all the people in this gym. I guess we better get shreddin" said Freshman Class Vice-President MaryLee Hanna.

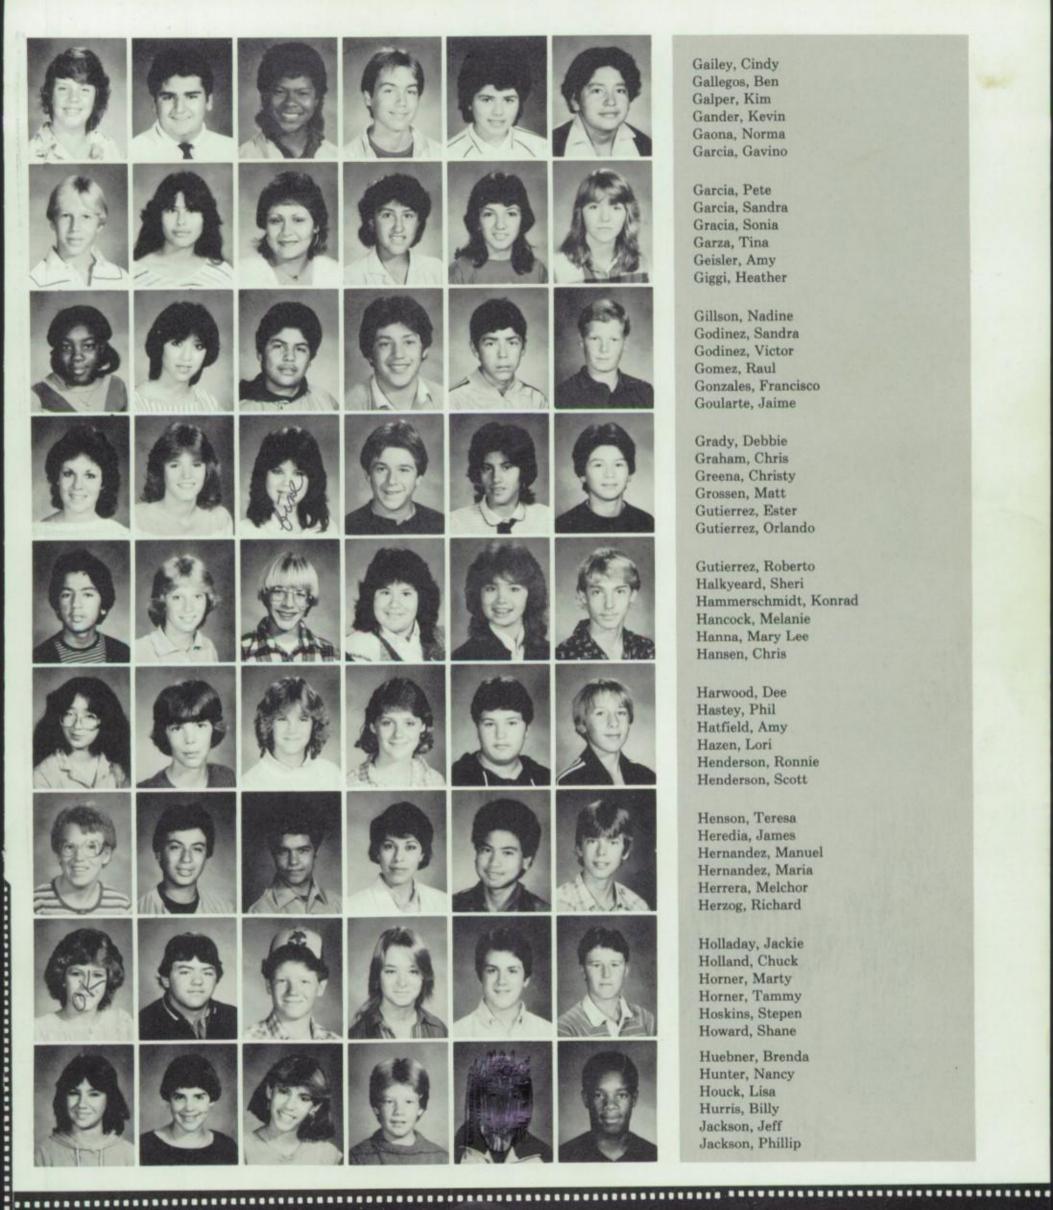

Freshmen. The name said it all. Starting fresh into their high school years, the class of '88 discovered what an overcrowded gym with screaming students menat. It meant rallies!

"At the rally the first day of school,, I was a little nervous and confused," said Jon Tracy. "I know our class had choked on the competition, and it made me want to go back to my safe junior high. After that rally was over though, things started looking up."

"The class of '88 must have something up their sleeves, if they're planning to made any impact. Good luck to all the struggling '88ers," said Senior Damon Glysson.

With better rallies this year, and all the spirit and enthusiasm in the air, the frosh got together and pounded the stands with all their tiny feet.

Gailey, Cindy Gallegos, Ben Galper, Kim Gander, Kevin Gaona, Norma Garcia, Gavino

Garcia, Pete Garcia, Sandra Gracia, Sonia Garza, Tina Geisler, Amy Giggi, Heather

Gillson, Nadine Godinez, Sandra Godinez, Victor Gomez, Raul Gonzales, Francisco Goularte, Jaime

Grady, Debbie Graham, Chris Greena, Christy Grossen, Matt Gutierrez, Ester Gutierrez, Orlando

Gutierrez, Roberto Halkyeard, Sheri Hammerschmidt, Konrad Hancock, Melanie Hanna, Mary Lee Hansen, Chris

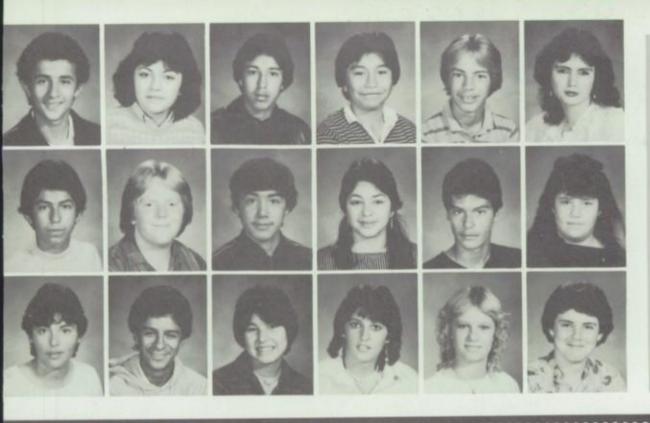

Harwood, Dee Hastey, Phil Hatfield, Amy Hazen, Lori Henderson, Ronnie Henderson, Scott

Henson, Teresa Heredia, James Hernandez, Manuel Hernandez, Maria Herrera, Melchor Herzog, Richard

Holladay, Jackie Holland, Chuck Horner, Marty Horner, Tammy Hoskins, Stepen Howard, Shane Huebner, Brenda Hunter, Nancy Houck, Lisa Hurris, Billy

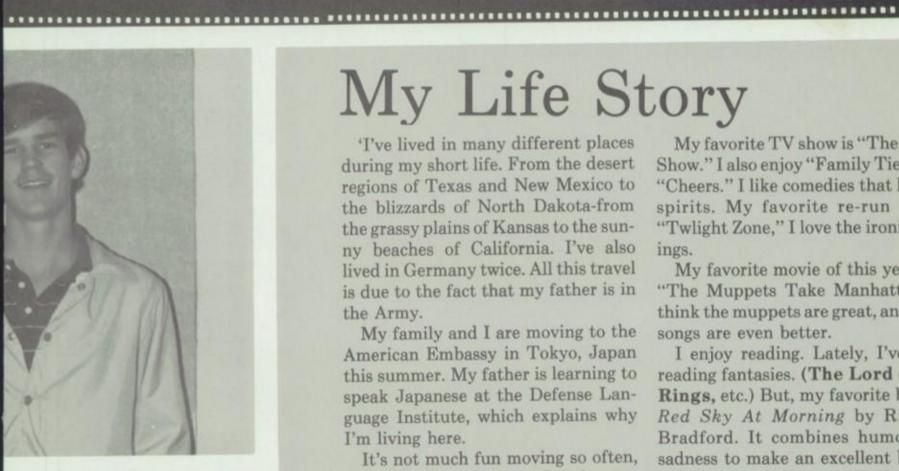

Jackson, Jeff Jackson, Phillip

Jaramille, Daniella Jensen, David Joachim, Jason Johnson, Mary Johnson, Robert Jones, Billy Jones, Hank Jones, Peter Kattenbach, Lorri Kern, Linda Killebren, Mike King, Allen Kinkead, Tara Klauk, Steven Knight, Marcus Lacy, Susan Lalali, Karim Lalata, Ison Larson, Tara Latham, Rance Lavender, Tby Lee, Karen Lee, Tammy Leigh, Rebecca Leonardini, Sean Lope, Alicia Lerma, Stephanie Levy, Gayle Lewis, Christy Lizaola, Ia Lococo, Kevin Long, Kim Long, Shelley Lopez, Eddie Lopez, Jamie Lopez, Dolores Love, Stacey Lucero, Christine Lykins, Janice Madriaga, Charlie Mageleno, Lydia Maldonado, Elaine Mallory, Sonny Malvoso, Michelle Mangione, Stacie Marikos, Stacie Marquez, Rick Marquez, Valerie

Marroquin, Jose Martin, Adriana Martin, Carlos Martin, Lee Martin, Eric Martin, Sandra Martin, Scott Martin, Wade Martinez, Daniel Martinez, Lupe Martinez, Mike Martinez, Toni Mata, Annelte Mata, Ignacio Mata, Tammi Mausen, Tina McClintock, Stephanie

McDonald, Marie

My Life Story

'I've lived in many different places during my short life. From the desert regions of Texas and New Mexico to the blizzards of North Dakota-from the grassy plains of Kansas to the sunny beaches of California. I've also lived in Germany twice. All this travel is due to the fact that my father is in the Army.

My family and I are moving to the American Embassy in Tokyo, Japan this summer. My father is learning to speak Japanese at the Defense Language Institute, which explains why I'm living here.

It's not much fun moving so often, but I enjoy the change. I make new friends pretty easily, which makes moving more bearable.

I have a "corny sense of humor," or so I'm told. I enjoy writing stories that only make sense to mentally deranged people.

I like cracking jokes whenever I can (good ones of course!), and hearing a good joke. But I believe the joking stops when it comes to putting-down people. I'd much rather make them laugh.

I like any kind of mellow music, or music with a good beat. I think the Dr. Demento songs are great. I'll listen to any music which is understandable.

My favorite TV show is "The Cosby Show." I also enjoy "Family Ties" and "Cheers." I like comedies that lift the spirits. My favorite re-run is the "Twlight Zone," I love the ironic end-

My favorite movie of this year was "The Muppets Take Manhattan." I think the muppets are great, and their songs are even better.

I enjoy reading. Lately, I've been reading fantasies. (The Lord of the Rings, etc.) But, my favorite book is Red Sky At Morning by Richard Bradford. It combines humor and sadness to make an excellent book.

My favorite subject is English. I've always made good grades in it. That's probably because I love to write, and I write pretty good, too. I've got a good imagination, and I can put my thoughts into words, and that's all it takes. I think it will be fun to write a book someday.

My future goal is to be a doctor with strong political ties, so that someday, I can be President of the USA. Watch out America!!

I'm a unique person, and easy to like. My humor may be wierd, but it will grow on you, and then you're in trouble.

McGinn, Brigid McLarney, Tina McLoughin, Samantha Medina, Jesse Mendez, Marian Mendoza, Cara

> Mendoza, Rowena Mercado, Alberto Merrihew, Lance Michel, Erica Miranda, Laura Miranda, Letia

Meclzewski, Shelly Montgomery, Tommy Moreno, Marsha Moreno, Sonia Mosley, Buffy Moura, Marlo

> Munoz, Yndalesio Nelms, Julie Nelson, Jason Nerwolf, Jerry Nesbitt, Kandi Nicolaides, Jerald

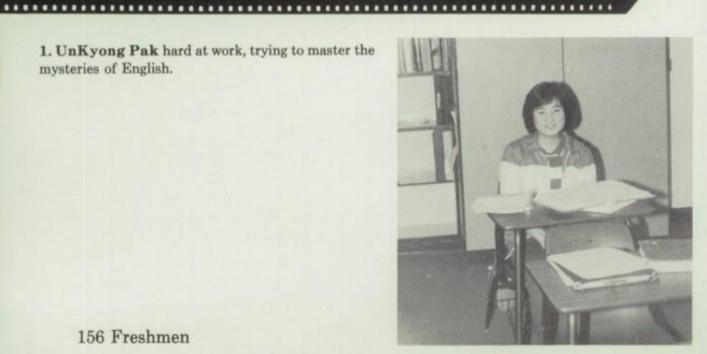

> > Norton, Kari Nouchi, Lisa Nowicki, Chris Nunez, Melissa O'Brian, David O'Lary, Travis

Orozco, Veronica Ortega, Adisla Padgett, Danny Padilla, Julio Padilla, Veronica Pak, UnKyong

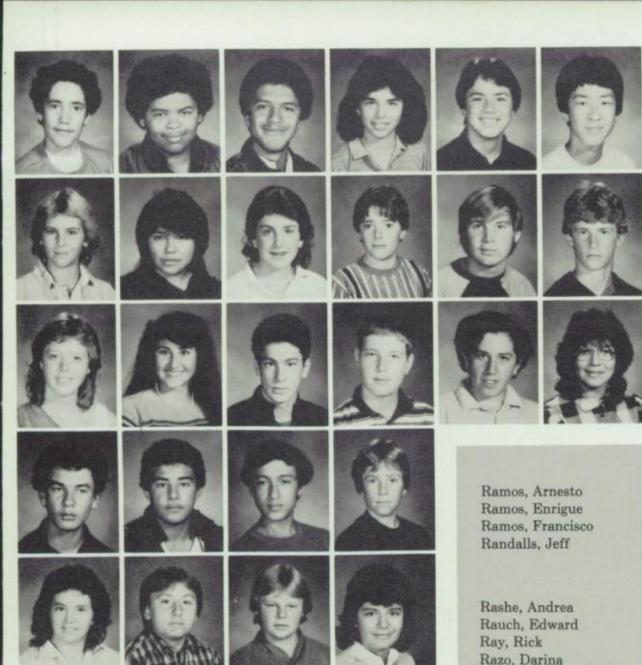

Pantoja, Patricia Parks, Leslie

1. UnKyong Pak hard at work, trying to master the mysteries of English.

Parra, Jose Pennington, James Perez, Alex Perez, Karla Perez, Time Peterson, Frank

Phillies, Michale Placenia, Olga Plagowski, Paula Preinilsz, John Pervatke, Charlie Price, Brian Pullen, Stacey Quintero, Allie

Quintero, Allie Rabulcava, Raul Ram, Tony Ramirez, Jesse Ramirez, Sonia

Korea Calling

From a small suburb outside Seoul, South Korea, Miss Pak had only been in California 9 months and was able to communicate well in English with interviewer Rick Megaloff.

Going to school in Korea was a much different experience for her. Korean schools are open six days a week, and the students have classes eight hours a day. Un Kyong thinks Korean schools are much tougher and the American students have an easy time. The Korean Teachers change classrooms, but the students don't. The students stay in the same room all day. In such a small country, everyone walks to school. If you don't think Korean classes were all that tough, check this: just the question of how tough Korean Math was gave her a headache.

Math was her favorite class this year. Mr. Albright was a great help. She enjoyed math in Korea and marveled at the difference at how it's taught here. The Koreans teach multiplication to what we would call first graders.

She loved Korea a lot and might go back there to live after she graduates. She's certain that she'll go back to visit at least once to decide whether the US is her new home. Her family moved to Castroville in April, and they still maintain their Korean traditions. She never did eat a Cafeteria lunch, preferring instead a traditional Korean lunch of Kim Pap.

Rede, Laura Reed, Dana Rentar, Charles Reyes, Brandon Reyna, Ramos Reynolds, Sherry

Richwine, Beau Ricketson, Kim Rios, Adrian Rioux, Tina Robasciotti, James Rodriques, Albert

Rodriques, Amanda Rodriquez, Carlos Rodriquez, Ricky Rogers, Martin Roland, Stacy Romero, Margarita

Rubalcava, Juan Russum, John Salazar, Gullernina Sanchez, Frank Sawyer, Melanie Sawyer, Michele

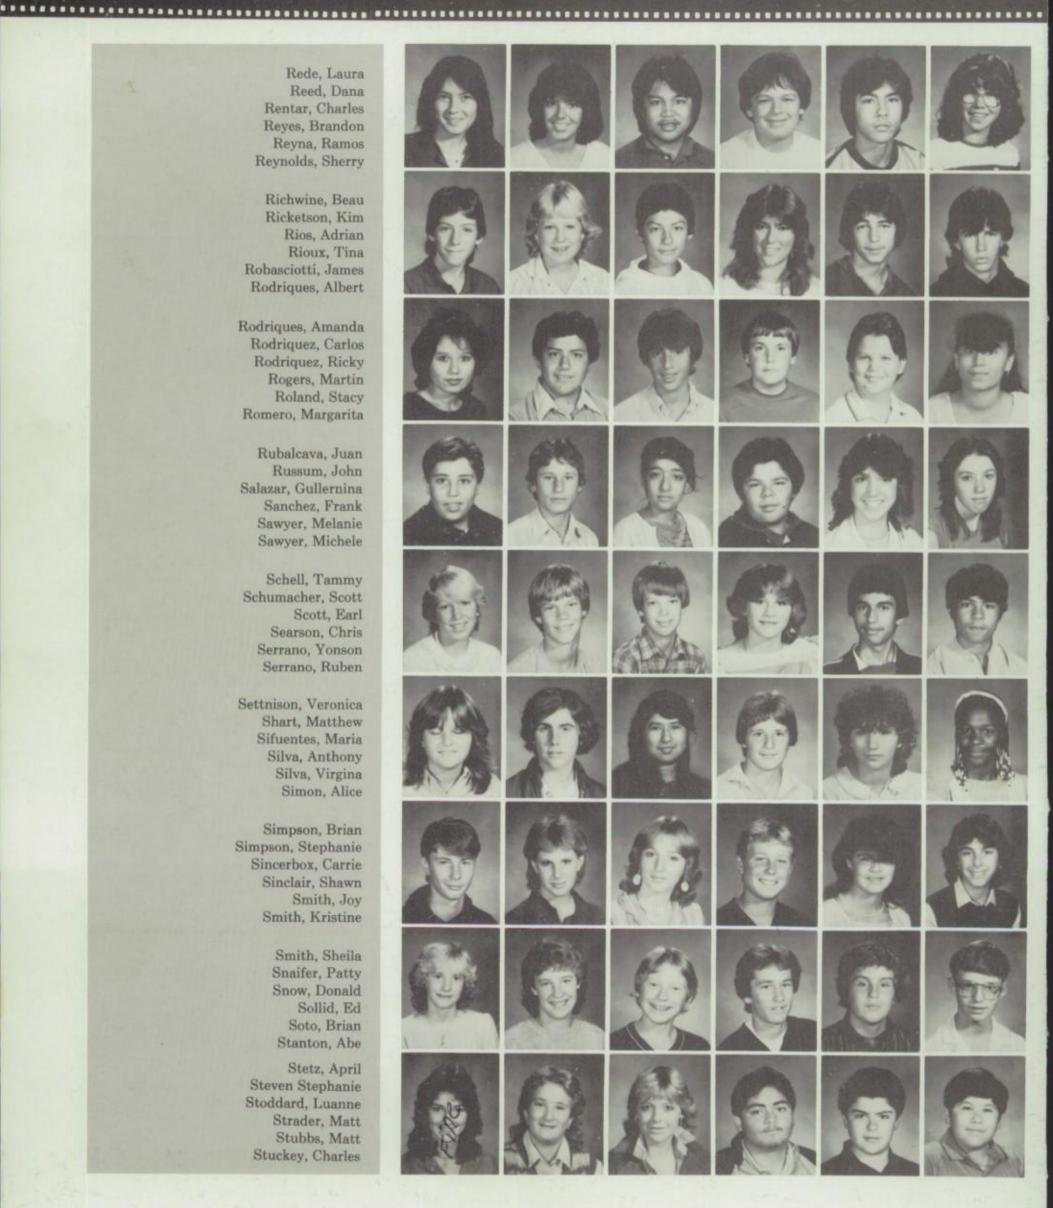

Schell, Tammy Schumacher, Scott Scott, Earl Searson, Chris Serrano, Yonson Serrano, Ruben

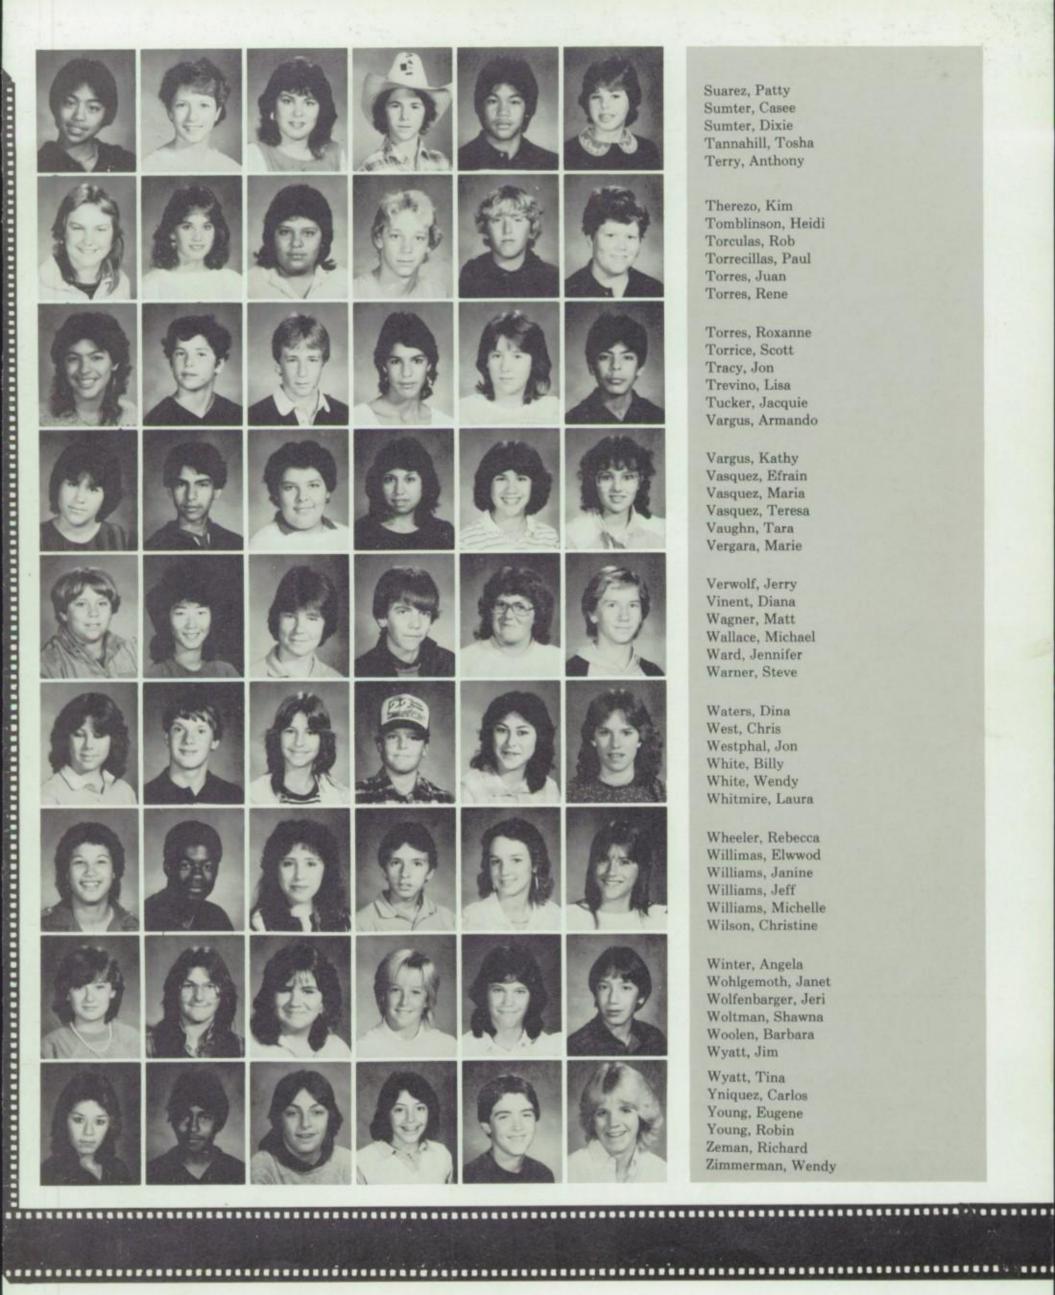

Settnison, Veronica Shart, Matthew Sifuentes, Maria Silva, Anthony Silva, Virgina Simon, Alice

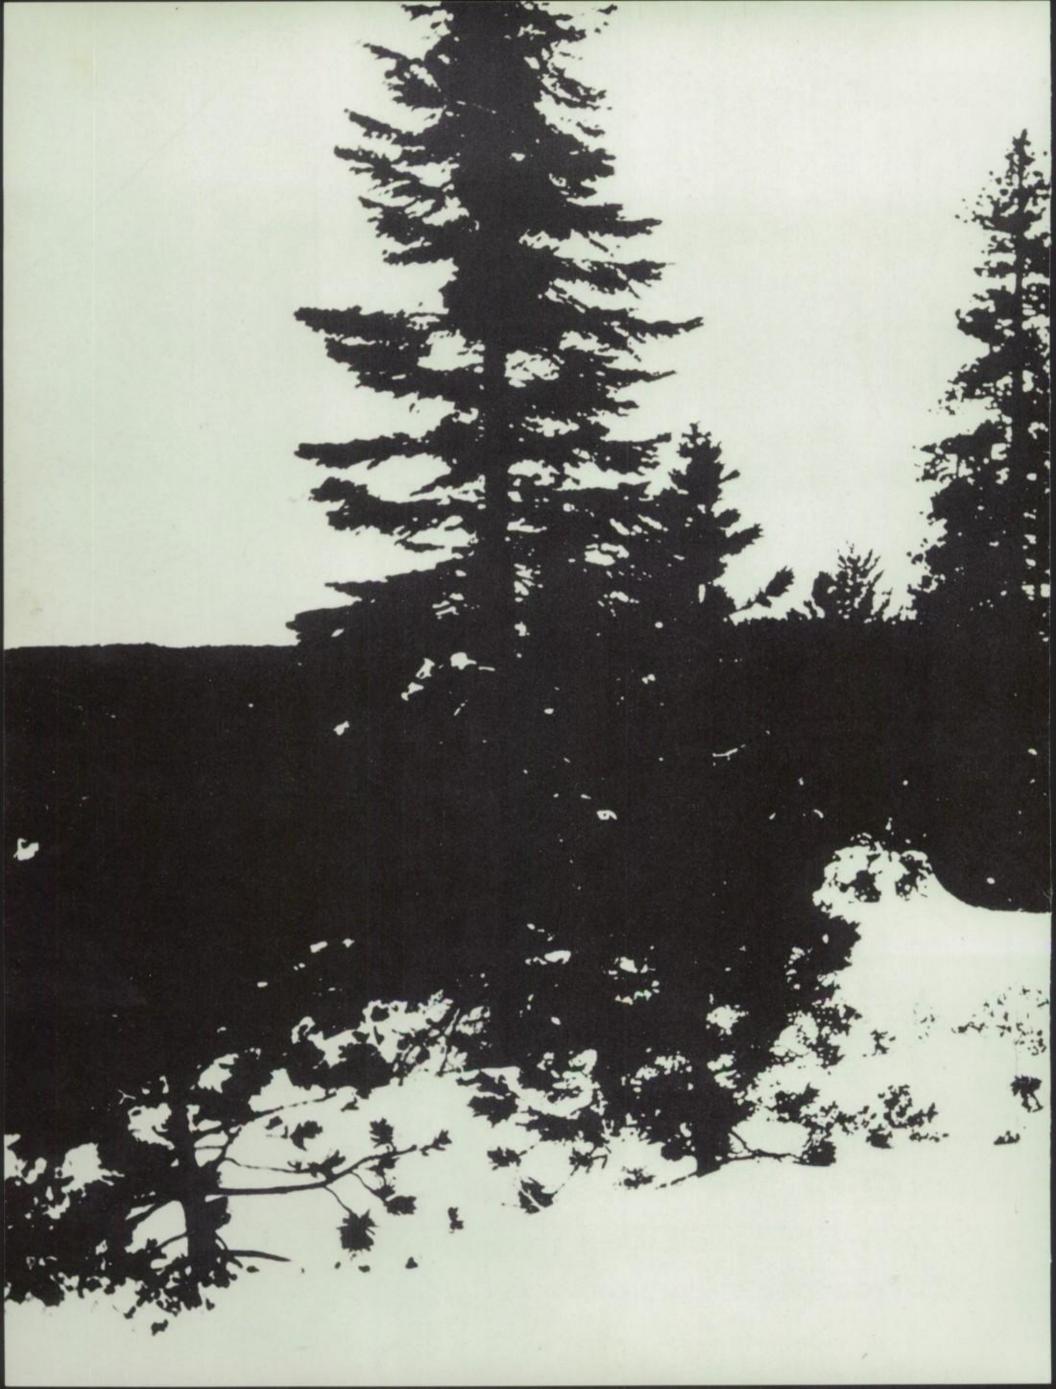

Simpson, Brian Simpson, Stephanie Sincerbox, Carrie Sinclair, Shawn Smith, Joy Smith, Kristine

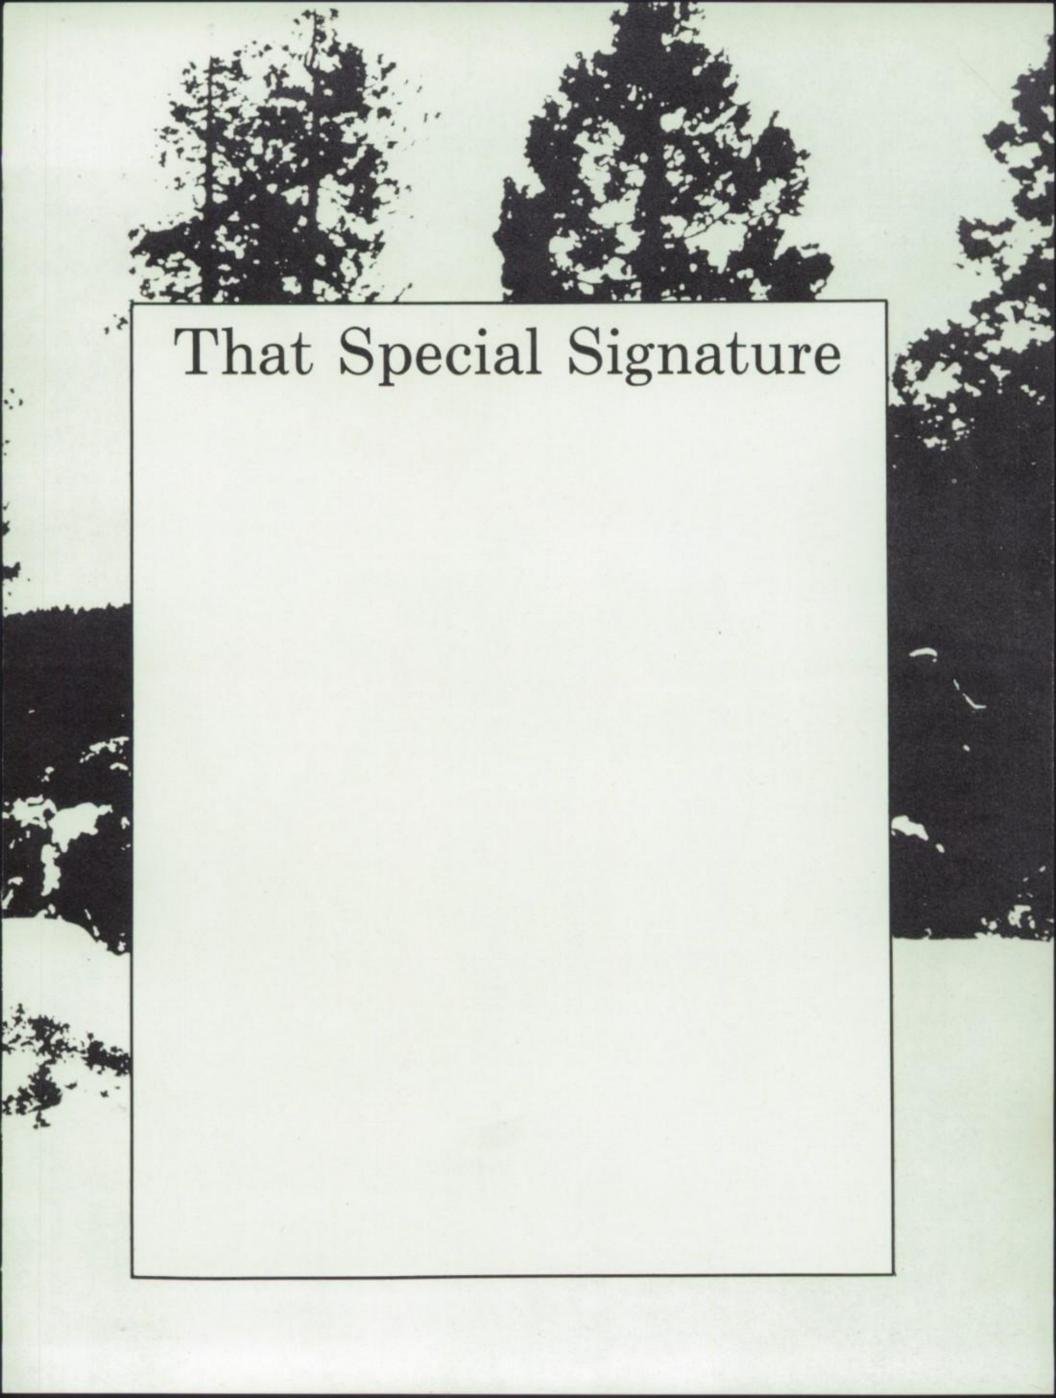

> Smith, Sheila Snaifer, Patty Snow, Donald Sollid, Ed Soto, Brian Stanton, Abe

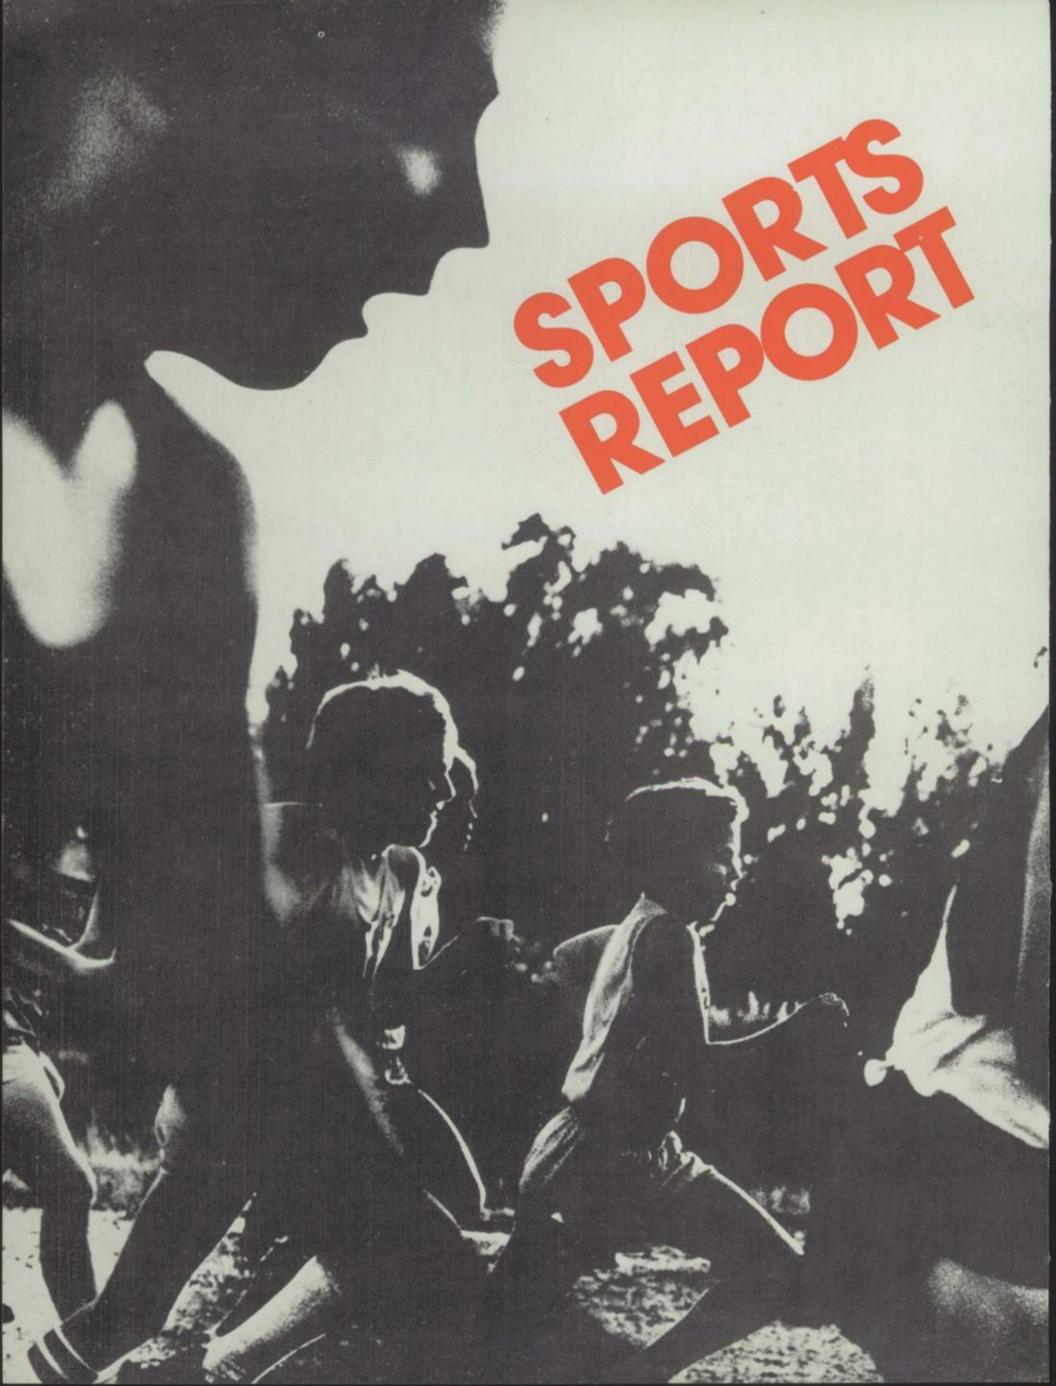

Stetz, April Steven Stephanie Stoddard, Luanne Strader, Matt Stubbs, Matt Stuckey, Charles

Running Down Destiny

North County Cross Country 84 was dominant once again! Coach Condon very delighted by the outcome of the Varsity, JV, and Frosh Soph teams. For the Varsity runners it was a tremendous running season. The members of this triumphant force were Sergio Para, Most Valuable Runner, he also took 7th place in Region IV. Arthur Gabudau received the Coaches Award and was 6th in Region IV; Dan Kaminskis, his greatest honor was in the Region IV-out of 120 runners, Dan placed 14th(it was his best run ever.) John Samudio placed 11th in Region IV, and Bill Dunston contributed greatly to the varsity team and won an abundant amount of awards at invitationals.

The Condor Junior Varsity team was also dominant as they won the JV league championships. The JV team was highlighted by Rick Brown, Alberto Valdez, and Tage Wolters.

Coach Condon said, "Though I've always had great teams, this is the greatest team I've ever coached, and I was very pleased with Arthur Gabudau's massive improvement in his senior year; also, the sincere senior leadership of Dan Kaminskis and Joe Ramirez. My highlight of the year was the Harbor Dul Meet, which showed overwhelming team effort." The team may look even better next year because there are already quite a few dedicated runners preparing for next year. Coach Condon looks forward to another successful year to add to our record.

For the Frosh-Soph runners, there was another winning position for the Condor Cross Country record look.

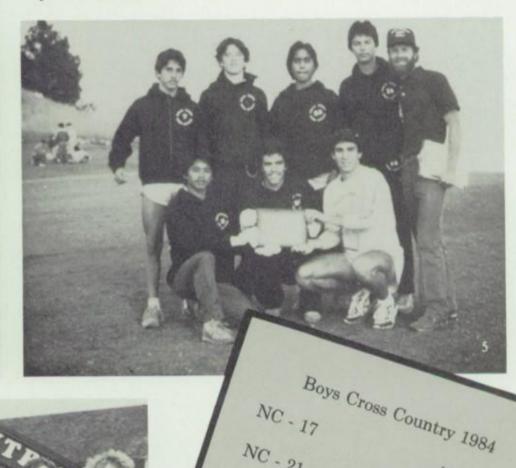

- 1. If you think she's lost, it's just Julie Klos, showing them who's boss!
- 3. Every stride achieved by Sergio Para, puts him a step ahead of his exhausted Harbor oppo-
- 4. Encouragement from Coach Condon is what Beau Richwine needs to place in the Soquel Invitationals.

NC - 21

NC - 26

NC - 27

NC - 22

NC - 18

League Fianls

Region IV

5. Coach Condon, Anthony Brandon,

Rick Brown, Jose Contrereas, Bill Dunston, Sergio Parra, John Samudio, and Marty Woolem.

Aptos - 45

Santa Cruz - 3

Harbor - 30

Watsonville - 38

Soquel - 39

First

Eleventh

First

The girls Cross-Country Team had an outstanding season this year. With only 1 loss in their 1st meet against Aptos, they've had their best season ever. According to the Soquel and Harbor coaches this was just "luck". The girls proved that hardwork and dedication pays off, by being frst in the SCCAL league championmanships. This was also classified as "luck". However, when the N.C. girls beat every single one of these team again in Region IV, losing only to Live Oak. the other teams realized NC really deserved it.

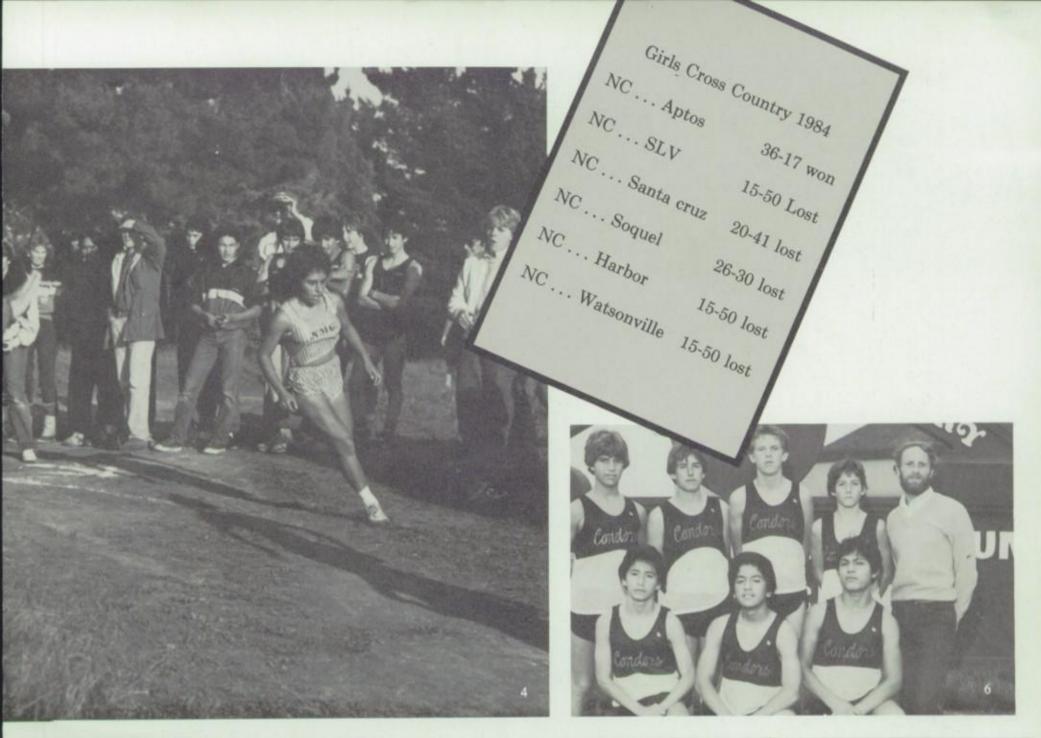

The girls team this year was young. With one senior, Julie Klos and one junior, Kris Turner, the rest consisted of mainly sophomores and freshman.

166 Sports

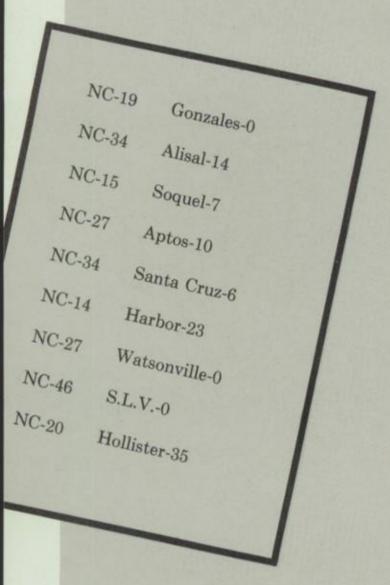

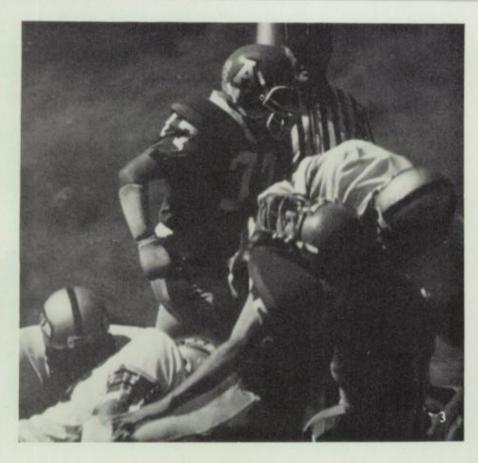

- 1. Andrew Gabudao, Dan Kaminskis and Robert Miles start to move away from the San Lorenzo Valley Runners.
- 2. It's all about making moves, and coaching as a team, shown by Coach Condon and well done by Mona Carnero.
- 3. Team: David Searson, Anthony Brandon, Elliot Smithson, Beau Richwine, John Coemona, Roberto Guteirrez, and Jose Contreras.
- 4. Just following the arrows, to a first place finish; its Irene Ruvalcaba, and Lyneth Castleberry.
- 5. Transfer, Marty Woolen his way to a second place finish in the Sophmore race of the League meet.
- 6. Elliot Smithson helps the Frosh-Soph effort at League competition.
- 7. Team: Girls Cross Country Melinda Banta, Ramona Carnero, Katie Emerson, Sheri Halkyard, Pat Jaurequi, Taura Kinkead, Julie Kloss, Samantha Mclaughlin, Kim Nuki, LORI Richards, Louanne Stoddard, Lyneth Castleberry, Lesle Bowling, Rose Johnson, Irene Ruualcaba, and Kris Turner

A Title At Hand

It's our 1984 Varsity Football Team, SCCAL champs! With a bad start at the Cabrillo jamboree, our tough athletes made a definite comback during all pre-league and league games. Their only league loss went to the half-hearted Harbor Pirates who defeated the mighty Condors at Santa Cruz High. After the shocking loss we knocked off the rest of the league to win the championships. Some players played so outstandinly well that they were named to the (famous) CCS team. Seniors Bill McCreary, the teams most valuable player, John Seltzer, MVP lineman of the year, Jeff Nelms, all Central Coast Section, and junior Frankie Borrero. named to the CCS team, were all the honorable athletes this year. The only sophomores on the NC Varsity team, Ron Candiloro and Mike Fowler, proved that they were tough as nails. Coaches Stupek, Roberts, Sugimoto, Souza, and Marquez, were proud of the SCCAL Champions as they made their way into the CCS playoffs.

4. Well, nobody is perfect. Jeff Nelms tries to break out of the grip of the Aptos defense, but it just wasn't possible.

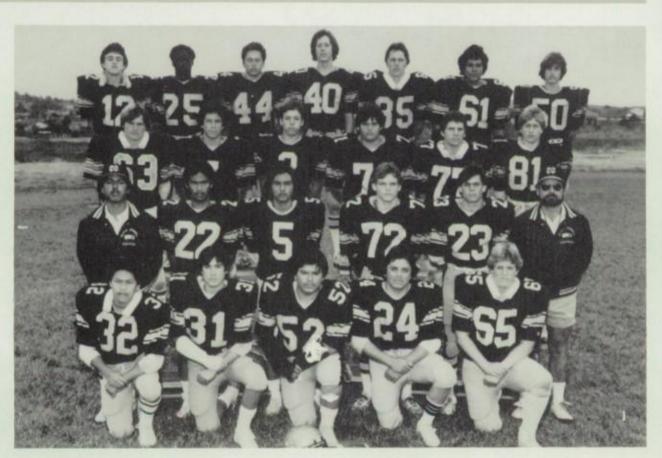

Tommy Henderson, Mark Moten, John Seltzer, Glenn Kaminskiks, Jeff Nelms, Bill McCreary, Brad Beadell, Jessie Ramirez, Lee Quisenberry, Keith Parker, Martin Munoz, Henry Aguillon, Rick Megalloff, Mike Fowler, Alex Rivas, Jim Pullen, John Nieto, Kip Joachim, Pat Ruiz, Soloman Ching, Larry Souza, Rodger Sugimot, Sonny Stupek, Wayne Roberts, Alex Cammos, James Nibbelin, Hung Pak, Andy Wilcox, Scott Pere, Julio Quintero, Phil Cobbaruvias, Rodger Monroe, Victor Ramirez, Hilton Metzner, Ron Candiloro, Frankie Borrero, Mitch Spiers, Romeo Mendoza, and Ignacio Paz.

Great Strides

Being winners comes naturally. The junior varsity boys were always champs in one way or another. Coaches Pieper and Caraveo put the potentially dangerous players on the field with high expectations. They were not to be disappointed as the guys beat SCCAL teams with scores like a 46-7 pounding of SLV. The awesome number 24 Steve Olvera could always be seen sprinting from one end zone to the other, and convincingly rushed for 2,000 yards. He was then moved up to the varsity team for the CCS playoffs. Jamie Jones made the game saving tackle against Soquel, stopping them on a 4th down do-or-die play. He and Merlo Medrano rushed for over 1100 yards between them. Overall, the "awesome teams" as Coach Pieper put it, had over 3800 yards of total offense and out cored their opponents with an average score of 35-4. After a rather disappointing season from last years JV team, this years exceptional team was a pleasant suprise to the Condor fans. The JV's drew impressive crowds to each of their games. Frank Knappe said that he thought football was great because of ... "All the friends he made on by being on the team." The entire JV football team deserves admirable credit for their style and smoothness.

1. Sal Jimenez, Jami Jones, Angel Garcia, Anrew Strader, Aaron Gallego, Jesse Diaz, James Rhodes, Chris Buss, Frank Knappe, John Baloga, Steve Campbell, Brian Hoskins, Bud Hollibaugh. Coach Careveo, Merlo Medrano, Joseph Babauta, Daniel Swain, Troy Morgan, Coach Pieper, Joseph Villanueva, Trankie Tiscareno, Steve Rivas, Steve Olvera, Chris Kaysinger

2. No, it is not Superman, it's Jamie Jones showing how it feels to put a stick on the opposing team.

3. It's all about manueverability, when Merlo Medrano is taking stride with the J.V offensive team

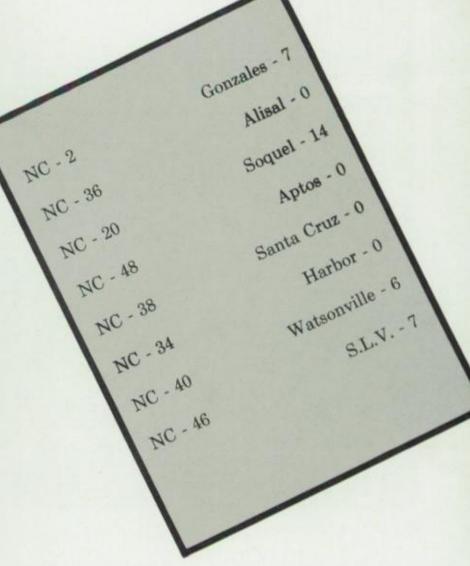

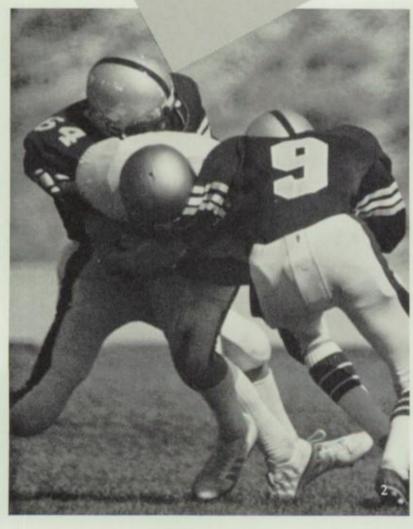

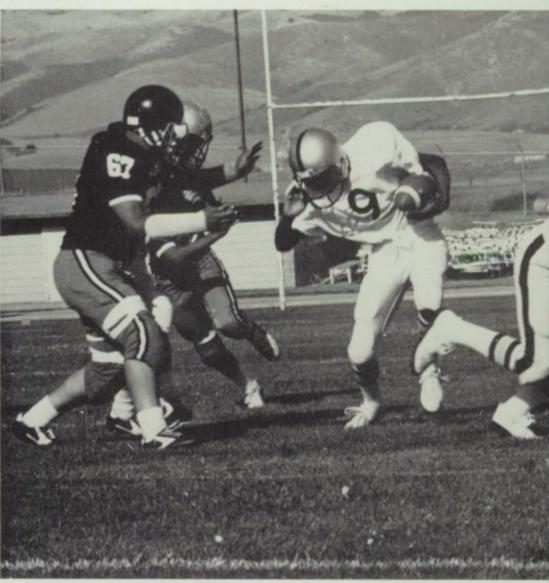

4. Yup! Steve Olivera waltzes to another well deserved J.V. touchdown.

5. The handoff from quarterback Frank Knappe was the first stage of an offense that really took off.

- 1. It's just Rick Marquez putting on his superb juke moves.
- 2. This isn't a candy bar, it's the Condor Crunch, executed by Jason Blackwell and Chris Hansen.
- 3. Freshman football stud, Elwood Williams, makes a break for the hole.

THE BEST AND GETTING BETTER

Full contact inter-scholastic football can be a jolting experience for a freshman boys "body." complains Phillip Jackson. Since they were so used to flag football in their junior high, very few of these young men knew what to expect from high school football.

"When I knew my mother was in the stands ..."

"I'm glad that I was on the Bulldogs, it prepared me for the stress and strain that I knew were expected from Coach Smith," exclaimed Mike Martinez.

After the first few games, it was evident to the fans and spectator's that this year's frosh team was championship material. More parents and friends began coming to the games to support this special bunch of guys. "That's what really made we want to play my very best," says Eric Campbell "When I knew that my mother was in the stands watching me, I wanted to do good for her."

All the teams members were stars, but the ones who shone the brightest were Phillip Jackson, Elwood Williams, and Rick Marquez. Most valuable player, Phillip gave his all in every game from the start to the finish.

The coaches award, which was achieved by Elwood Williams shows that he is great on the game field practice field, and the campus.

As for Rick Marquez, he showed his Condor spirit by earning the most inspirational award.

It's true that the three outstanding players gave a lot to this deserving team. but without all the rest of the guys, these freshmen could never have been the Frosh Champions of 1984.

Simpson, Sonny Mallory, Kevin Lococo, David Angelucci, Rick Marquez, Anthony Silva, Jeremy Heule, Eddie Solid, Scott Torse, Matt Grossen, Eddie Lopez, Carlos Inyquez, Ramon Diaz, Jessie Ramirez, Eric Martin, Gabriel Chavez, and Shawn Estigoy.

Coaches are candids too. Freshman football coach, Ed Smith is proud to show his look.

Serving Up Victories

"I didn't expect volleyball to be so much fun because it was my first year." said Angie Kryziak about this year on the team. But it was great!" Playing Varsity Volleyball is not just fun and games: there's a lot of work involved and an enormous amount of pressure. The winning tradition of North County High School weighs heavily on athletes in all programs, especially on volleyball players. NC are traditional heavyweights in league play and have added championship banners to the impressive display in the gym. The pressure to succeed in such an atmosphere is heavy and even a competent finish is not enough for many fans.

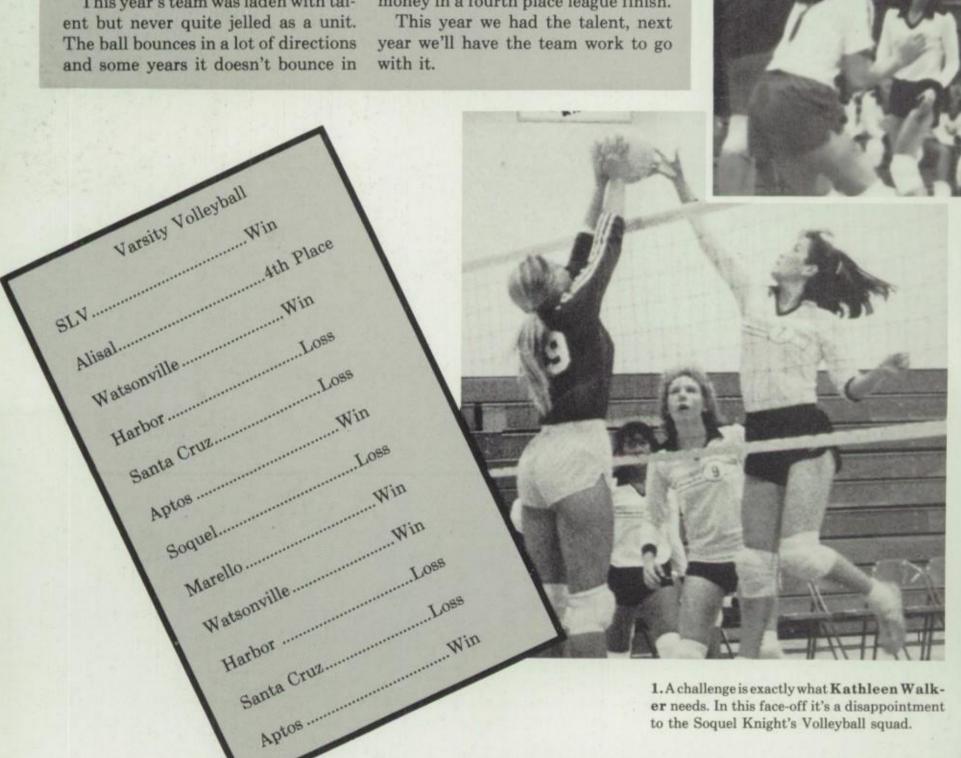

This year's team was laden with tal-

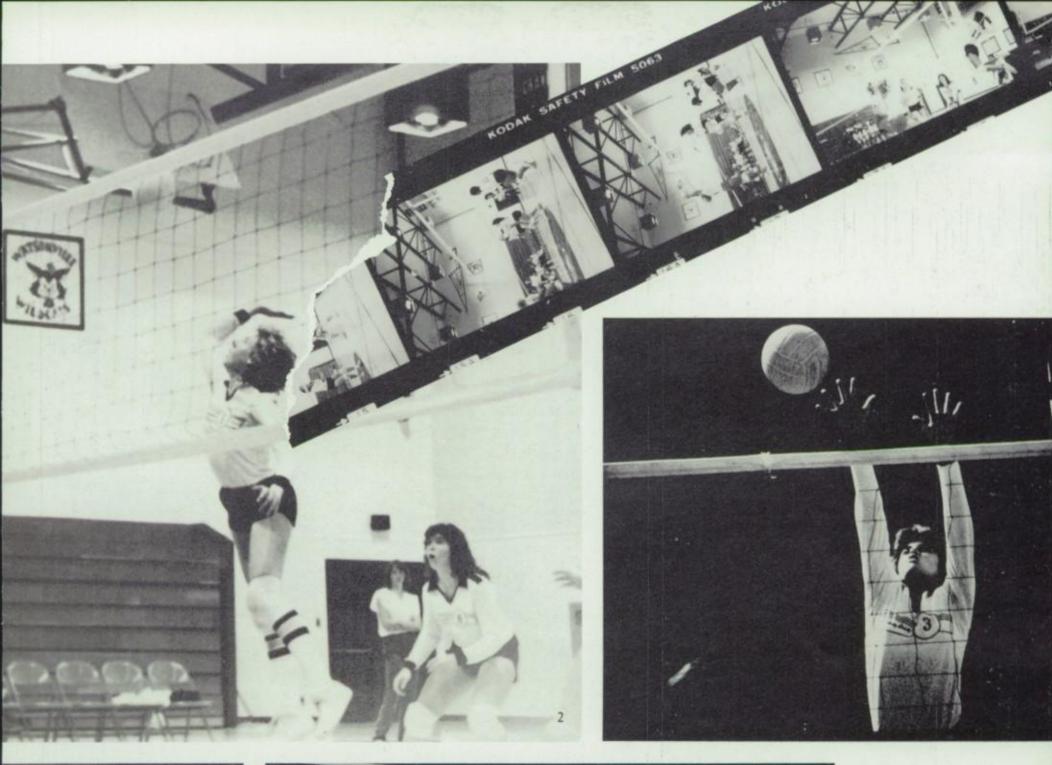

174 Sports

your direction at all. A number of close matches were decided in crucial moments when a spike or block by all league players just landed out of bounds. Even with the talent on the team, the Condor spikers still finished the league with a .500 record (6-6) a disappointment to some.

An early season loss to Harbor at the Alisal Tournament was credited to exhasution on our part, but it prooved to be an omen of things to come. We opened the league with a loss to Soquel, but then rebounded with victories over SLV, Marello, and Watsonville.

Double losses to Harbor, Santa Cruz, and Soquel put us out of the money in a fourth place league finish.

2. Red Alert! Red Alert! Ball coming through!
Bryn Byker thrashes the opposing team.

3. Stretched to the limit, Cathy Crime blocks a shot at the Alisal Tourney.

4. If it's not a spike, it's not Condor Volleyball. It's Angie Kryziak and Linda Cadle to prove this as a fact.

5. Team players: Tina Autry, Bryn Byker, Linda Cadle, Cathy Crume, Dionetta Doerfler, Ingrid Freese, Angie Krvziak, Jill Soper, Teresa Tarango, Kathleen Walker, and Traci Williams.

We Beat The Best

"Team leaders are hard to find," said JV coach Kathy Clark; our former varsity coach who has taken the younger girls to a formidable second place in league. "Lisa Trevino provided us with a consistently good attitude." A good attitude is essential for success in a tough league, but having talent doesn't hurt. "Although the sophomores were the experienced and active players," continued Ms. Clark, "the freshmen gave notice that next year's JV team might be unstoppable. "This year JV Volleyball team, although placing 2nd in league, can proudly claim they beat the best." Harbor JV's team who won the league TITLE, lost both times they played the Condors. It was through sheer desire, a lot of guts, and great team support that the North County Team conquered. "We showed the style of champions!" stated Rachelle Doman.

1. Team picture: Cathy Clark, Laura Whitmire, Julie Nelms, Rachelle Doman, Stephanie Simpson, Brigid McGinn, Michale Phillips, Alice Simon, Jennifer Williams, Shannon Gillogly, Dawn Robertson, Jana Jafova, Dee Harwood, Lisa Trevino, and Avako Okamura.

2. This blocked shot by Jennie Williams gave NC another point for their victory over Santa Cruz.

3. Team work is a virtue. Used by #16 Dee Harwood, #21 Jennie Williams, and #20 Stephanie Simpson.

OUR BEST TEAM EVER

As we all know, this season of Varsity Basketball was a great surprise for everyone. By using dedication, commitment, and a great desire to win, these superior athletes took themselves as far as possible.

Since NC has never been to famous for their basketball talents, this year's team proved that with the right frame of mind and hunger for success, anything is possible.

For the first time in Condor history, NC made the playoffs in the SCCAL. Leading the pack to the front was Jeff Nelms, Ha Jun Choi (Best guard in SCCAL), Everet Jenkins (The pure shooter), Jerome Pennington (Most improved Condor), and Brian Flores (The jet).

- 1. When there's ever trouble, Ha Jun Choi will always come through, to make his team that much stronger.
- 2. Fast break? For Brian Flores, it's always a fast break, because of his quick and responsive movement with the ball.
- As you can see, Jeff Nelms has determination and the ability to sky. The Watsonville Wildcats never stood a chance during this face off.

PINS AND NEEDLES

"Here they are, the starting line-up for NC JV's. "Cassy Layton (MVP), Mike Fowler, Jason Bigham, Eric Dean, and Todd Coehlo," These five outstanding guys plus the rest of the mighty Condors is what coach Jon-Amount Van Benschoten is so very proud of.

Pride, was a main factor in the JV's mind this season. Every game they attended these young gentlemen dressed with style and class.

"They were good, but needed some experience," says fellow basketball player Damon Clysson. Like Damon, other people really felt that this JV team showed a lot of promise and hope for the Varsity team next year.

MVP Casey Layton really made a great contribution to the team with his great talent and attitude.

"Casey's the type of person that always keeps a positive outlook even when things are down," says Mitch Spiers. "That's why he can play so well all the time."

Besides the JV's success, the Frosh team did a great job also. They won the SCCAL league championship being led by Phillip Jackson and Tim McLarney. Jackson averaged 12 points and McLarney averaged 7 rebounds per game. Good job Frosh!

1. It's not Superman getting ready for flight, it's

Captain Armando Cermeno
lookin for two. 2. JV Boys Basketball Team: Back; Rick Ray, Lance Merrihew, Tim McLarney, Sergio
Teran, Matt Strader, Coach Steve Maunder. Front; Eddie Lopez, David
Beaumont, Armanod Cermeno, Scott
Schumacher, Mark Taylan, John Candiloro.

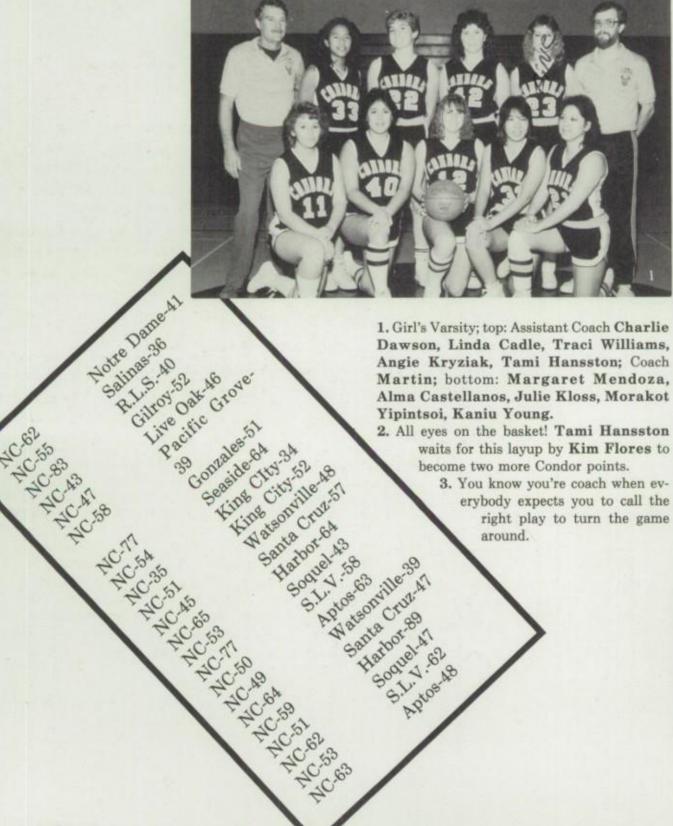

- Going for the kill, Mike Fowler against the Holister Haybalers.
   A lay-up for Layton; Casey drives for two Hollister's half hearted hopes are dashed by Bernie Casteneda's outstanding block.
   Frosh rebounder Mark Taylan snags under the boards

SOME GOOD ... SOME BAD

A strong start for the Varsity Girls was halted by a stunning loss to Gilroy, and the morale never seemed to stabilize as the team fluctuated from game to game. "When we play as well as we did tonight, we can beat any team in the league," said Kevin Martin, after a big win. But, there were other nights when the team just didn't have that undefinable whatever it takes to win. Even with the problems that varsity team had, there was still a chance at making the playoffs, right down to the end of the season. The right combination of who won and who lost wasn't there, and the Condors were out of the playoffs.

The never ending hustle of Angie Kryziak and Julie Kloss was complimented by the talent of Linda Cadle, Kaniu Young, and Tami Hanston. Coach Martin had praise for his two foreign exchange players: Morakot Yipintsoi and Tove Nylund.

"These girls are awesome!" That's a statement you don't hear very often, especially in JV Girl's Basketball, known for low-scoring, slow moving games. Well, you missed some dandy North County shoot-outs at the Condor Gym. The best thing was the scoring was decidedly lop-sided.

Coach Dave King was extremely proud of his league champions as they mowed down one opponent after another. Holding the opposition to two or four points a quarter was done on more than one occasion.

Sophomore Tina Autry was noted for her spirit and athletic ability. There were other girls who also contributed heavily to the team's success: Mona Carnero, Lori Hazen, and Tina Garza, just to name a few.

4. On the move, Traci Williams sets up the fast break.

5. Hopscotch isn't Kim Nuki's game; here she drives the lane for two points.

6. JV Girl's; top: Leslie Bowling, Jennifer Butterfield, Julie Nelms, Laura Whitmire, Coach Dave King; middle: Vicki Pablo, Ingrid Freese, Lori Hazen, Alice Simon; bottom: Tina Graza, Kim Galper, Tina Autry, Kim Nuki, Mona Carnero.

A pass down the lane from Lori Hazen sets up a basket against Soquel.

Bodyslam Dancing

Struggling to earn their success, the Carsity wrestlers go to great lengths to prove their determination. Since this hard sport of wrestling requires a lot of stick to it, Coach Lines found himself with a rather small but strong group of wrestlers in the end. The ones who remained on the team found great satisfaction in keeping the schools name in a 2nd place to Soquel in SCCAL. Some of the greatest assets to the team were exceptional athletes Martin Sandoval, Rob Torculas, Benito Calderon, and Carlos Perez. All of these members are CCS qualifiers and tremendous wrestlers.

All in all, the Varsity Wrestlers took what they had to work with and did their very best. Congratulations on an awesome season!

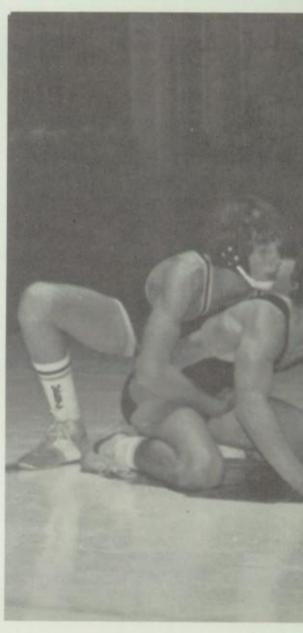

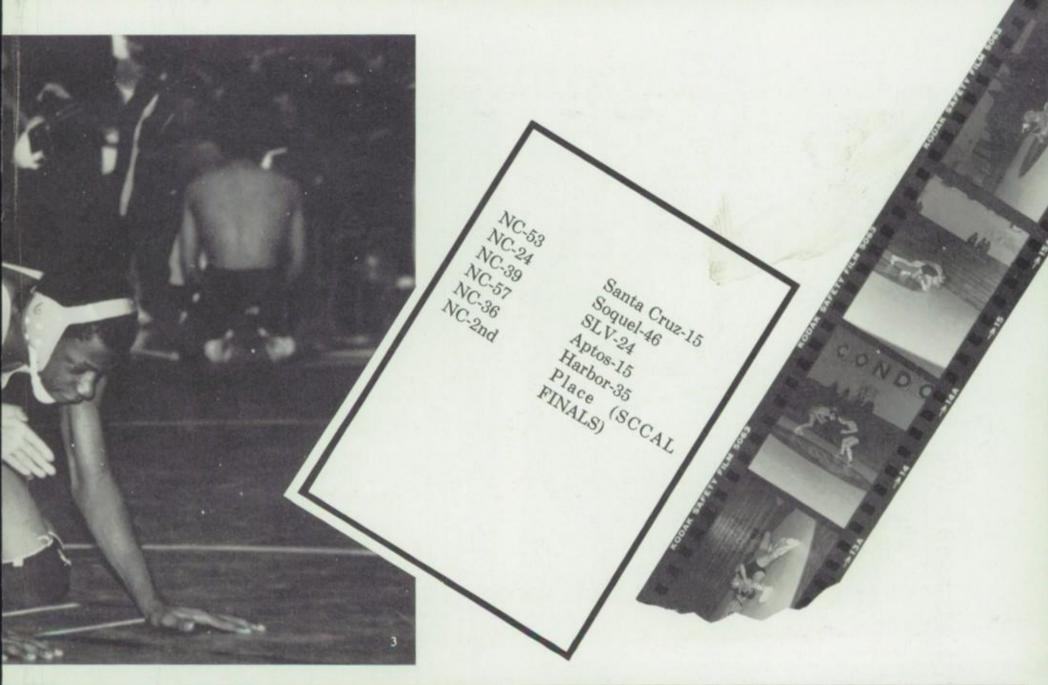

2. With a little effort, Jose Moya takes his opponent down for the pin.

3. No matter what it takes, Romeo Mendoza will always work for a pin.

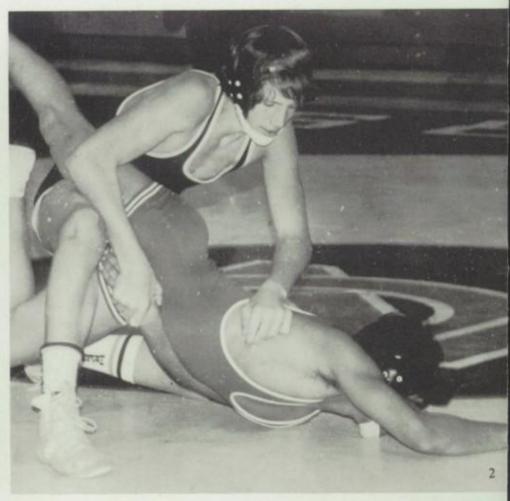

4. "He will never beat me!" With this attitude Chris Lines increases his chances of winning.
5. Apparently Jason Rose has total control of this match.
6. Another Condor wrestler doing his stuff on the mats.

Trophies, And More . . .

1. THE NC WOWS; Top: Kendra Pfannes, Angela Garavella, Paula King, Lea Lucero, Bottom: Sarah Martin, Coach Dean Lines, Candy Morgan.

2. Application of some leverage, leading to a pin scores points by Chris Lines, for the Condors.

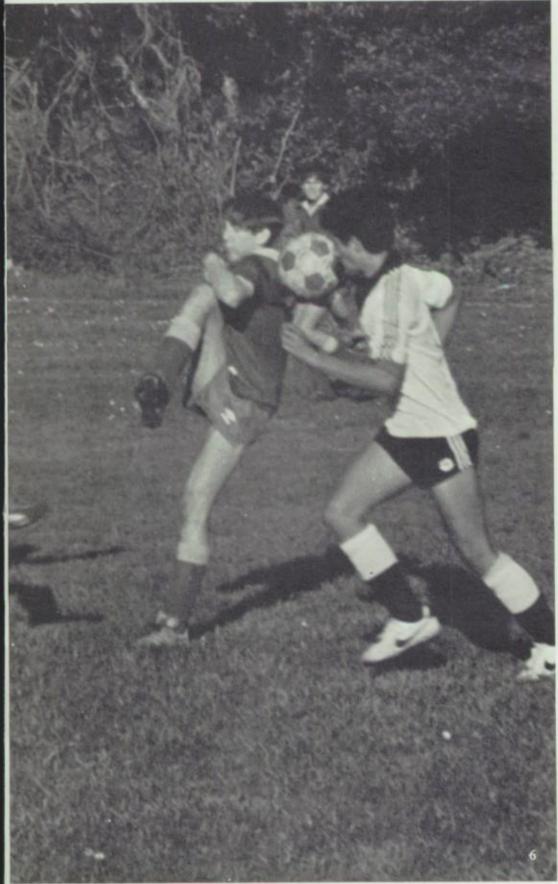

3. JV Wreslting; Top: Coach Lines, Carlos Perez, Kevin Lococco, Ron Tracy, Dan Swain, John Laughlin, Jim Byrd, Coach Ken Berridge. Bottom: John Smith, Duane Pierre, Carlos Martin, Rick Marquez, Jason Butterfield, John Tracy, Lee Martin.

4. Points, points, points; Duane Pierre getting some more against Santa Cruz.

Trophies

Bruised shins, headaches and the loss of breath is what comes from this exausting game called soccer, however, the sweet sensation of success is enough to keep the NC JV's on their toes at all moments of the game.

As for the real assets to the team, Rafael Martinez has a lot of the credits to take for his tremendous efforts as a supreme goalie. Ralph really showed a considerable amount of improvement throughout the season along with the rest of the team.

"Improvement was our main factor of success this year" said Coach Barnes. The JV's have come a long way.

5. JV Soccer; Top: Tim Barnes, Andrew Veter, Scott Dean, Chuck Crow, Ernesto Ramos, Geraro Anista. Middle: Jamie Gularte, Jose Marroquin, Efrain Vasquez, Ragael Martinez, Erick Dillbeck. Bottom: Eric Martin, Paster Marquez, Shawn Chamberlain, Francisco Rubalcaba, Jana Tafoya, Gabriel Chavez.
6. Not being afraid of his opponent, Geraro Anista shows his disguised soccer talents.

SOCCER ... A KICK IN THE SHIN

Did you say Football? Well Oliver Bohme did, but he wasn't talking 49ers. Now, Oliver knows that in Condor land, what he calls football is soccer over here.

Coach Vega's well rounded team has done an extremely respectable job this year on the field. The hard effort they put out resulted in bruised shins, headaches, and being breathless. "All this suffering has been well worth it," says Coach Vega.

"These strong athletes earned 5th place for their efforts this season, outstanding all league members, Jaime Alonzo and Tony Lozano," he goes on to explain.

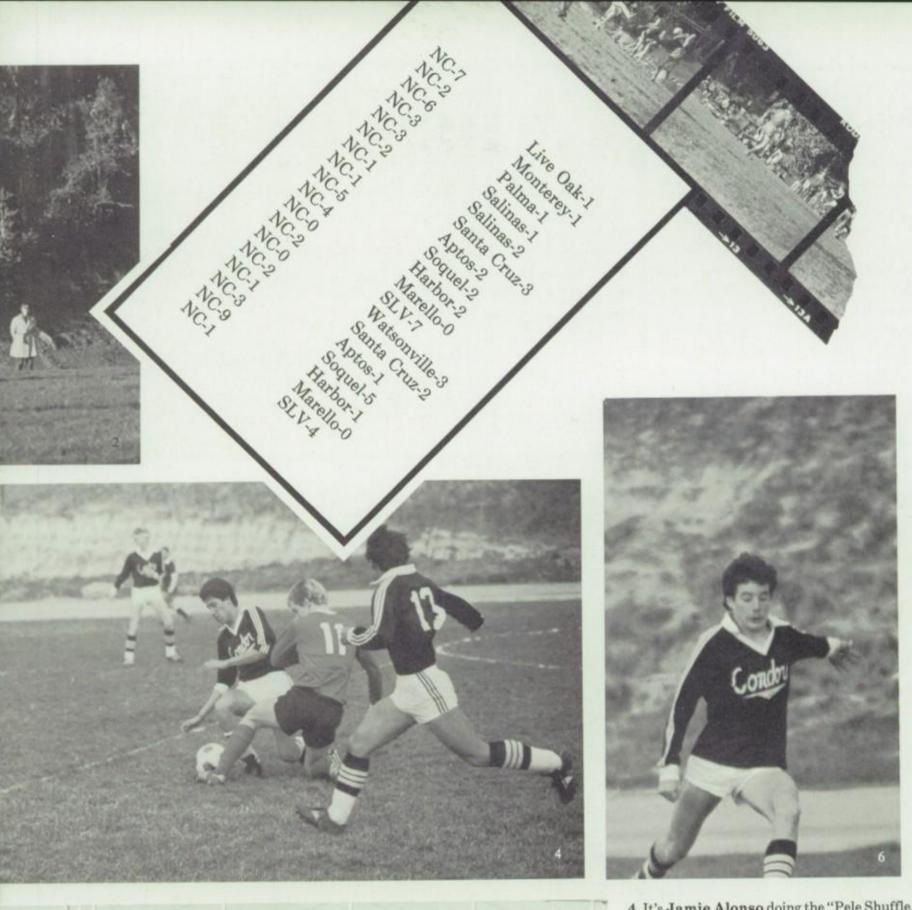

Overall, the Condors had a respectable 11-9 record for thier season's efforts. They should be extremely proud for their great 84-85 season.

- 1. Legmen are not just in gangster movies, here's Legman Oliver Bohme booting a soccer ball across the field.
- 2. There he goes, Gregorio Avila beats him to the kick.
- 3. Heads up plays is what Condor soccer is all about.

4. It's Jamie Alonso doing the "Pele Shuffle."
5. Varsity Soccer Team: First Row-left to right;
Roberto Hernandez, Billy Gilfillan,
Adrian Urquidez, Lance Bryson, Paul
Dorney, Gregorio Avila, Ignacio Paz.
2nd; Oliver Bohme, Sergio Parra, Jaime
Alonso, Tony Lozano, Marcos Corona, Arturo Castrejon.

3rd; Coach Carlos Vega, James Hardwick, Scott Bryson, Curtis Ambrister, Jesus Ramirez, Toby Halstead, Assistant Coach Gene Bryson.

6. Ahead of the pack, giving the ball a whack, it's Paul Dorney going for a goal.

WHO'S ON FIRST?

Foul balls, home runs and line drives, these are the signs of spring on the windy NC field. The winds blow cold across the notorious Salt Flats at NC. More than a few right fielders have felt frostbite after a long inning during a cold March afternoon.

With an unexpectedly good pitching staff, this year's Varsity diamond cutters showed great improvement during the early season games. The record breaking cold winter snapped in late February, bringing spring rites of practice. Coaches Roberts and Souza felt their best player of the early season were Mitch Spiers, John Nieto, Johnny Sammvdio, and Lee Quisenberry.

These are not the only good people on the team, but they're the stars that shined.

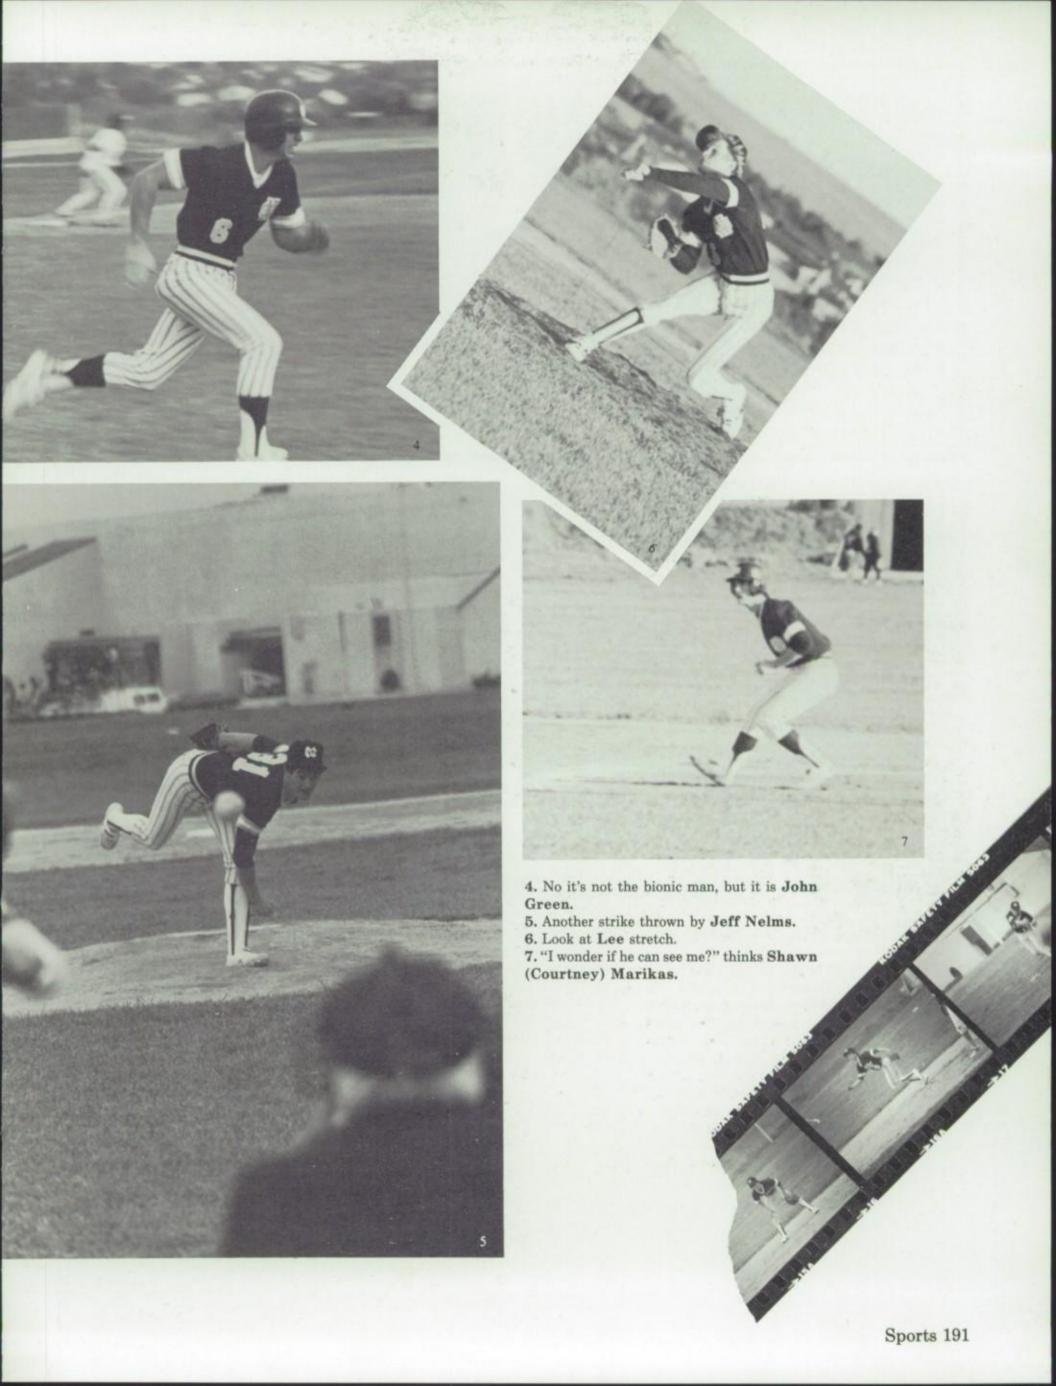

1. To give signals is one thing, to successfully transmit them is another. Coach Roberts knows his are easily understood.

2. Top Row: Coach Roberts, Glen Kaminskis, Jeff Nelms, Jason Bigham, Lee Quisenberry, Coach Souza, Middle: Paul Venosdel, John Samudio, Keith Parker, John Nieto, Andy Wilcox, Matt Haney. Bottom: Phil Salacup, Bernie Castenada, Mitch Spiers, John Green, Shawn Marikas.

Across the plate comes John Nieto for another Condor point.

STRIKE THREE, YOU'RE OUT

Having an awesome season is not surprising for the '85 JV's, but it doesn't just come naturally. Lots of hard work is involved in the preparation for their games.

"One thing that I've really noticed is how much our hitting power has increased since the beginning of the season" said Tina Garza, "Lori Hazen hit a homerun at the game against Salinas High;" a first for her. As for the coaching, Mr. Pieper is in his 1st year as the J.V. coach, but is doing extremely well. At practices, it's quite obvious that he's used to coaching boys football rather than girls softball.

As for the Condor boys Steve Olvera is leading the way with a .500 batting average. Not only is Steve a slugger but he is accompanied by star players such as Bud Hollibaugh, Elwood Williams, John Baloga and Bret Ervin. Coach Ferrara knows that next years varsity team will be better than ever. Good job J.V.

1. Top Row: Coach Marikas, Michael Phillips, Lori Hazen, Lara Whitimre, Dawn Roberson, Lisa Chaldek, Coach Pieper Middle: Becky Jimenez, Linda Chaldek, Annette Contreras, Rose Mary Contreras, Lisa Trevino, Tina Wyatt Bottom:

Dolore Lopez, Tina Garza, Cheryl Clark, Christine Lucero, Lorena Medina 2. Laying down the Bunt is no problem for Lorena Medina.

3. "It's all mine!" thinks Buck Alexander.

A SLIDE FOR SUCCESS

Coming on strong with power hitting expertise, the Varsity Lady Condors are earning their well deserved perfection. On the mound, Teresa Deaton, Jana Tafoya, and Tami Hanston use their talent to strike out all the enemies meager attempts of a hit.

In the infield, Hiedi Hoskins and Stepahnie Simpson can take care of all the throws to first base for the easyout. Onsecond Vicki Rochester and Teresa Tarango always go for the tag on the steal. And at third, Jana Tafoya can make the catch which will stop a run.

At home plate we have Tina Autry and Tammy Silva, who never give up without a fight. But, if a ball manages to get past our expert infielders, out expert outfielders are there to the rescue. In left we have the crazy Hawaiian Kaniu Young and Vickie Pablo, in center Cheryl "Motley" Ruiz and Kim Adair, in right Stephanie Gomez and Tiffany Hazen. Coach Johnny Deaton expects great performances from all players.

- Looks like a home run for the Varsity Girls Softball.
- From home runs to base hits Jana Tafoya goes for a triple.
- 3. Like a numerous amount of her pitches, Teresa Deaton throws another strike.

TRACK & FIELD

Waiting anxiously at the blocks, eager Condors are ready for another championship season that has so far come naturally in the past seasons.

Starting off with two winning meets, N.C. left Los Gatos and Soquel in a trail of cinders. Great results are the expectations of the coaches of '85.

"We've won 21 meets in a row," said Coach Steven L. Hirt to his sixth period class. "Since we haven't lost a meet yet, I don't expect any difference this year, at least that's what I hope."

Some of the exceptional runners on track are in different categories. In distance Dan Kaminskis and Arthur Gabudao are the leaders of the N.C. pack.

Out of all the members, Coach Simpson praised his stud sophomores: Jamie Jones, Robert Miles, Mike Fowler, Marty Woolen, Merlo Medrano, Troy Morgan, and Peter Moore. "The team strength is the Sophomores," continued Coach Simpson. "They are giving us great potential for the coming years."

SPIKEBUSTERS!

"Hurdling is a brutal sport!" was heard from more than one spectator after three Condor girls bit the grit during the first home meet of the season. A taste of road rash only showed the determination of the girls as they blew Watsonville out of the saddle. Next on the hit list was Soquel. The girls turned out the lights on the Knights and were on the hunt for more league victims of the black and silver wave. Mona Carnero, Julie Klos, and Colleen Rule dominated in the relay and sprints with Linda Cadle helping with big points in the jumps. Angie Kryziak gave us a big boost in the field events. Lyneth Castleberry led the girls in a traditionally strong distance—the two mile.

5. Frosh-Soph: Top row: Coach Stuart, Coach O'Sullivan, Peter Moore, James Rhodes, Ron Bond, Jason Blackwell, Jess Lopez, Brian Degroot, Mike Fowler, Robert Myles, James Pennington, Toby Halstead, Mike Martinez, Coach Hirt, Coach Simpson. Middle: Jamie Jones, Erick Campbell, Sean Leonardini, Troy Morgan, Steve Campbell, Chester Thurber, Armando Cermeno, Merlo Medrano, Dave Ramirez, Abel Arellano, Jason Nelson, Dan Bech, Melchor Hererra, Eric Dean. Bottom row: Mark Talon, Mike Dames, Chris Bass, Scott Toves, Anthony Brandon, Rob Balducci, Mike Dunson, Patrick, Andrew Gabudao, Roberto Gutierrez, Tim Prez, Eric Martin, Charles Rentar.

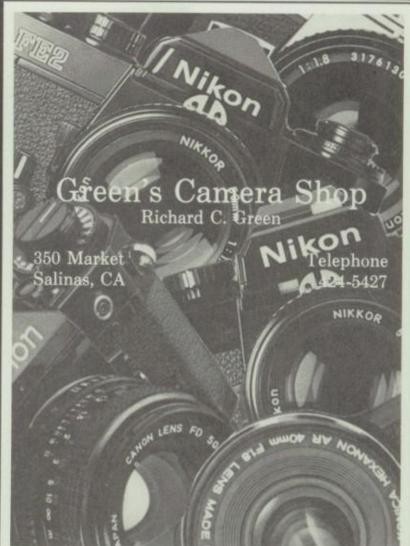

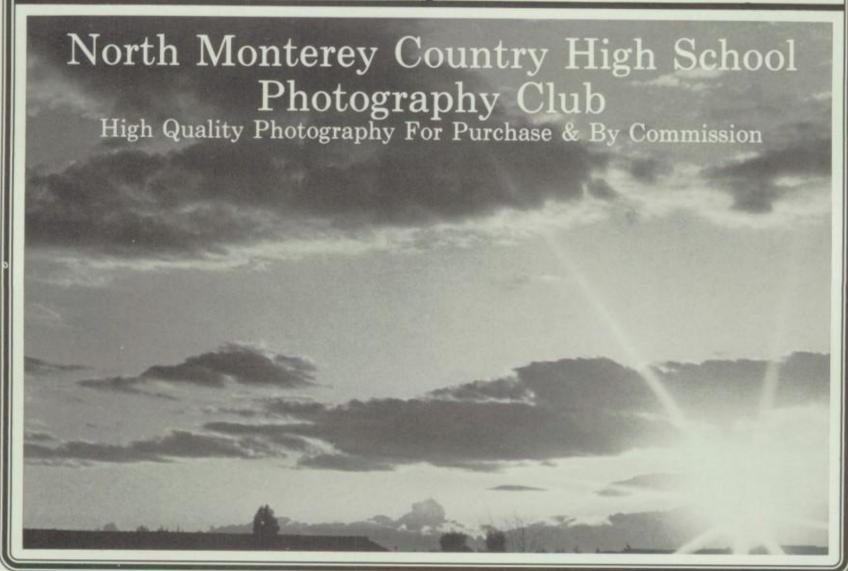

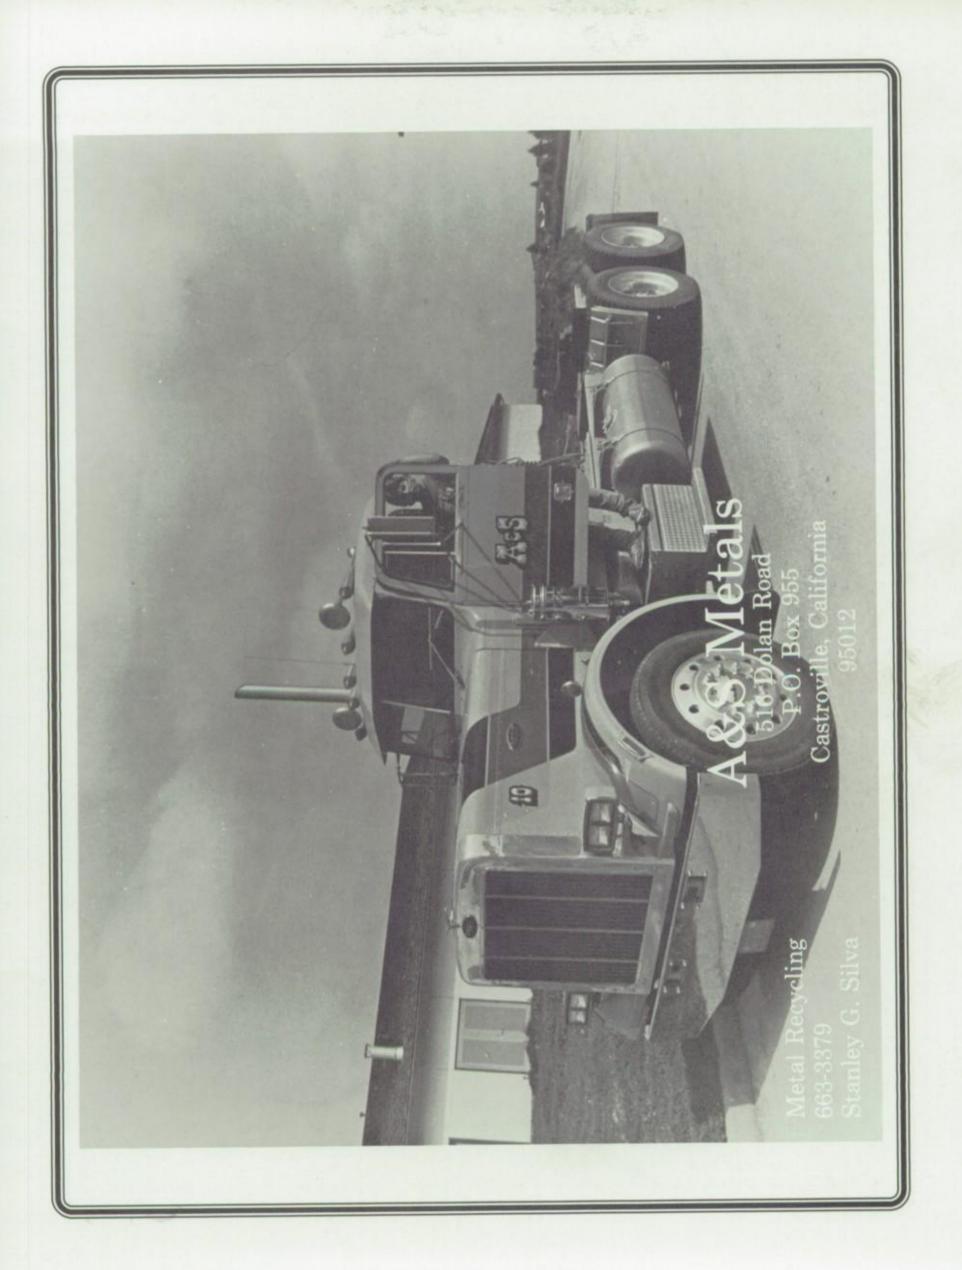

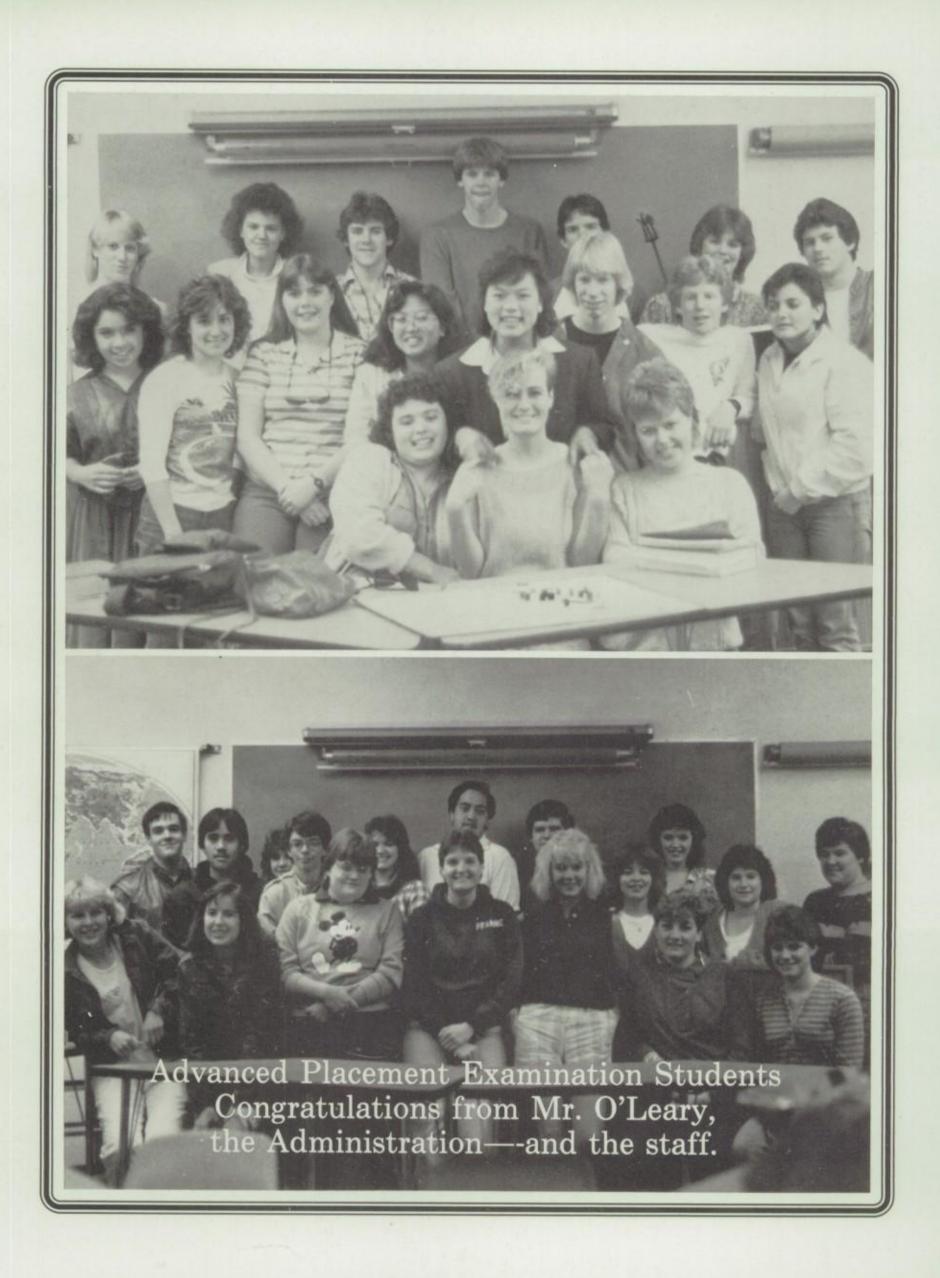

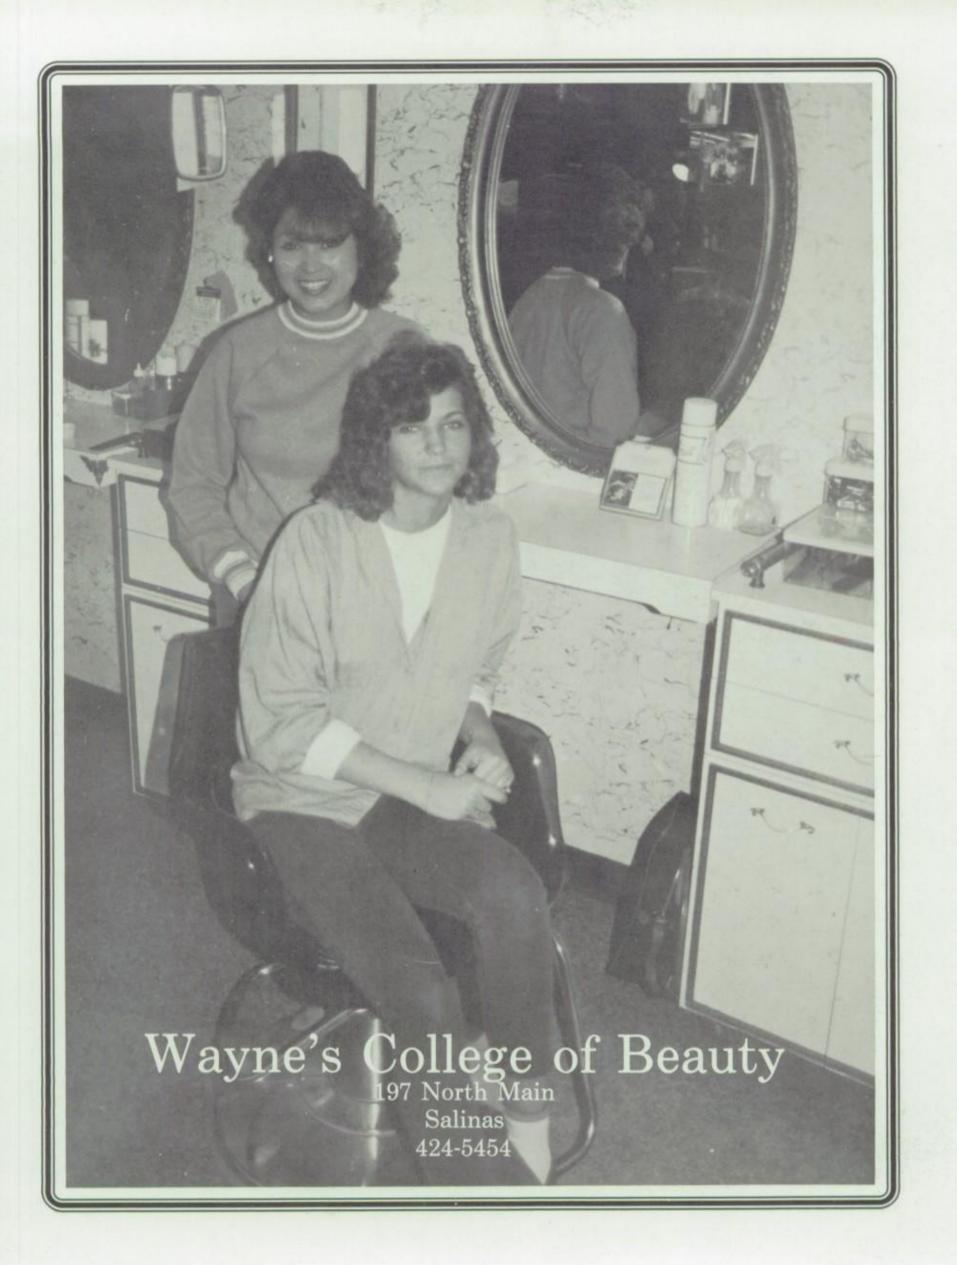

Hey Killer's, you've been the greatest friend anyone could ask for through the years. Always remember the mixtures, orange juice and 7up (straight). Have fun at (cow) poly!! Have you seen the jerk? (Smiley) Remember the friend poem? Every word was wrote just for you. Let's party (k). Don't worry about the Blob, it'll come around. Don't forget to keep in touch when you jet from here. Well bud, (catch) ya on the rebound. Love ya and bestfriends always, Awesome. P.S. Nightmare On Elm Street (movie time) (Your My Bestfriend)

Steph: Green M & M's forever: Tim

T.D. Lewis: Careless Whisper forever-:Tim

Eva & Lisa, I'm glad we're friends. Berly

Julie, It's been great having you as my best friend. Thanks for everything. We have had some good times. I hope they don't end. I wish you the best of luck in the years to come cause you deserve it. Mona

Ingy, B.B.B.F. Dawn

To my teddy bear. I will always love you. Everything will come to you. Nicole

J.L. Hey Thrasher Dude, remember the "Party Dudes?" What laughs. S.C. watch out, the dudes are comin. Say: Dancin In Berlin!! Cruisin, fine dudes in (white) B.M.W. Let's always remember the great times in S.C. (Cheerleading Camp) "SO get on down" Rollerskating up and down north main.

Dude, we'll be great bud's forever. So keep on Slurpen those Slurpee's (k) Coke-Cola, 7up, (mixtures) Smile always my friend. Love & Frenz, Thrasher Dude #1

Angela: Want to be your loverboy

"Who's Bart?! J.R.

From your baby. I love you, Swish

Angie! (Rush between your legs)

Julie and (Tubz)

Joy: Love you always, Swish!: Tim

RON CANDILORO- The guy who paid the price for my flaups. You stood in there like a pro. I owe you. PHIL COBARRUVIAS

Hey Baby, things are only gonna get better now. I love you!!! Kim

To: Carmen Gil. Ded: Time Will Tell, I'll be there. From: Jesse Escobedo

Kendra, To my best friend! Good Luck! Let the good times get you through the bad, remember prison letters, Four Stars, Purple Rain, March Third, Flower Men, Volunteering Senioritus, "Ben", and my "Fishing Trip" wear your Best Shoes! Got the Memphis Blues. O Boy! Katrin

Paula-Missing you already (after cern a in iffilia allein ichtige college lets Double Date! If you pay for dinner, I'll pay for Gigoios!!!)

Jeff P. Hey Eugene!! Kim, Tam, & Me

Mom & Dad, your the greatest! Thanks for everything but, I'm still dreaming about my black/gold Porsche, I still have faith. Love your only baby, Tam "85"

Melanie, Sarah, Lisa, and Lea: Your the best buddies ever, let's go to Pennsylvania all you SNOWBIRDS! 928 Porsche* forever. Have a whith future and don't forget to keep "Schmegn!" Keep in touch all of you Barnies! Love ya all, Tammy "85"

Mitch - "What!?" - J.R.

Andy Wilcox: I'll love you forever and ever. Love Kim Therezo

I'm proud of La Fille Bizarre. J.C.

Nick - I love you - Jacqueline

Nice Boy: More than complakes

Thanks to everybody who made th year the best for us! Love, Tolive and Ove

Nancy: You have been everything in the world to me and hopefully you will until I'm old and gray. I'll love you forever! Mark

To the smooth success of "Project Moosehead." Too bad we left 5 feet. "J" failed. PJBJP. "Bumpbusters"

Mona, It's donuts! Min.

P.C. and P.S. - the best! To all the memories of bushmen and mooseheads. M.G.-my social advisor John Green

Scott, I hope your life is a happy one. You'll always be special to me. Love Patti

Ivan, I'll be yours forever. Christy

David, Always remember I love you. Eternally yours, Cathy Jodie, Susan, and Holly: Thanks for being such good friends and most of all for trying to understand me.

Mom and Dad: Thanks for all your support and for helping me through school. Love Kim

Arthur: Thanks for making this year so special. Good luck always-I'll never forget you. Love, Kim

A.K. You are what most friends will never be. A true friend but not just to me. Many others feel the way I do, we just want to say, "We'll miss you." Thanks for being a friend. T.A.

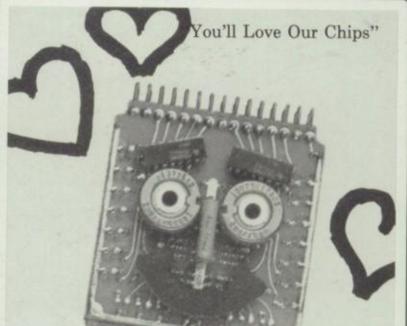

Big Bro- I love you! Always, 9. Your little sis

Romeo-Hey cuz! Howzit? Just wanted 2 tell u that u r the greatest friend in the world and I wouldn't have made it this far without u. Remember Homecoming, Drafting Comp. (Elmo,) haystacks and mountains, beach ball, and just out having fun. Take care my friend. Love ya lots, Kaps

Raymond, Remember that I love you always, Kapio

DATAPHILE:

COMPUTERS-SOFTWARE-PERIPHERALS

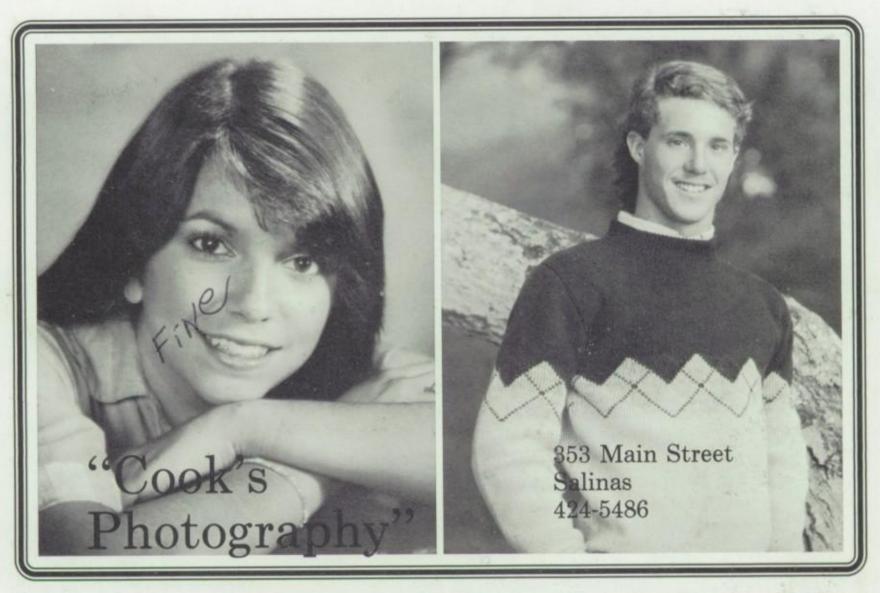

Ty Williams 408 • 724 • 3322

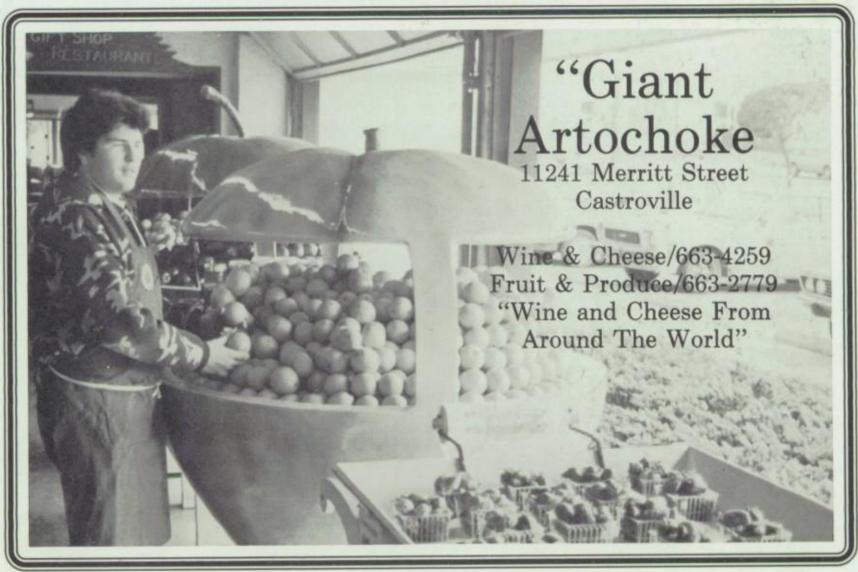

1504 Freedom Blvd. Watsonville, CA 95076

Weddings Portraits School Photography

Dori's Photography

160 Pajaro St. Salinas 422-4752

On February 16, 1985, North County Senior Martha Bravo lost her life in the surf at Moss Landing's Jetty Beach. Her modest swimming abilities were no match for the frigid water and the treacherous rip.

Running through the cool breeze on a misty Saturday afternoon, Martha Bravo was intrigued by the waves of the ocean. These waves were the ending of her life. She left behind unforgettable memories; filled with happiness, joy, and laughter.

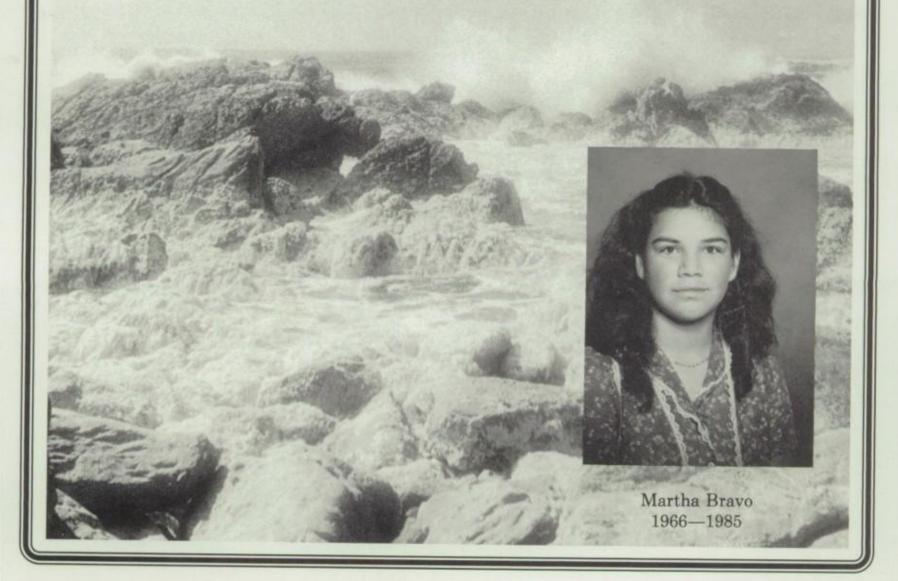

Through her senior year, she had been looking forward to Graduation Day. Just as she was anxious to graduate, she was especially excited about Grad Nite. She planned to live it up that night and celebrate with gusto!

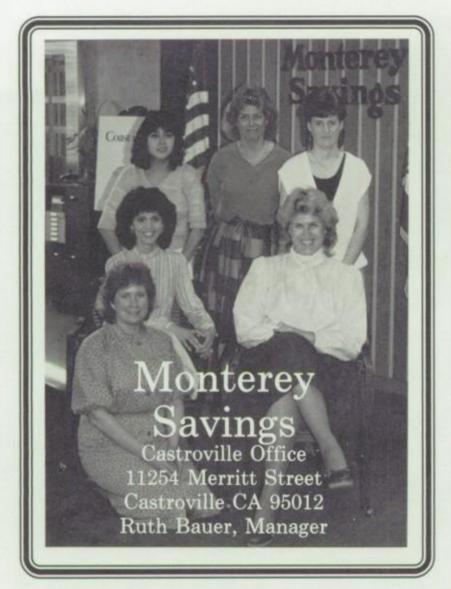

Martha was not as fortunate as many teennagers. Privileges that others take for granted were denied to her. She still seemed to always look on the bright side of a situation and make the best of it. She would take the sunshine and let it shine in her smile.

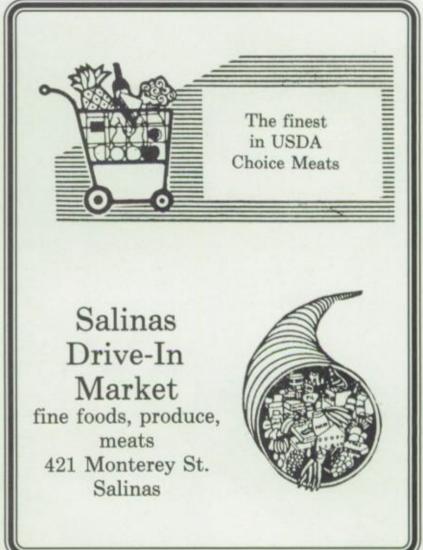

Her favorite things were chocolate, cartoons, and the group Menudo. To further her education, she planned to go on to college, and come back to share her knowledge with others; the desperate and impoverished in Mexico.

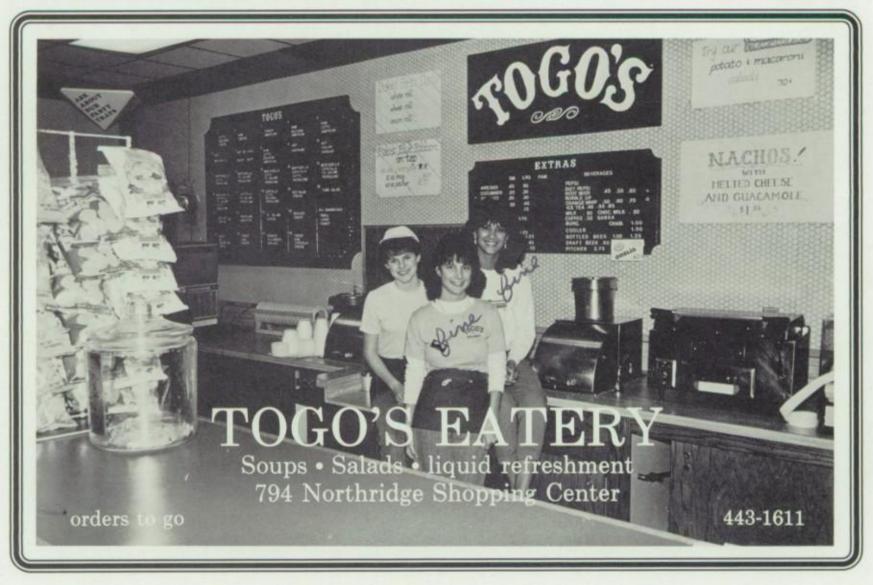

Her death will never be forgotten. The memories and ideas left to those closest to her will always be cherished. Martha, we love you.

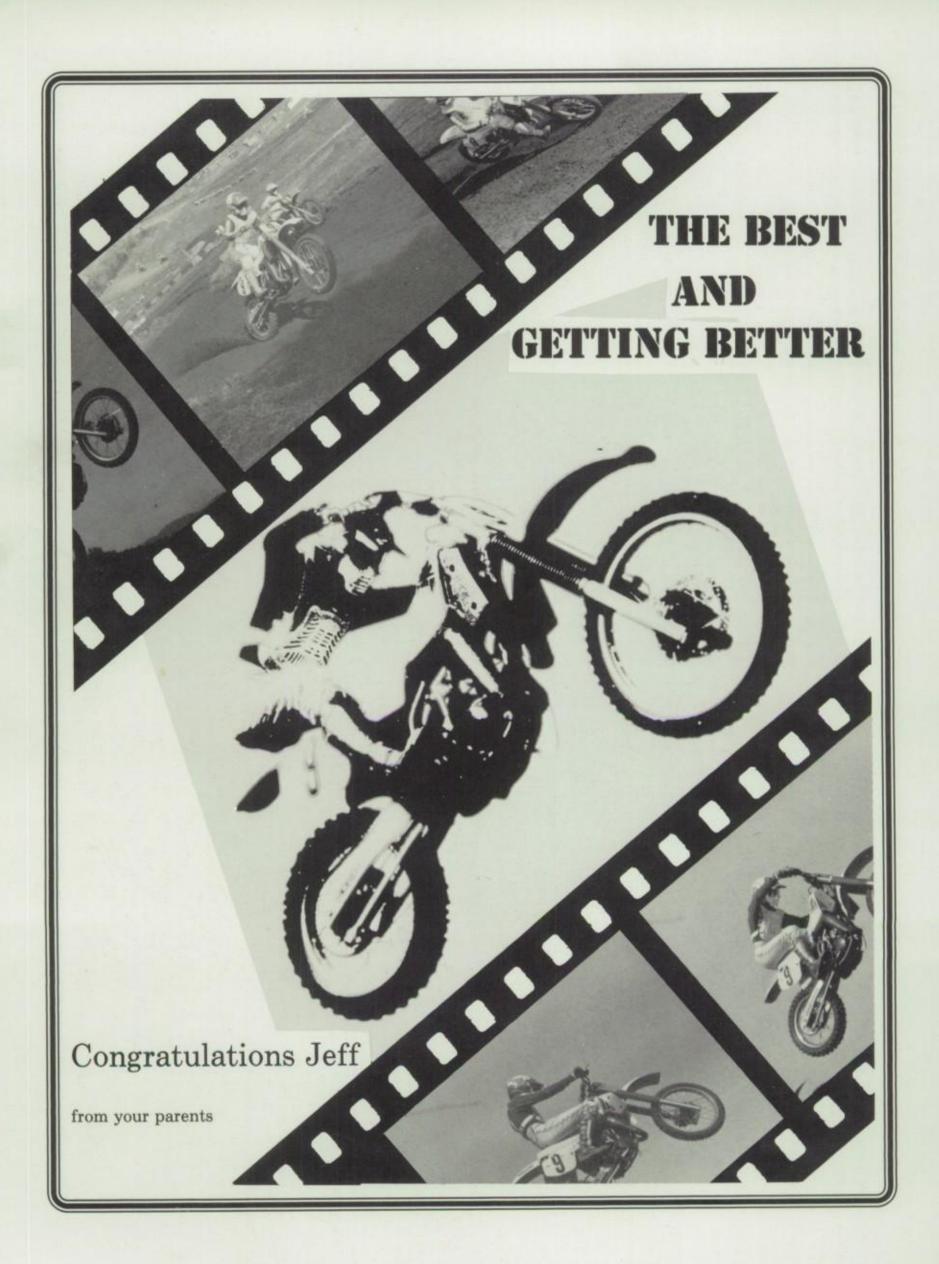

Your Friends

GAIL & JACK LEE OWNERS

CASTROVILLE LIQUORS

TELEPHONE (408) 633-2053

10694 MERRITT STREET CASTROVILLE, CALIF. 95012 Frank & Maria Charfauros

(408) 633-5227

F & M CHARFAUROS CO., INC.

11250 MERRITT ST. CASTROVILLE, CA 95012

Open 7 days

Round Table Hrs: 11 a.m.-12 p.m. Pizza Restaurants

Courtesy Union Service

11400 Merritt Street Castroville, California 95012 Telephone (408) 633-4844 Guaranteed Automotive Services Free Pick-up & Delivery Towing

Jack Scoggins

Independent Dealer Marketing Union 76 Products

Telephone 633-2431

PETTIGREW AND FOLETTA AUTO PARTS

AUTOMOTIVE PARTS JOBBER & MACHINE SHOP

LOUIS FOLETTA

10865 Merrit Street Castroville, CA 95012

Bud's RV Specialties 10999 Merritt Street

Castroville, CA 95012 633-6365

THE SKI CONNECTION

owned and operated by active skiers Complete Rental Service 422-7831 847 South Main Street Salinas, 93901

CENTER ANIMAL HOSPITAL

DR. MARTY FIELD

11268 Merritt St. Castroville, CA 95012 Phone (408) 633-5288

B. CLAIR ELIASON, M.D.

LAUREL SHERRY-ARMSTRONG, P.A.

633-2421

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAYS 8-5 WITH EVENING HOURS ON MON., WED., & FRIDAY 9-12 ON SAT.

11270 MERRITT ST., SUITE F IN THE CASTROVILLE STATION SHOPPING CENTER CASTROVILLE, CA 95012

HAPPY RICE RESTAURANT CHINESE & AMERICAN FOOD

TAKE OUT SERVICE PHONE 633-3768 11578 MERRITT STREET CASTROVILLE, CA 95012

SPOTLITE VIDEO Castroville Shopping Center 633-4686 R & R Pharmacy 11284 Merritt Street Castroville Shopping Center

633-5851

969 N. MAIN ST., SALINAS, CALIFORNIA 93906

SHERWOOD GARDENS • 422-5999

Mitch.

You've made the 1984-85 school year very special for me. Our relationship grew stronger every day and as it grew I watched it turn into one of the best friendships I've ever had. I hope I was a good psychologist, I tried to be. We've had some great times together, like second period of first semester! Whose aide were you? Somehow, you always find a way to make me smile! I hope you know how much your friendship means to me, but just in case you don't...it means more than I could ever say. Thanks for all the good times and funny moments! Happy graduation and congratulations! I love ya!

Always, Lori

GRAND CENTRAL COMPUTER & SOFTWARE

1110 Main Street No. 8 Watsonville, 722-9278 Monday-Saturday, 10-7.

Excedrin Headache #85

"It Oughta Be

The hard work and frustrations the 1984-85 Rookery staff felt are now placed in the back of their minds as we close yet another great school year. At Yearbook West Camp, students were taught how to construct a superior yearbook. They learned that a yearbook isn't just a book of the most beautiful and popular people, but a book of our most wonderful memories, caught forever on paper, and in our hearts. Advisor Pat Watson took some chances this year to produce the most unique cover and theme ever at our school. He says, "This much work should be against the law!" With the yearbook and all of his new photography classes, he was in constant motion. Students were calling him from all corners of the classroom as deadline dates came closer and closer. Many classes were interrupted, and you could always manage to see at least a few members of the Rookery Staff wandering the campus looking for quotes and candid subjects. Much of the work was done out of class and at the regular Wednesday night meetings. Through doughnuts and hot chocolate, our energizing, sometimes hyper staff managed to put out this spectacular book. The 1984-85 Rookery is dedicated to the 1500 sets of eyes from the staff at NMCHS - For Their Eyes Only.

1. "I developed my first picture!" says Susan Oler, youngest member on the Rookery Staff.

Hardworking Godfrey Musones whites out another mistake on his layout.

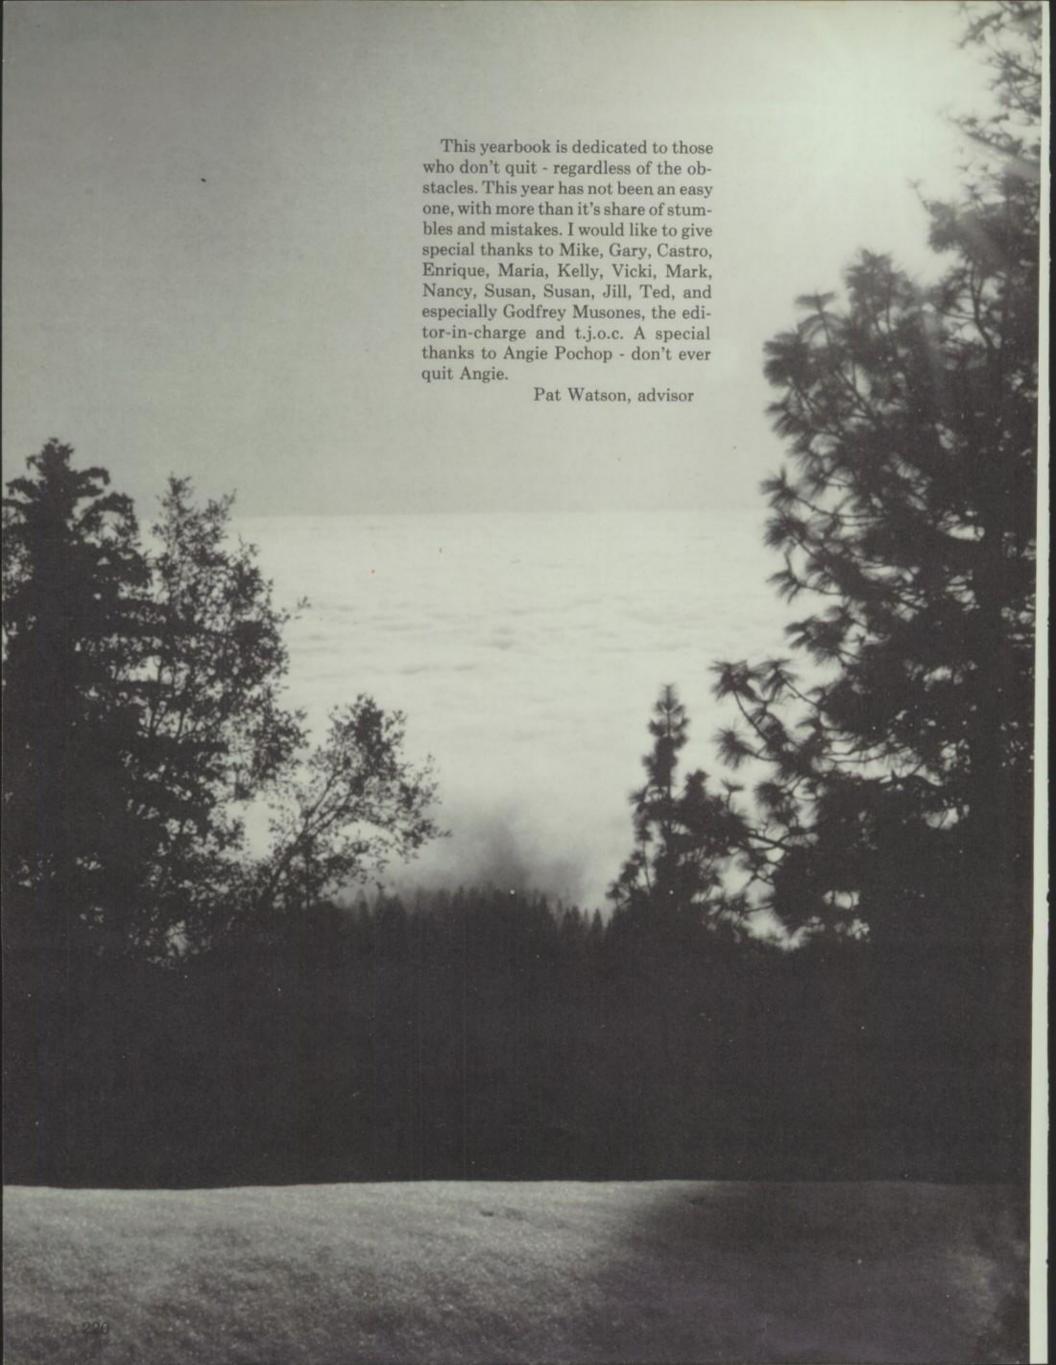

3. When you're on yearbook staff, everything is just dan-dan-dandy! Here we have junior, Jill Soper smiling for the camera.

4. The 1984-85 Rookery Staff, from left to right: Gary Castronova, Godfrey Musones, Mike Magee, Kelly Clark, Susan Oler, Jill Soper, Ted Ceralde, Vicki Rochester, Advisor Pat Watson, Enrique Castaneda, Gary Scoggins, and Maria Garza.

Trying to bend the "rules" of layout is staff member Vicki Rochester.

6. Busy at work, as usual on his 24 hour a day job, is yearbook advisor Pat Watson

Against The Law!"

DILII BURK high such ithro

